CHINA would like the League of Nations to stop what Chinese call "Russian invasion and Russian massacres."

The Chinese have learned what war through the air means—comparative safety, easy invasion for the enemy, danger, death and helplessness for those attacked.

UNCLE SAM, of course is invited to interfere and tell Russia what she must do.

It is our business to tell Russia, under the circumstances, exactly as much as we should expect Russia to tell us, if, for instance, we had marines in Nicaragua, or battleships in a foreign port. And we should expect Russia to tell us NOTHING.

RUSSIA'S business is RUSSIA'S business not hours.

Before we undertake to interfere with a nation making war intelligently and efficiently through the air it would be a good idea for us learn something about air war on our own account. We don't know anything about it yet.

IN FACT, our army and navy are quite sure that the airship really amounts to anything, except as an "auxiliary."

We should cure ourselves of that delusion before interefering with any people that understand modern war.

MISS KLINGER, 18, fond of flying, and Mr. Babcock, of Mineola, L. I., were married in the air, far up, the plane going 110 miles an hour.

When the wedding was over, the bride, groom and best man all jumped out of the airplane with parachutes, landing safely.

IN OLD days the bride found sufficient excitement in a handful of rice and a shoe tied to the back of a carriage. However, it is better to begin marriage with a jump in a parachute for excitement rather than end it with a jump to Reno or Paris for a divorce.

THE president and some newspapers have asked governors of states what they mean to do in the way of useful work to provide employment. The idea is "what are you going to do to make up for that smash in Wall Street."

W. C. BULOW, governor of South Dakota, replies that South Dakota is not particularly worried about what happens to Wall Street. He has observed that when things happen to South Dakota, Wall Street takes it calmly.

He says, that yesterday, Thanksgiving day, "South Dakotans gave thanks to Almighty God for the blessing they enjoy, and are especially thankful for the fact that they are not dependent for their bread and butter upon the wheat grown or cows milked in Wall Street."

GOV. BULOW and all the rest of the country, is however, to a great extent dependent on Wall Street and what it does.

And the Dakotans might be glad some day to have money and engineers out of Wall Street show them how to use those hundreds of millions of tons of lignite now going to waste; that fuel turned into electric power and the electric power use in factories might be better for the Dakotans than raising wheat on land not fit for wheat.

If Rockefeller or Ford called to tell the president of a plan to put 10,000,000 men to work at good wages he would listen and wouldn't do any scribbling as he listened.

When you talk and a man scribbles, make it short. He isn't much interested.

UNDER ground near the marshy shore of the Bay of Biscay old Clemenceau would be interested to hear that the German newspapers say "we should have won the war, if we had had THE GREATEST FRENCHMAN SINCE NAPOLEON."

NAPOLEON wasn't French as it happens. He was an Italian transplanted in Corsica, never learned to speak or write French correctly.

What would interest Clemenceau is the fact that Germany calls him the greatest warrior since Napoleon.

And he began, not in his youth as Napoleon did, but took charge of the greatest war the world ever saw, when he was long past 70, and WON it.

Last of America's War Dead Comes Home

BODIES OF 75 VETS BROUGHT FROM SIBERIA

21-GUN SALUTE

BY DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(INS)—The last of America's war dead came home today.

Resting almost forgotten for the last 10 years in the frozen fastness along the Trans-Siberian railroad, the bodies of 75 doughboys, 29 of them unknown, were brought back on the liner President Roosevelt.

Burial in Detroit.

Most of them came from Michigan, members of the "339th," Detroit's own, and 56 will be buried in that city. Governor Frederick W. Green of Michigan will meet the special funeral train when it arrives in Detroit Sunday. They were killed during the Archangel campaign of the World war.

The funeral vessel was met down New York bay by the destroyer Kane and the municipal boat Macom with all flags flying at half mast. A squadron of 12 military planes droned overhead as the liner steamed slowly into port.

Highest Honors Paid.

A national salute of 21 guns, the highest possible, roared forth as the President Roosevelt passed Governor's island. At the Hoboken pier, a bugle sounded "taps," the soldier's farewell lullaby. The Rev Wallace Hayes, of Rutland, Mass., national chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, conducted services.

Following further memorial services, the bodies will lie in state in the Pennsylvania station until tomorrow. The special train draped in mourning will then leave for Detroit. Fourteen other bodies will be sent to neighboring states to Michigan, four to Virginia, one to Pennsylvania, and one to Massachusetts.

John M. Stevenson 63, Lisbon, Dies

John M. Stevenson, 63, farmer and brother of R. B. Stevenson, died in his home, Fairfield road east of Lisbon, at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Mr. Stevenson was born near Lisbon on March 27, 1866, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G Stevenson. His father was a Civil war veteran.

He leaves another brother, the Rev. James M. Stevenson, of New Albany, Ind., and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Shaw Urban, Cleveland, and Mrs. Essie Williams, Lisbon. His wife, Alla Caldwell Stevenson, died about six years ago.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in charge of the Rev. John M. Cameron, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Lisbon. Burial will be made in the Lisbon cemetery.

Patrolman, Woman Killed in Crash

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—A city patrolman and his woman companion are dead here today as the result of the officer's automobile colliding with a street car at the foot of a steep hill here last night.

Albert Bennett, 25, the patrolman, was identified by his badge. The dead woman, who was riding with him, is believed to be Miss Laverne Yeager.

Bennett's automobile was badly damaged when it turned over after striking the street car.

Loses $2,500 and Two "Friends"

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Thomas Garcia, Mansfield O., reported to police here today that upon arising this morning he had "lost" $2,500 and two "business acquaintances."

On the advice of the "friends", Garcia said he had withdrawn $2,500 from a Mansfield bank and had come to Cleveland with them. They took a room in a downtown Cleveland hotel. This morning the men and the money were among the missing.

U. S. IS DRY

Miss Mary B. Ervin, field secretary of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, says that the United States is more dry today than ever before. She has just completed a national tour and reports increased interest in prohibition.

CHURCH WILL MARK 20 YEARS ON BOULEVARD

W. L. Thompson Hymns Will be Sung Sunday.

PLAN ROLL CALL

Emmanuel Presbyterian History Will Be Read.

Twentieth anniversary of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, Park boulevard, will be celebrated with a special service at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Hymns written by the late W. L. Thompson will be rendered by the church quartet and will also be sung by the congregation. Mr. Thompson was one of the organizers of the Emmanuel church, which stands within a short distance of the song writer's former home.

A roll call of charter members will be read and a brief history of the church given. The Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor will speak on the subject, "What Our Church Should Be On Its Hwenty-fifth Anniversary."

Bus Skids On Icy Hill Near Lisbon

Eastbound Grayhound bus, en route from Chicago to Pittsburgh skidded on Green's hill, south of Lisbon, yesterday morning, and was delaped about four hours until chains could be brought from Pittsburgh. The bus resumed its trip at 7 o'clock.

Several motorists had narrow escapes from accidents on the ice-covered hill. Sheriff Barlow and a deputy, stationed at the top and bottom of the hill, halted all vehicles and warned the drivers.

Stacey Is Given Reformatory Term

LISBON, O., Nov. 29.—Feuston Stacey, East Liverpool, indicted on a charge of breaking and entering in connection with the robbery of the Enterprise Laundry and the Laughlin Railroad station several months ago, was sentenced to serve from one to 15 years in the Mansfield reformatory on each of the two charges by Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court today. The sentences will run concurrently.

Columbus Reporter Hurt in Auto Wreck

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Miss Pauline Smith, reporter for a local newspaper, is in Grant hospital here today suffering from severe hurts as the result of an automobile accident yesterday when she was enroute to Coschocton with her brother, Fred. The machine, which was driven by her brother, skidded from the road 20 miles east of here and struck a road scraper. He brother was uninjured.

EIGHT PERSONS OVERCOME BY GAS IN BUS

SLUMP IN SEATS

Police and Fire Squads Render First Aid.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Eight persons, two of them women, passengers on a Pittsburgh-Detroit bus were overcome by carbon monoxide here today when the bus was pulled into a garage for repairs.

All of the passengers were fed oxygen at Charity hospital in resuscitation treatments. None was reported in a serious condition.

A few minutes after the bus had entered the garage to have a broken windshield repaired, attendants noticed the driver of the bus and the passengers slumped over in their seats in a curiously quiet attitude.

Police and fire squads were summoned immediately to render first aid. It is believed that the deadly gas poured into the bus from beneath the car.

Man, Woman Found Dead From Alcohol

LANCASTER, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Charles Rugh, 40, and Miss Iva Hartless, about 30, were found dead in a rooming house here today and Coroner W. H. Eck declared that their deaths resulted from drinking denatured alcohol.

Another woman, Mrs. Florence Lutz, died Wednesday from the same cause.

Authorities here are encensed and declare they will deal harshly with the person who has been selling the denatured alsohol as pure alcohol to be used in concocting beverages.

Denatured alcohol is commonly used to keep radiators on automobiles from freezing

AUTO UPSETS, THREE HURT

Father, Mother, Son Taken to City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers and small son, Richard, of Cleveland were injured when an automobile, in which they were enroute to Pittsburgh, overturned on the Lincoln highway near Ross Meadows, at 11:30 yesterday morning. The icy condition of the road was blamed for the accident.

Mrs. Myers suffered a fractured jaw and left leg as well as cuts and bruises. Mr. Myers was badly cut on the head and legs, and the son suffered from the shock. Another son, Wayne, escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers are still in the hospital.

BET $40,000 ON CARD TURN, WITNESS SAYS

Nathan L. Raymond Testifies in McManus Trial.

MURDER CASE

Lost $19,000 Cash, Won $219,000 in Paper.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

CRIMINAL COURTS BUILDING, NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 29.—(INS.)—"Oh, I bet him $40,000—on the turn of a card."

Nonchalantly, as casually as if he were discussing the weather, Nathan L. (Nigger Nate) Raymond, Pacific Coast "speculator," gave this testimony today at the trial of "Smiling" George McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein, Broadway's "big shot' gambler.

Raymond bet the $40,000 with Rothstein, he said. It was during a "no limit" game at the apartment of Jimmy Mahan, in West 54th street on September, 1928, less than two months before Rothstein was shot. It is the state's contention this game caused a gambler's feud that led to the killing.

Rothstein Handed Out I. O. U.'s.

Man Found Dead in Cistern.

GALION, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—John T. Stark, 40, an accountant, was found dead at the bottom of a cistern at 3 o'clock this morning by police, who had been summoned by the man's wife who became alarmed when she missed him from his bed.

Three Men Stabbed In Pinochle Game

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 29.—(INS.)—A friendly Thanksgiving day game of pinochle today had resulted in stab wounds to three men and the arrest of a fourth man.

Nineteen stitches were required to close the forehead and face wounds of George Evanoff, 41. Egant Pounchoff, 44, suffered wounds in the left shoulder and Tony Thompson, 50, was stabbed in the back.

The fourth man was taken to jail and was charged with disturbing the peace.

An argument over points is said to have started the melee.

HUNTER SHOT BY COMPANION

Lawrence Lunsford, 20, Wounded in Ankle.

Lawrence Lunsford, 20, of 205 Union street, is in the City hospital today, suffering from a bullet wound in his right ankle, sustained yesterday morning when accidentally shot while hunting near Summitville.

The gun was discharged while Ralph Badgley, 309 Persimmon alley, was carrying it. Other members of the party were Harold Wotring, Riverview street, and John Norton, Morton street.

Ada Farmer Champ Corn Grower.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Ira Marshall, Ada, Ohio, farmer, today was awarded the title of the "world's champion corn grower" by the extension bureau of the department of agriculture at the Ohio State university.

Woman Burns to Death.

XENIA, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Mrs. Newton Smith, 75-year-old widow, perished today when fire destroyed her farm home, near here. The woman, a semi-invalid, was alone in the house in which she made her home with her son, Ollie.

FIVE MEN CUT, ONE UNHURT IN AUTO CRASH

C. A. Bough, Jr., Lucky in Steubenville Wreck.

HEAD-ON SMASH

Police Exonerate E. Liverpool Car Driver.

Five motorists were cut and bruised and two automobiles wrecked last night in Market street, Steubenville, as cars driven by C. A. Bough, jr., 22, son of C. A. Bough of 603 East Fifth street, and Edward Gallagher, Steubenville, crashed under a traffic light.

Bough escaped without injury, while five in the Gallagher automobile were bruised and lacerated. Gallagher sustained a severe scalp wound.

Bough was enroute to Cadiz where he had planned to hunt today with Lee Shark, a room mate at Ohio State university, Columbus.

County Scout Head Lions Dinner Guest

Charles E. Felton, county Boy Scout executive, Keith McCutcheon, Eagle scout, were guests of the Lions club at a dinner in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel Wednesday night. Felton spoke "In Defense of the Youth of Today."

"If the boys of my day were made of better stuff than those of today," he said, "I failed to find them. We've always had and always will have some wild children. The only difference is that the youth of today gets far greater publicity than ever before."

Sick Man Killed Walking in Sleep

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Richard McCormick, 86, a retired railroad engineer, wandered from his bed in his East Side home here early today, jumped from a second-story window and was almost instantly killed.

The man's wife, a practicing physician who is known in her professional world as Dr. Emma Jones, said that McCormick had been ill with pneumonia since Monday.

Man Faces Liquor Possession Count

William Jones, Fourth and Market streets, arrested yesterday by Patrolman Curren on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, is scheduled for a hearing this afternoon. Curran arrested Jones in Sixth street.

MERCURY FALLS HERE AS COLD WAVE HITS WEST

Snow Accompanies Stingy Blast in District.

SEE NO RELIEF

Storm Rages in Denver and Rocky Mountain Region.

East Liverpool today was held in the grip of a cold wave which exacted three lives in the mid-west and prompted hundreds of appeals to police and welfare stations for relief.

Toledoan Found Frozen to Death

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 29—(INS)—Joseph Welch, 53, was found frozen to death along the New York Central railroad tracks here today as a cold wave sent the temperature down to eight degrees above zero.

Motorists Caught in Storm.

Mercury fell to 10 and 14 degrees above zero here. Thermometers on the Northside and Pleasant Heights registered 10 above at 6 o'clock this morning, while 12 above was reported at Dam No. 8, below here. The thermometer at the Chester station of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company registered 14 degrees.

Thanksgiving day was ushered in with a four-inch blanket of snow and children enjoyed their first coasting of the year on the hillside streets. To guard against traffic accidents Street Commissioner McLaughlin scattered sand over St. Clair avenue, Lisbon and Market streets, Pennsylvania avenue and other hillside thoroughfares.

Motorists returning from Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Salem late Wednesday night were caught in a snow storm which almost tied up traffic.

Blizzard Hits Ohio.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29. — (INS) — A raging blizzard blustered through northern Ohio last night and early today, leaving behind a trail of heavy snow and the cold breath of winter.

The temperature dropped to 13.

A spread of snow of from three to more than six inches in depth presented northern Ohio as a "study in white" today. It gave, incidentally, this section of the state its first "white Thanksgiving" in years.

Aside from the beauty of the snow-covered landscape, however, the drifts presented a grave problem to city and county officials.

Phenol in Water; Is Chemist Warning

T. H. Larkins, city chemist and superintendent of filtration, today issued a warning against the use of water late tonight and tomorrow owing to the presence of phenol which has caused complaints in Beaver Falls, Beaver and Midland, Pa.

The warning is contained in the following letter received from Fred H. Waring, of the state health department at Columbus: "This letter is to advise that I have just received a telegram from the West Virginia department of health and a telephone message from the Pennsylvania department of health, stating that the presence of phenol has been reported in the Ohio river and Beaver creek, a tributary."

Grid Fan Killed In Traffic Crash

KENTON, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Enroute to Columbus for the Wilberforce football game, Miss Lola Grayson, 30, of Toledo, was fatally injured when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a truck, near here, yesterday.

Ohioan Killed by Train.

LANCASTER, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Herbert Dunkle, 22, who slipped beneath the wheels of a freight train as he sought to "hop" a ride, is dead here today.

Wife Ill; Husband Sought Here.

Mrs. James Roberts, Parkersburg, W. Va, today asked police to locate her husband, James Roberts, who is believed to be in East Liverpool. Mrs. Roberts is ill, the letter said.

Extra Clerks On Duty As Christmas Shopping Season Opens; Fares Refunded During December

Merchants Predict Record Yule Buying Here.

Christmas shopping season which is expected to establish a new high record opened in East Liverpool today. Many stores have already engaged extra sales clerks, while others will be employed next week when the rush is expected to start, merchants said.

The East Liverpool Fare Refunding association will refund fares to all out-of-town shoppers, who visit the city during December. The Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce has distributed window postcards and other advertising matter urging early shopping.

"We are now ready for the Christmas shopper," said J. A. Chaneson, manager of the Rose Stores, Inc., today. "We have already employed additional sales people for Saturday and will put on others for the week day business. Prospects for business during the holiday shopping season are unusually bright."

Advantages in Early Buying.

"The shopper who buys early gets the advantage of a complete assortment and better attention," said Harry Cordwin, manager of the Frank Crook furniture store. "We are already selling Christmas merchandise and feel confident that our business at the end of the month will be up to all expectations."

"The good roads and excellent street car service will bring thousands of out-of-town shoppers to the East Liverpool shopping district this year," said C. C. Cline, manager of the Famous Clothing store. "We have arranged for extra sales clerks and have the highest hopes for a record business during December. The wise shopper will buy early and avoid the last-minute crowds."

"We anticipate a busy Yule season," said Gordon Day, advertising manager for the Erlanger store. "The Christmas shopping is already beginning and we believe that it will be necessary to employ

All of the passengers were fed oxygen at Charity hospital in resuscitation treatments. None was reported in a serious condition.

A few minutes after the bus had entered the garage to have a broken windshield repaired, attendants noticed the driver of the bus and the passengers slumped over in their seats in a curiously quiet attitude.

Police and fire squads were summoned immediately to render first aid. It is believed that the deadly gas poured into the bus from beneath the car.

Those overcome are: Henry Manlon, Detroit; William Webber, Cumberland, Md.; Louise Wilson, Philadelphia; William Anderson, Detroit; F. E. Molter, Youngstown; Tyyne Mantulla, Detroit, and Walter Moetus, Cleveland.

Man, Woman Found Dead From Alcohol

LANCASTER, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Charles Rugh, 40, and Miss Iva Hartless, about 30, were found dead in a rooming house here today and Coroner W. H. Eck declared that their deaths resulted from drinking denatured alcohol.

Another woman, Mrs. Florence Lutz, died Wednesday from the same cause.

Authorities here are encensed and declare they will deal harshly with the person who has been selling the denatured alsohol as pure alcohol to be used in concocting beverages.

Denatured alcohol is commonly used to keep radiators on automobiles from freezing.

Father, Mother, Son Taken to City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers and small son, Richard, of Cleveland, were injured when an automobile, in which they were enroute to Pittsburgh, overturned on the Lincoln highway near Ross Meadows, at 11:30 yesterday morning. The icy condition of the road was blamed for the accident.

Mrs. Myers suffered a fractured jaw and left leg as well as cuts and bruises. Mr. Myers was badly cut on the head and legs, and the son suffered from the shock. Another son, Wayne, escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers are still in the hospital.

LEGAL BATTLE ON HARVESTER MILLIONS

Behind closed doors before Superior Court Judge Deby, of Santa Barbara, Calif., the battle of McCormick millions is on. The hearing involves the guardianship of Stanley McCormick's $50,000,000 estate. BET $40,000 ON CARD TURN, WITNESS SAYS

Nathan L. Raymond Testifies in McManus Trial.

MURDER CASE

Lost $19,000 Cash, Won $219,000 in Paper.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

CRIMINAL COURTS BUILDING, NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 29.—(INS.)—"Oh, I bet him $40,000—on the turn of a card."

Nonchalantly, as casually as if he were discussing the weather, Nathan L. (Nigger Nate) Raymond, Pacific Coast "speculator," gave this testimony today at the trial of "Smiling" George McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein, Broadway's "big shot' gambler.

Raymond bet the $40,000 with Rothstein, he said. It was during a "no limit" game at the apartment of Jimmy Mahan, in West 54th street on September, 1928, less than two months before Rothstein was shot. It is the state's contention this game caused a gambler's feud that led to the killing.

Rothstein Handed Out I. O. U.'s.

Man Found Dead in Cistern.

GALION, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—John T. Stark, 40, an accountant, was found dead at the bottom of a cistern at 3 o'clock this morning by police, who had been summoned by the man's wife who became alarmed when she missed him from his bed.

Three Men Stabbed In Pinochle Game

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 29.—(INS.)—A friendly Thanksgiving day game of pinochle today had resulted in stab wounds to three men and the arrest of a fourth man.

Nineteen stitches were required to close the forehead and face wounds of George Evanoff, 41. Egant Pounchoff, 44, suffered wounds in the left shoulder and Tony Thompson, 50, was stabbed in the back.

The fourth man was taken to jail and was charged with disturbing the peace.

An argument over points is said to have started the melee.

HUNTER SHOT BY COMPANION

Lawrence Lunsford, 20, Wounded in Ankle.

Lawrence Lunsford, 20, of 205 Union street, is in the City hospital today, suffering from a bullet wound in his right ankle, sustained yesterday morning when accidentally shot while hunting near Summitville.

The gun was discharged while Ralph Badgley, 309 Persimmon alley, was carrying it. Other members of the party were Harold Wotring, Riverview street, and John Norton, Morton street.

Ada Farmer Champ Corn Grower.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Ira Marshall, Ada, Ohio, farmer, today was awarded the title of the "world's champion corn grower" by the extension bureau of the department of agriculture at the Ohio State university.

Woman Burns to Death.

XENIA, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Mrs. Newton Smith, 75-year-old widow, perished today when fire destroyed her farm home, near here. The woman, a semi-invalid, was alone in the house in which she made her home with her son, Ollie.

FIVE MEN CUT, ONE UNHURT IN AUTO CRASH

C. A. Bough, Jr., Lucky in Steubenville Wreck.

Police Exonerate E. Liverpool Car Driver.

Five motorists were cut and bruised and two automobiles wrecked last night in Market street, Steubenville, as cars driven by C. A. Bough, jr., 22, son of C. A. Bough of 603 East Fifth street, and Edward Gallagher, Steubenville, crashed under a traffic light.

Bough escaped without injury, while five in the Gallagher automobile were bruised and lacerated. Gallagher sustained a severe scalp wound.

Bough was enroute to Cadiz where he had planned to hunt today with Lee Shark, a room mate at Ohio State university, Columbus.

County Scout Head Lions Dinner Guest

Charles E. Felton, county Boy Scout executive, Keith McCutcheon, Eagle scout, were guests of the Lions club at a dinner in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel Wednesday night. Felton spoke "In Defense of the Youth of Today."

"If the boys of my day were made of better stuff than those of today," he said, "I failed to find them. We've always had and always will have some wild children. The only difference is that the youth of today gets far greater publicity than ever before."

Sick Man Killed Walking in Sleep

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Richard McCormick, 86, a retired railroad engineer, wandered from his bed in his East Side home here early today, jumped from a second-story window and was almost instantly killed.

The man's wife, a practicing physician who is known in her professional world as Dr. Emma Jones, said that McCormick had been ill with pneumonia since Monday.

Man Faces Liquor Possession Count

William Jones, Fourth and Market streets, arrested yesterday by Patrolman Curren on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, is scheduled for a hearing this afternoon. Curran arrested Jones in Sixth street.

MERCURY FALLS HERE AS COLD WAVE HITS WEST

Snow Accompanies Stingy Blast in District.

SEE NO RELIEF

Storm Rages in Denver and Rocky Mountain Region.

East Liverpool today was held in the grip of a cold wave which exacted three lives in the mid-west and prompted hundreds of appeals to police and welfare stations for relief.

Toledoan Found Frozen to Death

Motorists Caught in Storm.

Mercury fell to 10 and 14 degrees above zero here. Thermometers on the Northside and Pleasant Heights registered 10 above at 6 o'clock this morning, while 12 above was reported at Dam No. 8, below here. The thermometer at the Chester station of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company registered 14 degrees.

Thanksgiving day was ushered in with a four-inch blanket of snow and children enjoyed their first coasting of the year on the hillside streets. To guard against traffic accidents Street Commissioner McLaughlin scattered sand over St. Clair avenue, Lisbon and Market streets, Pennsylvania avenue and other hillside thoroughfares.

Motorists returning from Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Salem late Wednesday night were caught in a snow storm which almost tied up traffic.

Blizzard Hits Ohio.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29. — (INS) —A raging blizzard blustered through northern Ohio last night and early today, leaving behind a trail of heavy snow and the cold breath of winter.

The temperature dropped to 18.

A spread of snow of from three to more than six inches in depth presented northern Ohio as a "study in white" today. It gave, incidentally, this section of the state its first "white Thanksgiving" in years.

Aside from the beauty of the snow-covered landscape, however, the drifts presented a grave problem to city and county officials.

T. H. Larkins, city chemist and superintendent of filtration, today issued a warning against the use of water late tonight and tomorrow owing to the presence of phenol which has caused complaints in Beaver Falls, Beaver and Midland, Pa.

The warning is contained in the following letter received from Fred H. Waring, of the state health department at Columbus: "This letter is to advise that I have just received a telegram from the West Virginia department of health and a telephone message from the Pennsylvania department of health, stating that the presence of phenol has been reported in the Ohio river and Beaver creek, a tributary."

Grid Fan Killed In Traffic Crash

KENTON, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Enroute to Columbus for the Wilberforce football game, Miss Lola Grayson, 30, of Toledo, was fatally injured when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a truck, near here, yesterday.

Ohioan Killed by Train.

LANCASTER, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Herbert Dunkle, 22, who slipped beneath the wheels of a freight train as he sought to "hop" a ride, is dead here today.

Wife Ill; Husband Sought Here.

Mrs. James Roberts, Parkersburg, W. Va, today asked police to locate her husband, James Roberts, who is believed to be in East Liverpool Mrs. Roberts is ill, the letter said.

Extra Clerks On Duty As Christmas Shopping Season Opens; Fares Refunded During December

Merchants Predict Record Yule Buying Here.

Christmas shopping season which is expected to establish a new high record opened in East Liverpool today. Many stores have already engaged extra sales clerks, while others will be employed next week when the rush is expected to start, merchants said.

The East Liverpool Fare Refunding association will refund fares to all out-of-town shoppers, who visit the city during December. The Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce has distributed window postcards and other advertising matter urging early shopping.

"We are now ready for the Christmas shopper," said J. A. Chaneson, manager of the Ross Stores, Inc., today. "We have already employed additional sales people for Saturday and will put on others for the week day business. Prospects for business during the holiday shopping season are unusually bright."

Advantages in Early Buying.

"The shopper who buys early gets the advantage of a complete assortment and better attention," said Harry Cordwin, manager of the Frank Crook furniture store. "We are already selling Christmas merchandise and feel confident that our business at the end of the month will be up to all expectations."

"The good roads and excellent street car service will bring thousands of out-of-town shoppers to the East Liverpool shopping district this year," said C. C. Cline, manager of the Famous Clothing store. "We have arranged for extra sales clerks and have the highest hopes for a record business during December. The wise shopper will buy early and avoid the last-minute crowds."

"We anticipate a busy Yule season," said Gordon Day, advertising manager for the Erlanger store. "The Christmas shopping is already beginning and we believe that it will be necessary to employ

OLD CUSTER COURIER GIVES NEW LIGHT ON HERO'S DEATH

Ohio Farmer Tells of Message Which Was Never Delivered to Leader.

GENEVA. — A touching and enlightening tale of here-to-fore mysterious circumstances regarding the heroic death of General George A. Custer, killed in the massacre of the Little Big Horn during the Civil War, was recently divulged by Phillip Wanger, 84, Indian fighter and courier, now a farmer living near here.

Because the message Wanger had been entrusted to deliver to Custer arrived to late to be read by the famous leader, the aged courier never cared to discuss his perilous ride through Indian country and the spectacle that dimmed his then youthful eyes at the termination of the ride.

Custer Surrounded.

Wanger was an infantryman assigned to Company K of the Second United States Infantry. His five years service was spent for the most part in the saddle. He was bugler and orderly to Capt. Sam McKeever of the Second.

On June 25, 1876, Custer was hard pressed. His supporting columns had failed him. A number of couriers were sent out for aid, but history records that only one other man besides Wanger, a member of a cavalry outfit, was able to break through the Indian lines.

When Wanger had completed his long ride from Powder Creek Valley to the place where Custer had fallen with his regiment in the rocky territory of Little Big Horn, he found Custer on the ground, face down. A pile of shells from his rifle and a brace of pistols were beside him.

Custer, the hero of the Civil War and innumerable Indian fights had been dead for more than an hour. He had been shot more than twenty times. Nearly all of the soldiers about him had been scalped by the savages.

Custer Not Scalped.

Custer had not been scalped. Wanger related that he learned later from friendly Indians that even among the ranks of the savages Custer had been respected and that "he was too big a chief" to suffer such ignominy.

Wanger declares he never learned the contents of the message he was to deliver to Custer. He returned it to his commander after he had helped to bury the dead general, and his ill-fated followers. In the furore that followed Wanger said the message was lost at general headquarters.

Wanger readily admitted he did not join the army in 1875 to be an Indian fighter, nor was a career of thrills his purpose in enlisting. He declared he joined the infantry, because jobs in Cleveland were so scarce he could not earn enough to eat. The army post paid him $13 a month. Of that he saved $10 each month and sent it to his mother.

Egg Hatches Out As Prince Watches

LONDON.—Many thousands of men and children turn out to welcome the Prince of Wales on every possible occasion, but this is the first time that a chicken has "turned out" to greet him.

The prince on paying a visit to Smithfield Market, London's meat center, became interested in a chicken incubator. An egg from the incubator was handed to the Prince for inspection. It was then that a tiny beak broke a piece of shell away and a moist eye appeared, looking for the first time upon the world, and, incidentally, seeing the Prince of Wales as his first mortal.

HOSPITAL DOCTORS ADVISE QUICK WAY TO END COLDS

Many Here Use Pleasant Way at Home to End Head Colds, Coughs, Chest Colds.

By choosing a method that not only removes congestion but helps restore the breathing passages to a strong, healthy condition, P. C. Adams—like hundreds East Liverpool people—has found the quickest and surest way to get rid of a disagreeable cold.

Mr. Adams had neglected his cold, hoping each day it would "cure itself." Instead it got worse, spreading down into his chest. Then he sought advice from the clinic, where doctors gave him double doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. In a few hours he felt greatly relieved, and that night he could breathe freely through both nostrils and coughed very little. The next morning he felt like a different person—rid of the "feverish, grippy" feeling—and in another day or so, doctors report, he was completely free from the cold.

Note: See other cases being reported daily in this paper—all certified by the attending physician.

Ayer's Pectoral was hospital certified as the best of different widely used methods tested for head colds, coughs and chest colds because it gave the quickest, surest relief—with absolute safety. It is now featured by all leading druggists.

Shop Now!

Contributing their share to the prosperity of the community and at the same time taking advantage of the opportunity to inspect fresh stocks before the rush begins, wise shoppers in the East Liverpool district will open the Christmas buying season tomorrow.

In anticipation of adoption of the "Shop early" slogan on the part of Santa Claus, merchants have arranged their gift selections. Courteous salesmen and women are ready to assist patrons in making shopping a pleasure.

Experience in bygone years has conviced most shoppers that is it mistaken to defer Christmas stock inspections until the eleventh hour. And clerks shall appreciate the thoughtfulness of early buying when stores are not crowded.

Now is the time to heed the suggestion that a penny saved may not always be a penny earned. There are times when the way to save is to spend. For if you get too stingy, you diminish the money in circulation, you draw the blood out of the body of business.

There is thrift in early Christmas buying. Shop now!

Our South American Friends

The two great countries of South America, Brazil and Argentina, present widely different impressions at the present moment. Brazil is prosperous and contented; Argentina is seething with discontent. An unusually poor year for crops in the latter country is bringing the rural population to Buenos Aires asking for government relief. In some localities, there is not enough feed for livestock and disaster impends if relief is not secured. Imports from the United States exceed the exports to this country by more than $30,000,000 and disconcerted and ineffectual attempts are being made to boycott American products. British goods are being offered by many firms in place of American products and Argentinians are being encouraged to patronize Great Britain, an empire with which trade exchange is more equal

Brazil, just celebrating its fortieth anniversary as a republic, is much more prosperous and amicable. It would seem that she is America's most powerful friend in South America. Sebastio Sampaio, Brazilian consul-general to New York, addressing a group of members of the American-Brazilian association, said:

"In my country, larger in area than your own United State, you have 40,000,000 sincere and old friends, friends for all time. I want to remind you that in Brazil we offer to American genuius the largest natural resources and the best opportunities in the world.

"Brazil supplies you with two-thirds of your coffee and an average of one-half of your imports of rubber, cocoa, manganese, hides, skins, vegetable oils, nuts, and other raw materials essentiol to your industries. Meanwhile you count that same Brazil among the first dozen of largest and best customers in the world, usually the first for motor trucks, flour and cement, and one of the first for passenger locomotives, railroad equipment, oil coal, wheat, and all sorts of modern machinery."

Washington Luis, president of Brazil, also sent his greetings and expressed the desire that cordial relations between the two countries would continue.

Argentina, on the other hand, apparently regards with disdain a country whose good will would be a great asset. The chief Argentinian imports to the United States have been hides and beef. Total imports to the United States last year aggregated $100,000,000, while American exports to Argentina totaled approximately $136,000,000. The decline of the cattle raising industry in this country will mean that we must look more and more to foreign countries for our hides and meat. One of those countries can well be Argentina, if she will be patient and at least present a polite front, regardless of what she has up her diplomatic sleeve. The exchange of products is becoming more balanced each year. Equality may eventually be reached if she does not scare off American trade with a scowling countenance.

Department stores are seeking collegians for floor walkers, but the collegians will have to learn how to walk after four years in rumble seats.

A runaway mare came to a stop in Toledo, when a traffic light turned red. Now, if some of that horse sense could just be implanted in the motorists.

One of the greatest mistakes a woman can make is to assume that her husband doesn't amount to much because the telephone switchboard girls and the office boys have never heard of him.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—A long time ago an Englishman named John Malthus spent much time in worrying about the population of the world. He promulgated what is known as the Malthusian doctrine which lays down the theory that the ever increasing numbers of people in the world will come to press so hard upon the means of subsistence that starvation will face us all. Malthus lived early in the nineteenth century and so great was the increase in wealth during the latter half of that century that his doctrine seemed to be chimerical.

But since the World war, in fact throughout the twentieth century so far there has been such a tremendous gain in numbers that it would appear Malthus was correct. The League of Nations recently has made an estimate of world population which shows that in less than the present normal life span the human family has increased one hundred per cent—that is to say in approximately forty years the population has doubled.

With this increase there has been an accompanying increase in wealth and the means of livelihood. Save for the Russian famine which followed the war, food has been plentiful and more people today have more things than ever before. But a careful study raises the query: how long can it last?

E. A. Winslow of Yale has recently made a study of the health of the world which suggests the possibility of serious over-crowding. Gathering such statistics as are available he has learned that in the early eighteenth century the life expectancy of Americans and Englishmen was between 35 and 40 years. These figures take into account all causes of death, including war. War does not kill many people in comparison with disease. Indeed the hardships of labor in industrial centers are more deadly than bullet and bayonet. Figures for Philadelphia, for example, in the eighteenth century show that life expectancy was under thirty years.

Conditions have greatly improved. Sanitation has become a science and preventive medicine has been developed to a point where disease is kept consistly at bay. The figures are astounding and strongly suggest the possibility of an ever increasing number of people.

In the period from 1838 to 1854 actuarial statistics show that life expectancy was 40 years. These figures are for England and Wales but living conditions were not greatly different at the time from those in the United States. From the period 1871 to 1880 the life span had climbed up to 41 years. Then came a jump to 44 years between 1881 and 1890.

It would be difficult to assign a reason for these changes save for the general progress of mankind. The next advance came in the decade between 1900 and 1910 when the life expectancy rose to 48 years. Then men seemed to have taken a firmer hold on life than ever before because in the brief period from 1910 to 1912 the figure jumped to 51 years and between 1920 and 1922 to 56 years. Later figures are not yet available as they must be compiled in retrospect. But it is notable that during the last half of the nineteenth century there was a gain of only four years in the life span while in the first quarter of the twentieth century there has been a gain of twelve years.

No such phenomena can occur without reasons. Professor Winslow has gone into them quite fully. Using the vital statistics of the city of New Haven he shows that during the period 1877 to 1881 the death rate was 1820 per 100,000 of population. In the period 1922 to 1926 this figure had dropped to 1,250 per 100,000.

Then take the principal causes of death as compiled by the Bureau of the Census. The same two periods are compared; that is the period 1877-1881 and 1922-1926. The rate for pulmonary tuberculosis dropped from 282 to 41 per 100,000 of population. The rate for diphtheria dropped from 124 to 5; for typhoid fever from 47 to 5; for scarlet fever from 40 to 2; for infant diarrhea from 105 to 19. These five causes of death were responsible for a total decrease of 526 per 100,000 in the death rate from all causes.

There have been many reasons why this situation has been brought about; the principal one being an organized public conscience in the matter of health. Sanitation has been responsible for the control of typhoid fever. Purification of water supplies and the better care of milk have destroyed the germs which produce the disease. Scarlet fever has been met by isolation and thereby defeated. Anti-toxin has conquered diphtheria. Inasmuch as any death rate figure must necessarily include all persons from infants to the aged, it must be realized that the reduction in infant mortality has been responsible for a good deal of the decrease. Organized work in this direction, the instruction of mothers, and the establishment of clinics have contributed very largely to the improvement.

Questions and Answers.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Q. Did Houdini appear in motion pictures? P. A.

A. Mrs. Houdini says that he made a number of pictures, all containing stunts and escapes. The Master Mystery was a serial featuring Houdini in practically every kind of an escape, trick, stunt, or illusion that he did.

Q. What causes twitching of the eyelids? N. L. T.

A. Overwork, particularly overstudy, is frequently the cause. Errors in refraction cause eye stain that results in twitching, and inflammation of the eyes may cause it.

Q. Where is Innisfail? K. C.

A. Innisfail literally means isle of Destiny. It is a name that was frequently applied to Ireland by the ancient bards.

Q. In a school publication I observed "John Smith, ex'24." What does the "ex'24" signify? C. N.

The '24 refers to his class in college or school. Ex indicates that he was not graduated.

Q. What does the word, Kohinoor, mean? J. F. R.

A. It is derived from the Persian koh-i-nur, meaning literally "mountain of light."

The East Liverpool Review Offers a Booklet About Economical Heating

How to get your heating values into the rooms and not up the chimney.

This illustrated booklet by government engineers deals with every phase of home heating and ventilation. It tells how to operate the heating equipment at best efficiency and economy.

Facts are included about fuel, window and door construction and weather stripping, proper moisture of air in rooms, and many other elements of proper heating at lowest cost.

Every family will find this booklet worth a little study. Our Washington Information Bureau will mail it to you for four cents postage and handling cost.

If I am to make New Orleans tomorrow, I will have to give Memphis a fast look around and leave. It's a shame, too, because I just met a girl that told me some new things about collegiate fads. She was returning to college after a Thanksgiving vacation. The new thing this year it seems is a college seal waste-basket and lamp-shade to match—either your own college's or your boy friend's.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Thoughts while strolling: Why do heavy literary journals have such dingy offices? Fay King, the caricaturist. Cafeteria sign: "A trayful for a trifle." Dr. Jerome Wagner, a physician to stage folk, and his beautiful actress bride, Norma Terriss. Lillian Gish's mouse-like manner. Dave Bernie—Ben's brother. And also an orchestra leader. Nothing but double breasted coats this fall. Ben Hampton, now a scientific diaryman. The next autoist who makes me jump out of my shoes with a quick toot—well, he better not.

Ned Wayburn's long strides — "High Hips" chorus girls call him. Whatever became of Dorothy Knapp? A policeman in an official car ignores the traffic lights. A swell lesson in law and order. Those lads with oiled hair who jog through town in running pants.

Brock Pemberton, an Emporia, Kansas, boy who made good in the city. Never see a window demonstrator any more. Willie Pogany, the artist. A thethered goat in a movie lobby to advertise a travel film. Frozen custard stands like those at Coney Island. Queenie Smith.

That sad, musty smell from subway gratings. And kids who fish through them for dropped coins. Chain store clockers. Child's now have oyster bars. Big Bill Edwards tries to tie his shoe—and hurries on. The familiar old characters are missing from in front of the Hotel Astor.

Dinty Moore's new restaurant front. A haughty doorman holds a fluffy puppy while a lady goes into the movies. Chinese dinner places packed. Most of them are owned by Hibernians. And they say the Harlem cabarets are owned by Jews. The bigger the film banner, the bigger the flop—sometimes.

Clouds gather. Shopkeepers step out to curbs and scan the skies. News vendors cover wares. Crossing cops disappear for mackintoshes. Everybody quickens their step. Skyscrapers light up. Rain patters down. The asphalt glistens. No city is so beautiful in a shower.

Hotels are warning travelers not to place their shoes outside the door at night for shines. "Give shoes directly to the floor valet," room cards warn. Since drinking has been transferred from public bars to hotel rooms, the wind up of a night of revelry was for merry makers to gather up the shoes in the hall on the way out and toss them gaily from taxi windows along the street. Such fun!

New hotels are also placing banquet rooms on the first or mezzanine floors or on the top floor. Noise making and rowdiness that disturbed guests brought about this stricture. There is no fool like a tipsy banqueteer in a paper hat.

Night elevator operators in hotels are among the prohibition profiteers. Merry gentlemen out for a hefty night wobble back to inns touched with an open pursed generosity. What in sober moments would be a 5 cent tip often becomes a $5 bill.

But the big clean-up among hotel elevator men is at Christmas time. Many receive gratuities tripling yearly salaries. In some of those Park avenue apartment houses known only by numbers the Yuletide for the faithful lift men has brought sums of $5,000.

Speakeasies have put a crimp in "the number only" address snootiness. The best known have no names, just numbers.

A glossily tailored gentleman informed me today that he was "a director of public relations." And as a one time press agent—and a fair to middling one, too—I could have walked under a nearby desk wearing a high hat. I felt that small.

From Portland, Maine: "I see you New Yorkers are still paying $1.50 for a pint of table water we bottle up here for three cents. It is enough to make a strong man break down and cry. J. L. Hue."

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

That baby is fortunate, indeed, who can be fed by its own mother for the first nine or ten months. In Japan and elsewhere breast feeding continues for two or three or even four years. It is well this is so, because the lack of high grade cows' milk there would create a great social problem if this were not the practice.

North America's mothers are glad to make all the sacrifices needed to give their babies the advantage of breast-feeding. There is no doubt it is an advantage— a tremendous advantage—particularly during the summer months.

There are always dangers of germ or bacterial growth in the milk we buy. Unless it is properly kept it will speedily spoil. Low temperature is essential to its safety.

There is no worry in this matter if the mother is able to nurse her baby. Her milk will be pure and rich and sweet.

Unfortunately, mother's health may not permit her to do what she is eager to do. No matter how well she may look, there may be an insufficient supply of milk.

Dr. Holt, in his book on infant-feeding, says this: "Statistics show that the mortality of bottle-fed infants during the first year is fully three times as great as those who are breast-fed."

Perhaps there are other facters involved in these statistics, but yet it most be conceded that it is a marked disadvantage to the baby not to have mother's milk. But if it cannot be had, paintaking attention to the care and preparation of the milk will go far toward averting danger.

Sometimes the baby can be fed partly from the breast and the balance made up for by the use of the bottle. The point about this discussion is that I am anxious to point out the importance of giving all the natural milk possible.

The progress of the child is the best test of the efficiency of its feedings. If it increases in length and weight, has clear skin and bright eyes, it is pretty certain that all is well.

The scales have an important part to play in the management of the infant. They show that the food is nourishing the child, or that it is not.

Weighing immediately before and right after feeding will show how much breast milk is actually consumed. In this way the fact that the supply is scanty will be quickly discovered. What makes a full meal depends on the age of the infant, from three ounces at four weeks old to six ounces at five or six months.

2.—What do you advise for blackheads?

3.—What will increase the growth of the eyelashes?

A.—She should weigh about 118 pounds.

Correct the diet and keep the system clear. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

3.—Try application of 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment at night before retiring. This should make the lashes darker and should also increase their growth.

B. B. Q.—What is the cause of my face looking blotchy and bloated?

A.—This condition may be to poor circulation caused by a run-down state of health. Try to build up your entire system and you will probably notice improvement. Watch your diet and avoid indigestion and constipation.

T. L. R. Q.—What causes night sweats?

A.—May be due to too many bed clothes, poor ventilation or possibly weakness.

D. B. D. Q.—What causes the legs to swell from the knee to the ankle?

A.—This may be due to a kidney or heart condition. It would be wise to have an examination.

M. C. N. Q.—What do you advise for pimples on the face?

A.—Correct your diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches, and coffee. Eat simple food. For further particulars send self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

MISS FLORENCE B. M. Q.—How much should a girl of 16, 5 ft. 8 inches tall, weigh?

A.—She should weigh about 136 pounds.

C. W. Q. Q.—What causes too much saliva in the mouth?

A.—This is usually due to acid in the system. Correct your diet and avoid poor elimination.

THANK YOU. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is 15 years old and 5 ft. 2 ins. tall?

2.—How can I reduce?

A.—For her age and heights she should weigh about 111 pounds.

2.—Weigh reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. Exercise is, of course, essential.

The Penalties of Wealth.

Two wealthy Ohioans recently gave sums running into five figures to a scientific project in which they were interested. In making the gifts, however, they stipulated that no announcement should be made that would connect them with the gifts in any way. Explaining their insistence upon secrecy, they said that any publicity given to their benefactions would be the signal for a multitude of pleas for help, ranging from individual charity to organizations seeking funds.

Another wealthy man makes it a rule never to give anything to charity or for charitable purposes, at least publicly. Years ago, in his absence, a secretary gave a sum running into four figures to a public cause. When the gift was announced there were some who felt that the amount was insufficient and the unwitting giver was subject to criticism. As a result, he adopted the personal rule described, but the amount of good he does with his money no one but himself knows. He gives generously not only of his money, but of his time; his thought, his interest and of himself, but he insists upon doing it in his own way.

There are many who sigh for riches, as though the possession of wealth would both satisfy their longings and solve their problems. But it is the testimony of most wealthy men that the posession of means complicates the problem and in some ways makes life harder. The two men first described would like nothing better than to pay tribute to the man and to the cause for which the fund is being raised to which they have so handsomely contributed. Both are public-spirited men, as their long record of benefactions proves, yet they are penalllized for the very wealth they seek to use to help others. In that situation lies the answer as to why many men of wealth seem to be so aloof and so inaccessible.—Ohio State Journal.

Why You Missed Success.

One thing after another blocks attainment and accomplishment for you. No matter how hard you strive you cannot advance. You seem to have reached your limit.

A year ago you thought by now you would be nearer your goal and it is still in the distance. One year ago you were full of hope and enthusiasm and plans. One after another your hopes came to naught—your plans blasted. Disheartened, you do not take any blame for your failures, however. No, you feel bad luck came and you cannot avoid it now or in the past.

Ten to one this is not true.

Your hopefulness was not backed by watchfulness. Your enthusiasm wearied you so that you worked less instead of more. You did not take details into consideration and provide for disappointment in different departments before it came.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We have been perplexed by several questions and would like you to answer them for us.

1. Is it all right for an engaged girl to go with other boys? If not why?

2. If a girl is put in a position where she is forced to kiss a boy and if she does not, it will cause her great embarrassment otherwise, would it lower the girl's standard?

3. Is there any harm in a boy putting his arm around a girl when they are alone, and if so why?

4. Is there any harm in holding hands with a boy anywhere but in public, and if so why?

TWO CHUMS.

TWO CHUMS: It is considered that an engaged girl has indicated her choice of a companion.

There can be no condition or circumstance, whereby the standards of a young woman could be lowered by doing that which is neither right nor in good taste.

Our South American Friends

The two great countries of South America, Brazil and Argentina, present widely different impressions at the present moment. Brazil is prosperous and contented; Argentina is seething with discontent. An unusually poor year for crops in the latter country is bringing the rural population to Buenos Aires asking for government relief. In some localities, there is not enough feed for livestock and disaster impends if relief is not secured. Imports from the United States exceed the exports to this country by more than $30,000,000 and disconcerted and ineffectual attempts are being made to boycott American products. British goods are being offered by many firms in place of American products and Argentinians are being encouraged to patronize Great Britain, an empire with which trade exchange is more equal

Brazil, just celebrating its fortieth anniversary as a republic, is much more prosperous and amicable. It would seem that she is America's most powerful friend in South America. Sebastio Sampaio, Brazilian consul-general to New York, addressing a group of members of the American-Brazilian association, said:

"In my country, larger in area than your own United State, you have 40,000,000 sincere and old friends, friends for all time. I want to remind you that in Brazil we offer to American genuius the largest natural resources and the best opportunities in the world.

"Brazil supplies you with two-thirds of your coffee and an average of one-half of your imports of rubber, cocoa, manganese, hides, skins, vegetable oils, nuts, and other raw materials essentiol to your industries. Meanwhile you count that same Brazil among the first dozen of largest and best customers in the world, usually the first for motor trucks, flour and cement, and one of the first for passenger locomotives, railroad equipment, oil coal, wheat, and all sorts of modern machinery."

Washington Luis, president of Brazil, also sent his greetings and expressed the desire that cordial relations between the two countries would continue.

Argentina, on the other hand, apparently regards with disdain a country whose good will would be a great asset. The chief Argentinian imports to the United States have been hides and beef. Total imports to the United States last year aggregated $100,000,000, while American exports to Argentina totaled approximately $136,000,000. The decline of the cattle raising industry in this country will mean that we must look more and more to foreign countries for our hides and meat. One of those countries can well be Argentina, if she will be patient and at least present a polite front, regardless of what she has up her diplomatic sleeve. The exchange of products is becoming more balanced each year. Equality may eventually be reached if she does not scare off American trade with a scowling countenance.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—A long time ago an Englishman named John Malthus spent much time in worrying about the population of the world. He promulgated what is known as the Malthusian doctrine which lays down the theory that the ever increasing numbers of people in the world will come to press so hard upon the means of subsistence that starvation will face us all. Malthus lived early in the nineteenth century and so great was the increase in wealth during the latter half of that century that his doctrine seemed to be chimerical.

But since the World war, in fact throughout the twentieth century so far there has been such a tremendous gain in numbers that it would appear Malthus was correct. The League of Nations recently has made an estimate of world population which shows that in less than the present normal life span the human family has increased one hundred per cent—that is to say in approximately forty years the population has doubled.

With this increase there has been an accompanying increase in wealth and the means of livelihood. Save for the Russian famine which followed the war, food has been plentiful and more people today have more things than ever before. But a careful study raises the query: how long can it last?

E. A. Winslow of Yale has recently made a study of the health of the world which suggests the possibility of serious over-crowding. Gathering such statistics as are available he has learned that in the early eighteenth century the life expectancy of Americans and Englishmen was between 35 and 40 years. These figures take into account all causes of death, including war. War does not kill many people in comparison with disease. Indeed the hardships of labor in industrial centers are more deadly than bullet and bayonet. Figures for Philadelphia, for example, in the eighteenth century show that life expectancy was under thirty years.

Conditions have greatly improved. Sanitation has become a science and preventive medicine has been developed to a point where disease is kept consistly at bay. The figures are astounding and strongly suggest the possibility of an ever increasing number of people.

In the period from 1838 to 1854 actuarial statistics show that life expectancy was 40 years. These figures are for England and Wales but living conditions were not greatly different at the time from those in the United States. From the period 1871 to 1880 the life span had climbed up to 41 years. Then came a jump to 44 years between 1881 and 1890.

It would be difficult to assign a reason for these changes save for the general progress of mankind. The next advance came in the decade between 1900 and 1910 when the life expectancy rose to 48 years. Then men seemed to have taken a firmer hold on life than ever before because in the brief period from 1910 to 1912 the figure jumped to 51 years and between 1920 and 1922 to 56 years. Later figures are not yet available as they must be compiled in retrospect. But it is notable that during the last half of the nineteenth century there was a gain of only four years in the life span while in the first quarter of the twentieth century there has been a gain of twelve years.

No such phenomena can occur without reasons. Professor Winslow has gone into them quite fully. Using the vital statistics of the city of New Haven he shows that during the period 1877 to 1881 the death rate was 1820 per 100,000 of population. In the period 1922 to 1926 this figure had dropped to 1,250 per 100,000.

Then take the principal causes of death as compiled by the Bureau of the Census. The same two periods are compared; that is the period 1877-1881 and 1922-1926. The rate for pulmonary tuberculosis dropped from 282 to 41 per 100,000 of population. The rate for diphtheria dropped from 124 to 5; for typhoid fever from 47 to 5; for scarlet fever from 40 to 2; for infant diarrhea from 105 to 19. These five causes of death were responsible for a total decrease of 526 per 100,000 in the death rate from all causes.

There have been many reasons why this situation has been brought about; the principal one being an organized public conscience in the matter of health. Sanitation has been responsible for the control of typhoid fever. Purification of water supplies and the better care of milk have destroyed the germs which produce the disease. Scarlet fever has been met by isolation and thereby defeated. Anti-toxin has conquered diphtheria. Inasmuch as any death rate figure must necessarily include all persons from infants to the aged, it must be realized that the reduction in infant mortality has been responsible for a good deal of the decrease. Organized work in this direction, the instruction of mothers, and the establishment of clinics have contributed very largely to the improvement.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.
November 29, 1904.

Dr. R. J. Marshall of Mulberry street has returned from a visit in Arizona.

At 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Miss Retta Bilman and B. P. McBane, both of Chester, were married.

If I am to make New Orleans tomorrow, I will have to give Memphis a fast look around and leave. It's a shame, too, because I just met a girl that told me some new things about collegiate fads. She was returning to college after a Thanksgiving vacation. The new thing this year it seems is a college seal waste-basket and lamp-shade to match—either your own college's or your boy friend's.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Thoughts while strolling: Why do heavy literary journals have such dingy offices? Fay King, the caricaturist. Cafeteria sign: "A trayful for a trifle." Dr. Jerome Wagner, a physician to stage folk, and his beautiful actress bride, Norma Terriss. Lillian Gish's mouse-like manner. Dave Bernie—Ben's brother. And also an orchestra leader. Nothing but double breasted coats this fall. Ben Hampton, now a scientific diaryman. The next autoist who makes me jump out of my shoes with a quick toot—well, he better not.

Ned Wayburn's long strides — "High Hips" chorus girls call him Whatever became of Dorothy Knapp? A policeman in an official car ignores the traffic lights. A swell lesson in law and order. Those lads with oiled hair who jog through town in running pants.

Brock Pemberton, an Emporia, Kansas, boy who made good in the city. Never see a window demonstrator any more. Willie Pogany, the artist. A thethered goat in a movie lobby to advertise a travel film. Frozen custard stands like those at Coney Island. Queenie Smith.

That sad, musty smell from subway gratings. And kids who fish through them for dropped coins. Chain store clockers. Child's now have oyster bars. Big Bill Edwards tries to tie his shoe—and hurries on. The familiar old characters are missing from in front of the Hotel Astor.

Dinty Moore's new restaurant front. A haughty doorman holds a fluffy puppy while a lady goes into the movies. Chinese dinner places packed. Most of them are owned by Hibernians. And they say the Harlem cabarets are owned by Jews. The bigger the film banner, the bigger the flop—sometimes.

Clouds gather. Shopkeepers step out to curbs and scan the skies. News vendors cover wares. Crossing cops disappear for mackintoshes. Everybody quickens their step. Skyscrapers light up. Rain patters down. The asphalt glistens. No city is so beautiful in a shower.

Hotels are warning travelers not to place their shoes outside the door at night for shines. "Give shoes directly to the floor valet," room cards warn. Since drinking has been transferred from public bars to hotel rooms, the wind up of a night of revelry was for merry makers to gather up the shoes in the hall on the way out and toss them gaily from taxi windows along the street. Such fun!

New hotels are also placing banquet rooms on the first or mezzanine floors or on the top floor. Noise making and rowdiness that disturbed guests brought about this stricture. There is no fool like a tipsy banqueteer in a paper hat.

Night elevator operators in hotels are among the prohibition profiteers. Merry gentlemen out for a hefty night wobble back to inns touched with an open pursed generosity. What in sober moments would be a 5 cent tip often becomes a $5 bill.

But the big clean-up among hotel elevator men is at Christmas time. Many receive gratuities tripling yearly salaries. In some of those Park avenue apartment houses known only by numbers the Yuletide for the faithful lift men has brought sums of $5,000.

Speakeasies have put a crimp in "the number only" address snootiness. The best known have no names, just numbers.

A glossily tailored gentleman informed me today that he was "a director of public relations." And as a one time press agent—and a fair to middling one, too—I could have walked under a nearby desk wearing a high hat. I felt that small.

From Portland, Maine: "I see you New Yorkers are still paying $1.50 for a pint of table water we bottle up here for three cents. It is enough to make a strong man break down and cry. J. L. Hue."

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

That baby is fortunate, indeed, who can be fed by its own mother for the first nine or ten months. In Japan and elsewhere breast-feeding continues for two or three or even four years. It is well this is so, because the lack of high grade cows' milk there would create a great social problem if this were not the practice.

North America's mothers are glad to make all the sacrifices needed to give their babies the advantage of breast-feeding. There is no doubt it is an advantage— a tremendous advantage—particularly during the summer months.

There are always dangers of germ or bacterial growth in the milk we buy. Unless it is properly kept it will speedily spoil. Low temperature is essential to its safety.

There is no worry in this matter if the mother is able to nurse her baby. Her milk will be pure and rich and sweet.

Unfortunately, mother's health may not permit her to do what she is eager to do. No matter how well she may look, there may be an insufficient supply of milk.

Dr. Holt, in his book on infant-feeding, says this: "Statistics show that the mortality of bottle-fed infants during the first year is fully three times as great as those who are breast-fed."

Perhaps there are other factors involved in these statistics, but yet it most be conceded that it is a marked disadvantage to the baby not to have mother's milk. But if it cannot be had, paintaking attention to the care and preparation of the milk will go far toward averting danger.

Sometimes the baby can be fed partly from the breast and the balance made up for by the use of the bottle. The point about this discussion is that I am anxious to point out the importance of giving all the natural milk possible.

The progress of the child is the best test of the efficiency of its feedings. If it increases in length and weight, has clear skin and bright eyes, it is pretty certain that all is well.

The scales have an important part to play in the management of the infant. They show that the food is nourishing the child, or that it is not.

Weighing immediately before and right after feeding will show how much breast milk is actually consumed. In this way the fact that the supply is scanty will be quickly discovered. What makes a full meal depends on the age of the infant, from three ounces at four weeks old to six ounces at five or six months.

Answers to Health Queries.

BOBBIE. Q.—What should a girl of 16, 5 ft. 3 in. tall, weigh?

2.—What do you advise for blackheads?

3.—What will increase the growth of the eyelashes?

A.—She should weigh about 118 pounds.

Correct the diet and keep the system clear. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

3.—Try application of 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment at night before retiring. This should make the lashes darker and should also increase their growth.

B. B. Q.—What is the cause of my face looking blotchy and bloated?

A.—This condition may be to poor circulation caused by a run-down state of health. Try to build up your entire system and you will probably notice improvement. Watch your diet and avoid indigestion and constipation.

T. L. B. Q.—What causes night sweats?

A.—May be due to too many bed clothes, poor ventilation or possibly weakness.

D. B. D. Q.—What causes the legs to swell from the knee to the ankle?

A.—This may be due to a kidney or heart condition. It would be wise to have an examination.

M. C. N. Q.—What do you advise for pimples on the face?

A.—Correct your diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches, and coffee. Eat simple food. For further particulars send self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

MISS FLORENCE B. M. Q.—How much should a girl of 16, 5 ft. 8 inches tall, weigh?

A.—She should weigh about 136 pounds.

C. W. Q. Q.—What causes too much saliva in the mouth?

A.—This is usually due to acid in the system. Correct your diet and avoid poor elimination.

THANK YOU. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is 15 years old and 5 ft. 2 ins. tall?

2.—How can I reduce?

2.—Weigh reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. Exercise is, of course, essential.

The Penalties of Wealth.

Two wealthy Ohioans recently gave sums running into five figures to a scientific project in which they were interested. In making the gifts, however, they stipulated that no announcement should be made that would connect them with the gifts in any way. Explaining their insistence upon secrecy, they said that any publicity given to their benefactions would be the signal for a multitude of pleas for help, ranging from individual charity to organizations seeking funds.

Another wealthy man makes it a rule never to give anything to charity or for charitable purposes, at least publicly. Years ago, in his absence, a secretary gave a sum running into four figures to a public cause. When the gift was announced there were some who felt that the amount was insufficient and the unwitting giver was subject to criticism. As a result, he adopted the personal rule described, but the amount of good he does with his money no one but himself knows. He gives generously not only of his money, but of his time; his thought, his interest and of himself, but he insists upon doing it in his own way.

There are many who sigh for riches, as though the possession of wealth would both satisfy their longings and solve their problems. But it is the testimony of most wealthy men that the posession of means complicates the problem and in some ways makes life harder. The two men first described would like nothing better than to pay tribute to the man and to the cause for which the fund is being raised to which they have so handsomely contributed. Both are public-spirited men, as their long record of benefactions proves, yet they are penallized for the very wealth they seek to use to help others. In that situation lies the answer as to why many men of wealth seem to be so aloof and so inaccessible.—Ohio State Journal.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We have been perplexed by several questions and would like you to answer them for us.

1. Is it all right for an engaged girl to go with other boys? If not why?

2. If a girl is put in a position where she is forced to kiss a boy and if she does not, it will cause her great embarrassment otherwise, would it lower the girl's standard?

3. Is there any harm in a boy putting his arm around a girl when they are alone, and if so why?

4. Is there any harm in holding hands with a boy anywhere but in public, and if so why?

TWO CHUMS: It is considered that an engaged girl has indicated her choice of a companion.

There can be no condition or circumstance, whereby the standards of a young woman could be lowered by doing that which is neither right nor in good taste.

Thrilling Rescue In "Hurricane"

The thrilling rescue sequence in Columbia's all-talking drama of the sea, "Hurricane," which is being shown at the Ceramic theater, nearly proved disastrous. The long shot showing Leila Hyams, Leila McIntyre and a sailor drifting about in the open sea was fraught with danger. The life-boat was towed away from the sailing vessel, aboard which the picture was being made.

The motor boat that had towed the players from the big ship was cut away from the life boat and moved out of range of the cameras. Suddenly the persons in the drifting craft commenced to yell and gesticulated wildly. Director Ralph Ince, decided that the party was acting and ordered the camermen to grind off footage. Hobart Bosworth and other members of the cast looked on with interest, commenting upon the realism that was being put into the sequence.

The scene was finished and the motor boat ordered to go out and pick up the drifters. When the rescuing party reached the small craft they found that the three players were not acting at all. Their frantic signalling and apparent terror was real. The motor boat had not arrived an instant too soon for the small craft had sprung a leak and was about ready to submerge. The two women were working frantically bailing out the water in order to keep afloat until the rescuers arrived and the sailor was devoting his attention to wig-waging signals to the "Bohemia," aboard which the members of the Columbia staff were working.

"The Great Divide" Colorful Romance

The west has rarely been the background for a more colorful and stirring romance than that depicted in "The Great Divide," the First National - Vitaphone production which opened yesterday at the State theater. Dorothy Mackaill is the star.

Those who remember "The Great Divide" as a play will find the dramatic stage vehicle, which enjoyed popularity for many years in the United States and Europe, heightened in suspense and action in this all-dialogue Vitaphone talkie.

A number of tuneful songs have been injected into the scenes, surprising those who never could have believed that the play would lend itself so admirably to music.

The picture at some moments assumes the rhythim and harmony of an operetta, especially in a big fiesta that takes place in Mexico. But the audition is brought back to the story with such adroitness and skill that no one realizes the disgression.

Stephen Ghent, played by Ian Keith, sings the melodious theme song, "At the End of the Lonesome Trail," and displays a fine voice. Myrna Loy sings "Si, Si, Senor," another tuneful number. The story does not demand a singing role from Dorothy Mackaill, the star, but this charming actress portrays one of the most sensational parts she has undertaken on the screen.

Miss Pennington In "Gold Diggers"

Ann Pennington, dancing star of many Broadway revues and musical comedies, makes her debut in Vitaphone talking pictures in Warner Bros.' "Gold Diggers of Broadway," a 100 per cent natural color, singing, talking, dancing picture in technicolor, coming to the American theater on Monday.

Her role, which is one demanding the utmost of her dramatic and terpischorean talents, marks her return to the screen afer more than three years on Broadway.

During the last three years she has been the star of George White's "Scandals" at the Aopllo theater in New York. Previous to that she starred in several feature silent motion pictures.

In the all-star cast with Miss Pennington in "Gold Diggers of Broadway" are Lilyan Tashman, Conway Tearle, Albert Gran, Winnie Lightner, William Bakewell, Helen Foster, Julia Swayne Gordon, Gertrude Short, Nick Lucas, Neely Edwards, Lee Moran and Armand Kaliz and a beauty chorus of 100.

Palais de la Mediterranee is Modernized.

PARIS.—American visitors seeking the sunny South of France will probably be delighted to know that the P. L. M. Railway has recently put on a de luxe day train which will leave the Gare de Lyon in Paris in the morning at 8:50 and will land the traveller on the Riviera the same night. It will be composed entirely of first-class Pullman cars, with restaurant and will be the fastest train on the Riviera service since the war, making the journey from Paris to Vintimiglia, a distance of 695 1-3 miles, in fifteen hours and ten minutes. The night de luxe train takes 17 hours for this same journey.

And once arrived in the land of blue sky and sunshine (when it isn't either raining or snowing!) this years' visitors will find Nice's new pleasure palace, the Palais de la Mediterranee, designed like a modernised palace of ancient Rome. It stands on the best part of the Promenade des Anglais facing the sea and at night is easily seen by its cornices of concealed light and the white glow which bathes it from barrel-shaped searchlights on its terrace.

One thousand tons of marble and ninety tons of steel have gone into the making of this super-casino which covers two acres of territory and swings like Brooklyn bridge on supports from its columns. It has cost nearly five million dollars.

Inside there is none of the usual white and gilt adornment associated with all casinos. It is artistic, harmonious, but at the same time, almost "home-like." The great staircase will be a joy to the women, for there is nothing like it to show off a new gown and there are mirrors everywhere to increase the effect of spaciousness.

Food cranks and hygienists who have long denounced the sight of the Parisian housewife carrying her yard or two of good French bread under her arm, all unguarded from the microbes ever present in the streets, are rejoicing over the campaign recently begun by Municipal Councillor Roeland which may mean the future introduction of the sanitary wrapping of the Frenchman's staff of life.

"It may be a picturesque sight for the tourist," said the Councillor who has the "bug" for hygiene, "but it doesn't help along our good health any. With winter coming on and zero temperature it is folly to let the bakers drop bread in its naked state before the doors of apartment houses and greater folly even to let women carry it off unwrapped.

Chemists from all countries of the world will probably congregate in the French capital which is destined to become an international chemical center. The French Senate has just voted the necessary funds to purchase a dignified old building in the rue St. Dominique which will be used for this purpose. Information will be co-ordinated here on all matters relating to chemistry and this center will serve as a medium for the exchange of chemists from one field to another. There will be a splendied library in the building which will be named after the distinguished chemist, Carcelin Bethelot.

it's the blend— and the fragrant tobacco

Camels have always welcomed comparison with any other cigarette because the true test of value is the pleasure to be found in smoking.

The most important thing for smokers to know is that genuine cigarette quality must begin with the selection of tobaccos. Nothing can take the place of quality tobacco. Thus the extraordinary goodness of Camels begins with the choicest tobaccos grown and these are blended with expert skill to achieve the mildness and surpassing fragrance of this great cigarette. It is this genuineness of quality which smokers appreciate when they have passed the experimental stage and know real smoking pleasure.

Railway has recently put on a de luxe day train which will leave the Gare de Lyon in Paris in the morning at 8:50 and will land the traveller on the Riviera the same night. It will be composed entirely of first-class Pullman cars, with restaurant and will be the fastest train on the Riviera service since the war, making the journey from Paris to Vintimiglia, a distance of 695 1-3 miles, in fifteen hours and ten minutes. The night de luxe train takes 17 hours for this same journey.

And once arrived in the land of blue sky and sunshine (when it isn't either raining or snowing!) this years' visitors will find Nice's new pleasure palace, the Palais de la Mediterranee, designed like a modernised palace of ancient Rome. It stands on the best part of the Promenade des Anglais facing the sea and at night is easily seen by its cornices of concealed light and the white glow which bathes it from barrel-shaped searchlights on its terrace.

One thousand tons of marble and ninety tons of steel have gone into the making of this super-casino which covers two acres of territory and swings like Brooklyn bridge on supports from its columns. It has cost nearly five million dollars.

Inside there is none of the usual white and gilt adornment associated with all casinos. It is artistic, harmonious, but at the same time, almost "home-like." The great staircase will be a joy to the women, for there is nothing like it to show off a new gown and there are mirrors everywhere to increase the effect of spaciousness.

Food cranks and hygienists who have long denounced the sight of the Parisian housewife carrying her yard or two of good French bread under her arm, all unguarded from the microbes ever present in the streets, are rejoicing over the campaign recently begun by Municipal Councillor Roeland which may mean the future introduction of the sanitary wrapping of the Frenchman's staff of life.

"It may be a picturesque sight for the tourist," said the Councillor who has the "bug" for hygiene, "but it doesn't help along our good health any. With winter coming on and zero temperature it is folly to let the bakers drop bread in its naked state before the doors of apartment houses and greater folly even to let women carry it off unwrapped.

Chemists from all countries of the world will probably congregate in the French capital which is destined to become an international chemical center. The French Senate has just voted the necessary funds to purchase a dignified old building in the rue St. Dominique which will be used for this purpose. Information will be co-ordinated here on all matters relating to chemistry and this center will serve as a medium for the exchange of chemists from one field to another. There will be a splendied library in the building which will be named after the distinguished chemist, Carcelin Bethelot.

Camels have always welcomed comparison with any other cigarette because the true test of value is the pleasure to be found in smoking.

The most important thing for smokers to know is that genuine cigarette quality must begin with the selection of tobaccos. Nothing can take the place of quality tobacco. Thus the extraordinary goodness of Camels begins with the choicest tobaccos grown and these are blended with expert skill to achieve the mildness and surpassing fragrance of this great cigarette. It is this genuineness of quality which smokers appreciate when they have passed the experimental stage and know real smoking pleasure.

True Reflection Urged By Pastor

WELLSVILLE, O., Nov. 29.—Urging more reflection on the significance of the day by American people, the Rev. Harold F. Post, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke to a large audience yesterday morning at the union Thanksgiving services in the First United Presbyterian church, Main street. The Rev. W. C. Latta presided.

The music was in charge of the choir of the United Presbyterian church, directed by Mrs. John Springer.

The Rev. Mr. Post spoke in part as follows: "Thanksgiving is an institution which some of us are inclined to think is distinctly American. Let us disbause our minds of this fact. Furthermore, it is not even a distinctly Zion institution.

"Hebrews before Christ had their great thanksgving festival in the form of the feast of the tabernacles. The Amercan Indians had their thanksgiving festivals and some beautiful hymns of thanksgiving to the Great Spirit. The Romans and the Greeks observed their autumn festivals of praise to the goddesses of fertility and harvest.

"The foreign language information service, New York, where there are 16 different foreign language bureaus, each in constant touch with people of its own tongue, has been studying European Thanksgivings. Sifting the news from these countries, it became apparent that some feast day like Thanksgiving is a custom in almost all nations in Europe.

"The regular celebration of Thanksgiving as a national institution was inaugurated in 1863 by President Lincoln. Since that time I think, without exception, the day has been a national holiday.

"Like many feast days there is a tendency to forget the significance of the day in the uses that are gradually crowded into it. Few of the 125,000,000 people in the United States today are downright ungrateful. Most of them would deny this with great warmth.

"On the other hand, comparatively few will really reflect on the meaning of the day. Many are engrossed in the family celebrations that mark the day. Still others will be busy attending to the details of football games.

"So let us at this hour reflect upon the blessings of the hour. No one knows your blessings better than you do yourself. Not only today, but let this year be one of continued thankfulness through a growing thoughtfulness."

Thanksgiving services were also held in the First Church of the Nazarene, Main street, in charge of the Rev. B. H. Pocock, and in the Lee's chapel, conducted by the Rev. M. L. Gordon.

Offering of $67 was given to Faith Mission.

DOLBY TO FACE GRAND JURY

Charged With Aiding In Jail Delivery Attempt.

Charged with conveying articles into prison to aid an escape, Thomas Dolby, 28, First street, was held in $3,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury when arraigned Wednesday before Pustice M. K. Zimerman at Lisbon. He is now serving out a fine of $50 imposed by Mayor W. L. Fogo following his arrest on a charge of assault.

Mort Nicholson, also of Wellsville, charged with being implicated in the plot, was held to court in a like amount of bail.

Both men, the affidavit signed by Sheriff W. J. Barlow relates, aided in the attempted escape of John Densmore, Charles Grimm, Raymond Petty and William Meanor. Saws hidden in shaving cream tubes were delivered by mail to Petty.

Dolby and Nicholson pleaded not guilty at the hearing at which the state was represented by Prosecutor Attorney John E. Bauknecht.

PENNSY OFFERS COMMON STOCK

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has offered stockholders about $72,000,000 in common stock at a par value of $50 a share, in the ratio of one new share for each eight shares held.

The stock is to be allotted to stockholders of record December 7. Proceeds of the new issue are to be used in capital expenditures for improvements all over the system, in co-operation with President Hoover's plan to keep business and industry moving.

The directors also authorized the sale of $18,000,000 of stock to employes, subject to the approval of the stockholders at their annual meeting next April. The stock allotment may be paid in two instalments, January 15 and May 1. Those purchasing by cash in one instalment will receive the full dividend on February 28.

The Romans and the Greeks observed their autumn festivals of praise to the goddesses of fertility and harvest.

"The foreign language information service, New York, where there are 16 different foreign language bureaus, each in constant touch with people of its own tongue, has been studying European Thanksgivings. Sifting the news from these countries, it became apparent that some feast day like Thanksgiving is a custom in almost all nations in Europe.

"The regular celebration of Thanksgiving as a national institution was inaugurated in 1863 by President Lincoln. Since that time I think, without exception, the day has been a national holiday.

"Like many feast days there is a tendency to forget the significance of the day in the uses that are gradually crowded into it. Few of the 125,000,000 people in the United States today are downright ungrateful. Most of them would deny this with great warmth.

"On the other hand, comparatively few will really reflect on the meaning of the day. Many are engrossed in the family celebrations that mark the day. Still others will be busy attending to the details of football games.

"So let us at this hour reflect upon the blessings of the hour. No one knows your blessings better than you do yourself. Not only today, but let this year be one of continued thankfulness through a growing thoughtfulness."

Thanksgiving services were also held in the First Church of the Nazarene, Main street, in charge of the Rev. B. H. Pocock, and in the Lee's chapel, conducted by the Rev. M. L. Gordon.

Offering of $67 was given to Faith Mission.

DOLBY TO FACE GRAND JURY

Charged With Aiding In Jail Delivery Attempt.

Charged with conveying articles into prison to aid an escape, Thomas Dolby, 28, First street, was held in $3,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury when arraigned Wednesday before Pustice M. K. Zimerman at Lisbon. He is now serving out a fine of $50 imposed by Mayor W. L. Fogo following his arrest on a charge of assault.

Mort Nicholson, also of Wellsville, charged with being implicated in the plot, was held to court in a like amount of bail.

Both men, the affidavit signed by Sheriff W. J. Barlow relates, aided in the attempted escape of John Densmore, Charles Grimm, Raymond Petty and William Meanor. Saws hidden in shaving cream tubes were delivered by mail to Petty.

Dolby and Nicholson pleaded not guilty at the hearing at which the state was represented by Prosecutor Attorney John E. Bauknecht.

PENNSY OFFERS COMMON STOCK

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has offered stockholders about $72,000,000 in common stock at a par value of $50 a share, in the ratio of one new share for each eight shares held.

The stock is to be allotted to stockholders of record December 7. Proceeds of the new issue are to be used in capital expenditures for improvements all over the system, in co-operation with President Hoover's plan to keep business and industry moving.

The directors also authorized the sale of $18,000,000 of stock to employes, subject to the approval of the stockholders at their annual meeting next April. The stock allotment may be paid in two instalments, January 15 and May 1. Those purchasing by cash in one instalment will receive the full dividend on February 28.

FRENCH WRITER DISCUSSES YANK WEALTH

Says U. S. Overwhelmed by "Detroitism."

STUDIES LABOR

Finds Land "Bursting With Prosperity."

PARIS.—The United States are overwhelmed by "Detroitism," affirms the French writer, Alice La Maziere in 'le Journal.' And by this she means "the equivalent of standardization for some; for others it is mass production, huge consumption, or Prohibition. It serves to represent, all in all, American dynamism, the activity Uncle Sam employs to increase the needs of his sons and to endow them with autos, phonographs, typewriters, adding and washing-machines and to increase the comfort of their houses."

Mademoiselle La Maziere found the land of the free simply "bursting with prosperity," but she wonders if all is well there in spite of it.

"Do you realize?" she asks, "that in America only 28 per cent of the population works to furnish the entire population with food, whereas in Germany the proportion is 42 per cent.

"Just think also, that the intensive development of the automobile has decreased the number of mules and horses by 6,000,000 and by that fact, 187,500,000 acres formerly cultivated to supply those animals with fodder now lie fallow.

"Thus a blind force—here beneficient, there harmful—progress or 'Detroitism' (in America the two are one for most people) which doubles the needs and the consumption and then the production, prosperity and wealth of the greatest number, causes gravest injuries to such minorities.

"It is the eternal law of compensation."

"And I don't blame them for it," write Carlos Lopez in the 'Presse,' defending young American girls who come over to Paris and see much more of the Montmartre and the night clubs than the Museums.

"What of it?" adds Mr. Lopez, "every pretty young girl wants to dance, drink cocktails and buy pretty Parisian frocks and right down in our hearts we love them for it.

"They must not think they have failed to properly appreciate Paris if they don't know every crook and crannie of the Louvre or Cluny. At any rate, Paris loves them and appreciates them because they are young and charming."

"Making them visit the Museums is foolish as taking a 4-year-old child to the Pasteur Institute, when the proper thing for him is the Circus or Punch and Judy show."

Madame Ganna Walska, much-talked-of-wife of American millionaire Harold McCormick, of Chicago, has joined the ranks of Yankees abroad who like living in French chateaux and has recently opened her Chateau de Gallois with a big housewarming.

Although belonging to the period of Louis XIII, the castle is in very good condition and Madame Walska had very few changes to make, even in the furnishings. It is situated on the northern edge of the old Forest of Rambouillet within easy distance of Paris, with a charming wooded approach and the characteristic colombier and rose-garden.

Among those present at the opening of the chateau were the former Maharajha of Indore and his American wife, the former Nancy Miller, who have recently settled a large trust fund upon their little baby princess which will certainly allow her to have all the dolls and lollipops any child would want.

Long-haired Aurelia Branca, a film actress, is bringing an action for damages against her Parisian hairdresser for having cut her long locks too short.

Mademoiselle Branca says she went to the defendant's shop to have her hair trimmed and made regular, but the assistant gave her a real "Eton Crop" before she realized what he was doing.

Before the disaster, her hair was 32 inches long and she was in great demand for certain roles which she is now unable to play.

The barber refuses to pay the sum demanded, saying that her hair will grow out within a short time.

CROWDS ATTEND THANKSGIVING SERVICES IN CHURCHES

REV. DR. BAKER IN PULPIT AT UNION MEETING

President's Proclamation Read in U. P. Edifice.

QUARTET SINGS

Other Congregations Hold Independent Devotions.

"Things underlying the kingdom of God which may be shaken but not be moved are and should be objects for thanksgiving in a far greater degree than material blessings," asserted the Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the First Church of Christ, in a Thanksgiving sermon at union services in the First United Presbyterian church, West Sixth and Jefferson streets, yesterday morning. Large crowd attended.

Held under the auspices of the East Liverpool Ministerial association, the assemblage was presided over by the organization's president, the Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church of Park boulevard.

The proclamation of President Herbert Hoover setting apart the day for the purpose of thanks and praise for the nation was read by the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church. The scripture lesson, which comprised the 125th, 126th and 127th Psalms, was read by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lawther, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the invocation was made by the Rev. Dr. W. O. Hawkins, of the First Methodist Episcopal church. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Baker. The Rev. L. J. Davison, the pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, also occupied a place upon the platform.

A male quartet, consisting of Ben Laughlin, Emmett and Carl Gaston and Lee Adams, with Miss Ada McLane as organist, sang "The King of Glory" and "The Twenty-third Psalm, in addition to leading several hymns sung by the audience.

World Peace in Offing.

"Yet once more I shake not only the earth only but also heaven," quoted the Rev. Mr. Baker from the epistle to the Hebrews as his text.

He prefaced his sermon by averring that from the beginning of history the shaking process had been going on in the world.

"Human slavery eradicated from America and the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution constitute things in our country that have been shaken and do not now remain in it to lower its moral tone, he declared.

"And the times are propitious for the consummation at a not distant date of still another that will add to the things shaken upon the earth — the adoption of world peace, signs of which are just now abundantly in the offing."

St. John's Lutheran Church.

At St. John's Lutheran church West Third stret, the pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. G. Reinartz, spoke upon the 117th Psalm.

He emphasized the love of God which took the form of merciful kindness mentioned in the psalm. He enlarged upon its greatness and referred to the assertion in it that "the truth of the Lord endureth forever." Hence, he held, "it is most fitting that Thanksgiving be made to God for these manifest blessings. His name, as the psalm suggests, should be praised therefor."

Communion Services.

Members of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, West Fourth street, celebrated Holy Communion at services at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, following which the Rev. C. K. Caulk, rector, preached a sermon pertinent to the need for thanksgiving for all manifest blessings enjoyed by the people.

In St. Aloysius Catholic church, West Fifth street, and in St. Ann's Catholic church, Pennsylvania avenue, East End, mass and prayer under the direction of the Rev. Father Thomas E. Walsh and the Rev. Father John L. Maurer, respectively, marked the Thanksgiving services attended by their congregations.

Anderson M. E. Church.

"As a nation and as individuals we need constantly to examine ourselves to see whether our thanksgiving is true or false or whether we have been attracted toward a hypocritical Pharasaical gratitude," declared the Rev. W. R. McKinney at the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church, West Ninth street, where he is engaged in an evangelistic campaign, last evening.

"When we think we are better than others and that our goodness is such that we are exempted from responsibilities of helping others we are putting ourselves into a position of praying as did the Pharisee who thanked the Lord that 'he was not like other men.'"

He said that the custom of setting a day apart for thanksgiving to the Deity stretched back to primitive times.

In the first eight months of 1929 nearly $1,000,000 worth of automatic refrigerators were shipped from the United States to Great Britain.

INCENDIARIES ARE BLAMED IN $200,000 FIRE

Blizzard Winds Fan Cleveland Heights Blaze.

COLD HANDICAPS

Lumber Shed and Four Trucks are Destroyed.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Fanned by blizzard winds, fire of alleged incendiary origin, destroyed a lumber shed and mour trucks of the Dwight Hinkley Lumber Co., in Cleveland Heights here early today. The blaze, which raged for more than nine hours before it was extinguished, caused damage estimated at $200,000.

A blinding snowstorm hindered the efforts of firemen as they poured thousands of gallons of water on the wind-whipped flames. The shed, in which the blaze started, contained a large quantity of valuable California redwood and four lumber trucks. None of the contents was saved.

Firemen, who were forced to fight the snowstorm as well as the fire, concentrated their efforts toward saving surrounding structures when they found that the blaze had too good a start on them.

Although there were several stoves in the shed, none of them was ever lighted, it was said. It was believed that perhaps a tramp had sought shelter in the building and had built a fire in one of the stoves.

Fire Damages Resort.

NANTASKET BEACH, Mass., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Investigation by state, town, county and steamboat authorities was launched today into the spectacular fire of undetermined origin which, fanned by a 40-mile-an-hour gale, last night did damage estimated at close to two million dollars and threatened for five hours to sweep this seaside resort from end to end.

Five passenger steamboats, known to thousands of excursionists from all sections of the country as "The Sweetheart Fleet," the Nantasket Steamboat company's pier, shed, office, coal packet and waiting room, a power boat, the men's section of the state bath house, and three houses in the Atlantic hill section were icy-coated ruins today.

Damage had also been done by the flames over a two mile area to St. Mary's of Assumption church, a sixth steamboat, Hotel Massoit, Summit House and a score of cottages and other buildings along Atlantic avenue, Atlantic road, Valley Beach and Atlantic hill, blazing embers falling over the wide area.

Lieutenant William J. Hatch, a fireman, was seriously injured and was in Cohassett hospital today, two policemen were less seriously hurt and a dozen firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke.

SINGER BIDS FOR TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Al Singer, lightweight idol of the Bronx, makes the strongest bid for a championship bout with Sammy Mandell tonight, when he engages Pete Nebo of Tampa, in 10 rounds at Madison Square Garwen.

Singer has been mace a 7-to-5 favorite over his Seminole Indian rival. The conditions allow Singer to enter the ring weighing as much as 135 pounds, giving him a weight advantage of some five pounds.

Lutheran Church Is 33 Years Old

Thirty-third anniversary of the dedication of the St. John's church, West Third and Jackson streets, will be celebrated Sunday.

The Rev. Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, Pittsburgh, for 10 years president of the Pittsburgh synod, will deliver the anniversary sermon at 7:30 p. m.

Lutheran churches throughout the world will also hold special services next Sunday, the first Sunday in advent.

Blizzard Kills Three

Traffic was badly hampered this morning as it attempted to plow through the drifts. Thousands of laborers set out early to lift the six-inch blanket from highways, roads and streets.

One Traffic Fatality.

Automobiles were forced to creep cautiously and passenger busses arrived at their destination hours late. Scores of minor wrecks were reported.

Weather forecasters predicted this morning that the thermometer will probably send the mercury tobogganing to between 10 and 15 degrees before the current cold snap will end.

Eleven fires in Cleveland were caused by overheated furnaces which were stoked up by Thanksgiving holiday celebrants.

The greatest burden from the snow - sheathed highways and streets — next to the shovelers and scrapers — fell upon automobile clubs and garages throughout northern Ohio. Calls after calls were received from snow - stuck motorists.

In Youngstown, at least one traffic fatality was blamed to the blizzard. August Mollett, 43, died of injuries which he received when a hit-skip driver skidded into him.

$200,000 Fire in Cleveland

A near tragedy was narrowly avoided in Akron when a large Cleveland-Akron bus skidded and plunged toward the railing of a viaduct. The bus with its eight passengers was saved from a 100-foot dive over the viaduct when it crashed into a pole.

The most serious of the fires which broke out in Cleveland was that which destroyed a shed in the Dwight Hinkle lumber yard here. The blaze, whipped by the snow storm, caused $200,000 damages.

Twenty students were routed by a blaze which broke out in the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity house on the Western Reserve university campus here. Damage was estimated at more than $2,500. No one was injured.

Fourteen Below at Duluth.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Bitter cold which swept into the middle west from the frozen wastes of the Hudson Bay district, claimed three lives in Chicago, sent the thermometer down to sub zero temperatures and brought hundreds into police and welfare stations for relief today.

Snow accompanied the stinging blast in many middlewestern cities. No relief was predicted for several days. Even colder weather was forecast for tonight.

Driven before a severe wind, a a blizzard swept Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and the Dakotas last night. The storm center was reported between Sioux City, Ia., and Aberdeen, S. D., with a snowfall that measured four inches in many places.

Storm Hits Denver.

DENVER, Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Denver and most of the Rocky mountain region were in the midst of the twelfth snowstorm of the season today. Freezing and rapidly dropping temperatures were predicted.

The storm followed a drizzle of rain quickly followed by sleet, then snow early last night, and continued without abatement at 7 o'clock this morning.

Detroit Man Frozen to Death.

DETROIT, Nov. 29. — (INS) — Garbiel De Chene, 58, was found frozen to death in his garage here oday following the coldest Thanksgivink day Detroit has experienced in 56 years.

Deputy Coroner George A. Berg, who examined the body today, said De Chene had been drinking but that death resulted from exposure.

Up-state Michigan reported zero and sub-zero temperatures. At Saut Ste. Marie the mercury dropped to six below. A blizzard raged at Marquette and searching parties were sent out last night for B. R. Hayden, a deer hunter believed lost 35 miles north of there.

The Union of South Africa expects to produce 302,000,000 pounds of wool in the 1929-30 season, an increase of 17,000,000 pounds over the previous year.

"C'mon, Gang, For Rock's Game Leg", Is Irish Cry

Coach's Injury Proves Asset to Ramblers, in Psychological Sense.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29.—How a coach's crippled leg resting in a wheel chair a thousand miles or so from the scene of battle can be an asset to his charges may be mystery to some, but to those hereabouts who are intimate with Notre Dame's football affairs it is an accepted and logical situation today.

They will explain that Knute Rockne's crippled leg is not as much of a liability to Notre Dame's gridiron hopes this year as it is an asset, and this despite the fact that the famous mentor has been away from the practice field for weeks.

Rockne's coaching record demonstrates that his work has not been confined entirely to teaching the fine points of thumping opponents out of the way or to the approved styles of tackling.

When other things are going haywire this gentleman who tomorrow will hear the details of his team's fight with the Army over the radio has invariably been able to use an emotional appeal to bring the desired results. Somewhere, sometime, he has studied psychology.

The death of George Gipp, for instance, who contracted pneumonia and died because he went on the field against the Army when he should have been in bed. This epic bit of football history has inspired more than one Irish team to rise and take the day when it looked as though the walls were crumbling around them.

After the first half in the game against Southern California two weeks ago Rockne realized that something besides football was needed to upset the warriors from the West Coast. He was trundled into the dressing room in his wheel chair.

A pitiful sight this. Several of his first string men swallowed hard. Assistant Coach Tom Lieb told them that their beloved "Rock" had risked his life to see them win that game at Chicago. And were they going back on him?

They raged out for the second half; it is a matter of record now how Joe Savoldi rammed across the touchdown and extra point that meant victory, just six minutes after the half began.

So arose the season's Irish battle cry, "It's for Rock's lame leg.' Savoldi muttered it when he ground through the Trojan wall. The cadets will probably hear it muttered between clenched teeth tomorrow

Yule Buying Begins

extra sales people probably next week. We will also add additional equipment and our sales force will be doubled before the end of the month."

Stocks Complete.

"Stocks were never more complete for the holiday shopping season than they are this year," said J. E. Hedenquist, manager of the J. C. Penny store. "We have engaged extra sales people who will be placed on duty probably next week. Our company is optimistic regarding a busy month in December."

The Montgomery Ward company store will practically double its sales force to take care of the holiday business. J. E. Alexander, assistant manager said, "Ous stocks at present are larger than at any time since the store opened. We have opened new departments for the holiday season and enlarged other departments. While this is our first Christmas in East Liverpool we expect a big month."

Avoid Last-Minute Rush

Sales force of the D. M. Ogilvie store will be increased to more than 100, D. M. Ogilvie said. "We believe our business in December will equal that of last year," he added. "Some holiday shopping is already being done and a rush is expected to start next week. We will add clerks from time to time as they are needed. The person who shops now is sure to get a wide variety from which to make his or her selections and will avoid the eleventh-hour rush.

"The business outlook for Christmas is very encouraging," said Miss Pauline Veigel, speaking for Newman's store. "Some yule buying is already being done. Stocks are large now and customers will have more time to make their selections by shopping early. We expect to employ extra sales girls."

Outlook is Bright.

"We are prepared for the holiday assistant manager of the Stein assistant manger of the Stein store. "Stocks now are complete and sales people are prepared to give more time in aiding in the selection of gifts than they will be able to render later. We will employ extra sales girls as the business begins to increase. The outlook for a big month is good.'

Earl Lones, advertising manager for the Moore Furniture store, said: "Stocks are complete and there is a wide variety from which selections may be made. We are hopeful for a big business during the month. East Liverpool, with its network of improved roads and up-to-date street car service, is ideally located for a shopping center."

Uncle Sam Plans Half-Turkey Sale

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Before another Thanksgiving day rolls around the poultry division of the department of agriculture will outline plans for the sale of half-turkeys, an economic step that should put turkey on perhaps twice as many tables and should stabilize the market for gobblers—it was announced today.

Roy C. Potts, chief of the dairy and poultry division of the bureau of agriculture economics, said the average turkey consumption of one person at one meal is estimated at six ounces, and consequently a 10-pound bird seems more than is required by a family of the average size.

Three Ohio Men Deny 'Booter' Charge

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Chief of Police Frank Cunningham of Campbell, O., Nick Gurchoff, head of the vice squad of that city, and Mike Wollos, Campbell real estate man, pleaded not guilty when they were arraigned in federal court here today on charges of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

Bail for Cunningham was set at $5,000 and for the others at $10,000 by Federal Judge Samuel West.

It is alleged in the indictment that the trio had promised "protection" for Campbell bootleggers and vice violators.

Scion of Wealth Weds Farm Girl.

EDMONSTON, Can., Nov. 29. — (INS.)—The secret marriage of Lord Cheylesmore, scion of an old British family, to Pearl Sundberg, beautiful blonde daughter of an Alberta farmer, was revealed here today. Lord Cheylesmore, who was divorced 10 years ago from an English chorus girl, is now enroute to Cuba for the racing season.

Argentine's 1929 wheat crop totaled nearly 7,000,000 tons.

Parents Frantic As Three Tots Drown

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Parlin, are in a serious condition today having nearly sacrificed their lives in a frantic but unsuccessful attempt to rescue their three little daughters who were drowned before the mother's eyes when they fell through the thin ice on Two-Mile brook. The children were Beatrice, 5, Irene, 6, and Catherine Alberta 8.

Mrs. Parlin, who was dragged from the icy water by her 11-year-old son, Leverett, had tried to rescue her children. The father, called to the scene, also jumped into the icy water and was pulled to safety from under the ice by his brother, Lowell.

Tramp Is Blamed For $15,000 Fire

BELLAIRE, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—The campfire of a tramp is today held responsible for the blaze which destroyed the tipple of the Valley camp mine at Stewartsville, near here, and did $15,000 damage. The mine has been idle for years.

Alleged Safe-Cracker Shot.

POLA NEGRI ASKS DIVORCE

Film Star Sues Prince Mdivani In Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Pola Negri, exotic beauty of the screen, today filed suit for divorce from her husband, Prince Mdivani.

Filing of the divorce action had been expected for some time, as the impetuous Polish screen star and her husband, scion of a family from the county of George, once a Russian province, have been separated.

Some time ago Miss Mary McCormack, famous opera singer and protegee of Mary Garden, announced that she would be married to the prince as soon as he had been divorced from Miss Negri. At the time, Miss McCormack jokingly told International News Service she would force the prince to change his name to 'McDivans" in order that her children might bear an appellation that had an Irish ring.

Miss McCormack was born in Belleville, Ark. Her present residence is in Paris.

REV. DR. BAKER IN PULPIT AT UNION MEETING

President's Proclamation Read in U. P. Edifice.

QUARTET SINGS

Other Congregations Hold Independent Devotions.

"Things underlying the kingdom of God which may be shaken but not be moved are and should be objects for thanksgiving in a far greater degree than material blessings," asserted the Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the First Church of Christ, in a Thanksgiving sermon at union services in the First United Presbyterian church, West Sixth and Jefferson streets, yesterday morning. Large crowd attended.

Held under the auspices of the East Liverpool Ministerial association, the assemblage was presided over by the organization's president, the Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church of Park boulevard.

The proclamation of President Herbert Hoover setting apart the day for the purpose of thanks and praise for the nation was read by the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church. The scripture lesson, which comprised the 125th, 126th and 127th Psalms, was read by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lawther, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the invocation was made by the Rev. Dr. W. O. Hawkins, of the First Methodist Episcopal church. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Baker. The Rev. L. J. Davison, the pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, also occupied a place upon the platform.

A male quartet, consisting of Ben Laughlin, Emmett and Carl Gaston and Lee Adams, with Miss Ada McLane as organist, sang "The King of Glory" and "The Twenty-third Psalm, in addition to leading several hymns sung by the audience.

World Peace in Offing.

"Yet once more I shake not only the earth only but also heaven," quoted the Rev. Mr. Baker from the epistle to the Hebrews as his text.

He prefaced his sermon by averring that from the beginning of history the shaking process had been going on in the world.

"Human slavery eradicated from America and the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution constitute things in our country that have been shaken and do not now remain in it to lower its moral tone, he declared.

"And the times are propitious for the consummation at a not distant date of still another that will add to the things shaken upon the earth — the adoption of world peace, signs of which are just now abundantly in the offing."

St. John's Lutheran Church.

At St. John's Lutheran church West Third stret, the pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. G. Reinartz, spoke upon the 117th Psalm.

He emphasized the love of God which took the form of merciful kindness mentioned in the psalm. He enlarged upon its greatness and referred to the assertion in it that "the truth of the Lord endureth forever." Hence, he held, "it is most fitting that Thanksgiving be made to God for these manifest blessings. His name, as the psalm suggests, should be praised therefor."

Communion Services.

Members of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, West Fourth street, celebrated Holy Communion at services at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, following which the Rev. C. K. Caulk, rector, preached a sermon pertinent to the need for thanksgiving for all manifest blessings enjoyed by the people.

In St. Aloysius Catholic church, West Fifth street, and in St. Ann's Catholic church, Pennsylvania avenue, East End, mass and prayer under the direction of the Rev. Father Thomas E. Walsh and the Rev. Father John L. Maurer, respectively, marked the Thanksgiving services attended by their congregations.

Anderson M. E. Church.

"As a nation and as individuals we need constantly to examine ourselves to see whether our thanksgiving is true or false or whether we have been attracted toward a hypocritical Pharasaical gratitude," declared the Rev. W. R. McKinney at the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church, West Ninth street, where he is engaged in an evangelistic campaign, last evening.

"When we think we are better than others and that our goodness is such that we are exempted from responsibilities of helping others we are putting ourselves into a position of praying as did the Pharisee who thanked the Lord that 'he was not like other men.'"

He said that the custom of setting a day apart for thanksgiving to the Deity stretched back to primitive times.

In the first eight months of 1929 nearly $1,000,000 worth of automatic refrigerators were shipped from the United States to Great Britain.

INCENDIARIES ARE BLAMED IN $200,000 FIRE

Blizzard Winds Fan Cleveland Heights Blaze.

COLD HANDICAPS

Lumber Shed and Four Trucks are Destroyed.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Fanned by blizzard winds, fire of alleged incendiary origin, destroyed a lumber shed and mour trucks of the Dwight Hinkley Lumber Co., in Cleveland Heights here early today. The blaze, which raged for more than nine hours before it was extinguished, caused damage estimated at $200,000.

A blinding snowstorm hindered the efforts of firemen as they poured thousands of gallons of water on the wind-whipped flames. The shed, in which the blaze started, contained a large quantity of valuable California redwood and four lumber trucks. None of the contents was saved.

Firemen, who were forced to fight the snowstorm as well as the fire, concentrated their efforts toward saving surrounding structures when they found that the blaze had too good a start on them.

Although there were several stoves in the shed, none of them was ever lighted, it was said. It was believed that perhaps a tramp had sought shelter in the building and had built a fire in one of the stoves.

Fire Damages Resort.

NANTASKET BEACH, Mass., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Investigation by state, town, county and steamboat authorities was launched today into the spectacular fire of undetermined origin which, fanned by a 40-mile-an-hour gale, last night did damage estimated at close to two million dollars and threatened for five hours to sweep this seaside resort from end to end.

Five passenger steamboats, known to thousands of excursionists from all sections of the country as "The Sweetheart Fleet," the Nantasket Steamboat company's pier, shed, office, coal packet and waiting room, a power boat, the men's section of the state bath house, and three houses in the Atlantic hill section were icy-coated ruins today.

Damage had also been done by the flames over a two mile area to St. Mary's of Assumption church, a sixth steamboat, Hotel Massoit, Summit House and a score of cottages and other buildings along Atlantic avenue, Atlantic road, Valley Beach and Atlantic hill, blazing embers falling over the wide area.

Lieutenant William J. Hatch, a fireman, was seriously injured and was in Cohassett hospital today, two policemen were less seriously hurt and a dozen firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke.

SINGER BIDS FOR TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Al Singer, lightweight idol of the Bronx, makes the strongest bid for a championship bout with Sammy Mandell tonight, when he engages Pete Nebo of Tampa, in 10 rounds at Madison Square Garwen.

Singer has been made a 7-to-5 favorite over his Semenole Indian rival. The conditions allow Singer to enter the ring weighing as much as 135 pounds, giving him a weight advantage of some five pounds.

Sammy Fuller, Boston lightweight, and Johnny Farr, Cleveland, meet in the 10-round semifinal. Another ten-rounder brings together Lem Massey of Philadelphia and Sammy Dorfman of the East Side.

Lutheran Church Is 33 Years Old

Thirty-third anniversary of the dedication of the St. John's church, West Third and Jackson streets, will be celebrated Sunday.

The Rev. Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, Pittsburgh, for 10 years president of the Pittsburgh synod, will deliver the anniversary sermon at 7:30 p. m.

Lutheran churches throughout the world will also hold special services next Sunday, the first Sunday in advent.

Traffic was badly hampered this morning as it attempted to plow through the drifts. Thousands of laborers set out early to lift the six-inch blanket from highways, roads and streets.

One Traffic Fatality.

Automobiles were forced to creep cautiously and passenger busses arrived at their destinations hours late. Scores of minor wrecks were reported.

Weather forecasters predicted this morning that the thermometer will probably send the mercury tobogganing to between 10 and 15 degrees before the current cold snap will end.

Eleven fires in Cleveland were caused by overheated furnaces which were stoked up by Thanksgiving holiday celebrants.

The greatest burden from the snow - sheathed highways and streets — next to the shovelers and scrapers — fell upon automobile clubs and garages throughout northern Ohio. Calls after calls were received from snow - stuck motorists.

In Youngstown, at least one traffic fatality was blamed to the blizzard. August Mollett, 43, died of injuries which he received when a hit-skip driver skidded into him.

$200,000 Fire in Cleveland

A near tragedy was narrowly avoided in Akron when a large Cleveland-Akron bus skidded and plunged toward the railing of a viaduct. The bus with its eight passengers was saved from a 100-foot dive over the viaduct when it crashed into a pole.

The most serious of the fires which broke out in Cleveland was that which destroyed a shed in the Dwight Hinkle lumber yard here. The blaze, whipped by the snow storm, caused $200,000 damages.

Twenty students were routed by a blaze which broke out in the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity house on the Western Reserve university campus here. Damage was estimated at more than $2,500. No one was injured.

Fourteen Below at Duluth.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Bitter cold which swept into the middle west from the frozen wastes of the Hudson Bay district, claimed three lives in Chicago, sent the thermometer down to sub zero temperatures and brought hundreds into police and welfare stations for relief today.

Snow accompanied the stinging blast in many middlewestern cities. No relief was predicted for several days. Even colder weather was forecast for tonight.

Driven before a severe wind, a a blizzard swept Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and the Dakotas last night. The storm center was reported between Sioux City, Ia., and Aberdeen, S. D., with a snowfall that measured four inches in many places.

Storm Hits Denver.

DENVER, Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Denver and most of the Rocky mountain region were in the midst of the twelfth snowstorm of the season today. Freezing and rapidly dropping temperatures were predicted.

The storm followed a drizzle of rain quickly followed by sleet, then snow early last night, and continued without abatement at 7 o'clock this morning.

Detroit Man Frozen to Death.

DETROIT, Nov. 29. — (INS) — Garbiel De Chene, 58, was found frozen to death in his garage here oday following the coldest Thanksgivink day Detroit has experienced in 56 years.

Deputy Coroner George A. Berg, who examined the body today, said De Chene had been drinking but that death resulted from exposure.

Up-state Michigan reported zero and sub-zero temperatures. At Saut Ste. Marie the mercury dropped to six below. A blizzard raged at Marquette and searching parties were sent out last night for B. R. Hayden, a deer hunter believed lost 35 miles north of there.

The Union of South Africa expects to produce 302,000,000 pounds of wool in the 1929-30 season, an increase of 17,000,000 pounds over the previous year.

"C'mon, Gang, For Rock's Game Leg", Is Irish Cry

Coach's Injury Proves Asset to Ramblers, in Psychological Sense.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29.—How a coach's crippled leg resting in a wheel chair a thousand miles or so from the scene of battle can be an asset to his charges may be mystery to some, but to those hereabouts who are intimate with Notre Dame's football affairs it is an accepted and logical situation today.

They will explain that Knute Rockne's crippled leg is not as much of a liability to Notre Dame's gridiron hopes this year as it is an asset, and this despite the fact that the famous mentor has been away from the practice field for weeks.

Rockne's coaching record demonstrates that his work has not been confined entirely to teaching the fine points of thumping opponnets out of the way or to the approved styles of tackling.

When other things are going haywire this gentleman who tomorrow will hear the details of his team's fight with the Army over the radio has invariably been able to use an emotional appeal to bring the desired results. Somewhere, sometime, he has studied psychology.

The death of George Gipp, for instance, who contracted pneumonia and died because he went on the field against the Army when he should have been in bed. This epic bit of football history has inspired more than one Irish team to rise and take the day when it looked as though the walls were crumbling around them.

After the first half in the game against Southern California two weeks ago Rockne realized that something besides football was needed to upset the warriors from the West Coast. He was trundled into the dressing room in his wheel chair.

A pitiful sight this. Several of his first string men swallowed hard. Assistant Coach Tom Lieb told them that their beloved "Rock" had risked his life to see them win that game at Chicago. And were they going back on him?

They raged out for the second half; it is a matter of record now how Joe Savoldi rammed across the touchdown and extra point that meant victory, just six minutes after the half began.

So arose the season's Irish battle cry, "It's for Rock's lame leg.' Savoldi muttered it when he ground through the Trojan wall. The cadets will probably hear it muttered between clenched teeth tomorrow extra sales people probably next week. We will also add additional equipment and our sales force will be doubled before the end of the month."

Stocks Complete.

"Stocks were never more complete for the holiday shopping season than they are this year," said J. E. Hedenquist, manager of the J. C. Penny store. "We have engaged extra sales people who will be placed on duty problably next week. Our company is optimistic regarding a busy month in December."

The Montgomery Ward company store will practically double its sales force to take care of the holiday business. J. E. Alexander, assistant manager said, "Ous stocks at present are larger than at any time since the store opened. We have opened new departments for the holiday season and enlarged other departments. While this is our first Christmas in East Liverpool we expect a big month."

Avoid Last-Minute Rush

Sales force of the D. M. Ogilvie store will be increased to more than 100, D. M. Ogilvie said. "We believe our business in December will equal that of last year," he added. "Some holiday shopping is already being done and a rush is expected to start next week. We will add clerks from time to time as they are needed. The person who shops now is sure to get a wide variety from which to make his or her selections and will avoid the eleventh-hour rush.

"The business outlook for Christmas is very encouraging," said Miss Pauline Veigel, speaking for Newman's store. "Some yule buying is already being done. Stocks are large now and customers will have more time to make their selections by shopping early. We expect to employ extra sales girls."

Outlook is Bright.

"We are prepared for the holiday assistant manager of the Stein assistant manger of the Stein store. "Stocks now are complete and sales people are prepared to give more time in aiding in the selection of gifts than they will be able to render later. We will employ extra sales girls as the business begins to increase. The outlook for a big month is good.'

Earl Lones, advertising manager for the Moore Furniture store, said: "Stocks are complete and there is a wide variety from which selections may be made. We are hopeful for a big business during the month. East Liverpool, with its network of improved roads and up-to-date street car service, is ideally located for a shopping center."

Uncle Sam Plans Half-Turkey Sale

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Before another Thanksgiving day rolls around the poultry division of the department of agriculture will out line plans for the sale of half-turkeys, an economic step that should put turkey on perhaps twice as many tables and should stabilize the market for gobblers—it was announced today.

Roy C. Potts, chief of the dairy and poultry division of the bureau of agriculture economics, said the average turkey consumption of one person at one meal is estimated at six ounces, and consequently a 10-pound bird seems more than is required by a family of the average size.

Three Ohio Men Deny 'Booter' Charge

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Chief of Police Frank Cunningham of Campbell, O., Nick Gurchoff, head of the vice squad of that city, and Mike Wollos, Campbell real estate man, pleaded not guilty when they were arraigned in federal court here today on charges of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

Bail for Cunningham was set at $5,000 and for the others at $10,000 by Federal Judge Samuel West.

It is alleged in the indictment that the trio had promised "protection" for Campbell bootleggers and vice violators.

Scion of Wealth Weds Farm Girl.

EDMONSTON, Can., Nov. 29. — (INS.)—The secret marriage of Lord Cheylesmore, scion of an old British family, to Pearl Sundberg, beautiful blonde daughter of an Alberta farmer, was revealed here today. Lord Cheylesmore, who was divorced 10 years ago from an English chorus girl, is now enroute to Cuba for the racing season.

Parents Frantic As Three Tots Drown

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Parlin, are in a serious condition today having nearly sacrificed their lives in a franctic but unsuccessful attempt to rescue their three little daughters who were drowned before the mother's eyes when they fell through the thin ice on Two-Mile brook. The children were Beatrice, 5, Irene, 6, and Catherine Alberta 8.

Mrs. Parlin, who was dragged from the icy water by her 11-year-old son, Leverett, had tried to rescue her children. The father, called to the scene, also jumped into the icy water and was pulled to safety from under the ice by his brother, Lowell.

MISS ELIZABETH BLOOR BECOMES BRIDE OF FRANK HIST, BEDFORD

A PRETTY WEDDING was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, when Miss Elizabeth Bloor of May street became the bride of Frank Hist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hist of Bedford. The Rev. R. K. Caulk, rector, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin were the attendants. Mrs. Goodwin is a sister of the bride.

The bride was gowned in blue transparent velvet with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and chrysanthemum pompoms. She is a graduate of the high school with the class of 1915 and of Kent State Normal school, and for the last three years has been primary teacher in the Bedford schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Hist will be at home to friends, after December 10, in Johnson street, Bedford, where the bridegroom is a teacher in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hist, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGregor and John Yane, all of Bedford, were out-of-town guests.

Lucky Lindy Party Dec. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chaney will entertain in the home of Albert Hulme, Railroad street, East End, Wednesday, December 4, it was decided at a meeting of the Lucky Lindy club Wednesday night, when George Allison of Phoenix avenue, Chester, was hostess. Five tables of euchre were in play, honors being awarded Mesdames Nellie Cain, Sadie Hoyt, Zella Briggs, and Messrs. Louis Willard, Oscar Gilson and William Wright.

Refreshments were served by Mr. Allison and his daughter, Miss Mildred, and Mrs. Frank Weaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver were guests.

Mrs. George Bowyer Hostess.

Thanksgiving decorations were used in the appointments of the luncheon Wednesday night, when Mrs. George Bowyer of Westfield entertained members of the Friendly Art club. The social hours were spent with music and games. A vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. George Bowyer and Mrs. Elwyn Shenkle, and Mrs. Milton Pelly gave piano selections. A guessing contest was won by Mesdames John Myers, Henry Herman, Wilbur Pittenger and Harold Allison.

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mesdames William Lucas and John R. Fox, covers being arranged for 15.

Guests at Dinner-Dance.

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon of Thompson avenue; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Frosch of North street; Dr. and Mrs. Collin Kinsey, Smithfield street; Miss Virginia Lawrence of Newell; R. T. Hall of Park boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyce of Virginia avenue, Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Arnold of Wellsville were among the 400 guests attending the Ohio Valley dinner-dance of Rotary clubs in Wheeling, W. Va., Tuesday night.

Mrs. O. E. Frank Entertains.

Mrs. O. E. Frank received a group of friends in her home in Grant street, Tuesday night, when rehearsal was held for the playlet, "The Sniggles Family," which will be presented by a cast of nine members of the auxiliary of Carpenters' Union on Friday night in the Gardendale school.

Rebekahs To Elect Officers.

The modern sculptured bobs do wonders to bring out your personality. But like other present-day modes of arranging the hair, they call attention to it. That's why it's so important nowadays to keep your hair soft, lustrous, abundant. The easiest and quickest way to give new lustre and color to hair, which has begun to look dull and lifeless, is with Danderine. And it makes the hair softer, easier to arrange; holds it in place.

Here's all you do. Each time you use your brush just put a little Danderine on it. It removes the oily film from your hair; brings out its natural color; gives it more gloss than brilliantine. Waves "set" with it stay in longer.

Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition. It stops falling hair. A small bottle is enough to show its merit. Start on it tonight.

MISS ELIZABETH BLOOR BECOMES BRIDE OF FRANK HIST, BEDFORD

A PRETTY WEDDING was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, when Miss Elizabeth Bloor of May street became the bride of Frank Hist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hist of Bedford. The Rev. R. K. Caulk, rector, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin were the attendants. Mrs. Goodwin is a sister of the bride.

The bride was gowned in blue transparent velvet with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and chrysanthemum pompoms. She is a graduate of the high school with the class of 1915 and of Kent State Normal school, and for the last three years has been primary teacher in the Bedford schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Hist will be at home to friends, after December 10, in Johnson street, Bedford, where the bridegroom is a teacher in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hist, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGregor and John Yane, all of Bedford, were out-of-town guests.

Lucky Lindy Party Dec. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chaney will entertain in the home of Albert Hulme, Railroad street, East End, Wednesday, December 4, it was decided at a meeting of the Lucky Lindy club Wednesday night, when George Allison of Phoenix avenue, Chester, was hostess. Five tables of eucher were in play, honors being awarded Mesdames Nellie Cain, Sadie Hoyt, Zella Briggs, and Messrs. Louis Willard, Oscar Gilson and William Wright.

Refreshments were served by Mr. Allison and his daughter, Miss Mildred, and Mrs. Frank Weaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver were guests.

Mrs. George Bowyer Hostess.

Thanksgiving decorations were used in the appointments of the luncheon Wednesday night, when Mrs. George Bowyer of Westfield entertained members of the Friendly Art club. The social hours were spent with music and games. A vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. George Bowyer and Mrs. Elwyn Shenkle, and Mrs. Milton Pelly gave piano selections. A guessing contest was won by Mesdames John Myers, Henry Herman, Wilbur Pittenger and Harold Allison.

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mesdames William Lucas and John R. Fox, covers being arranged for 15.

Guests at Dinner-Dance.

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon of Thompson avenue; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Frosch of North street; Dr. and Mrs. Collin Kinsey, Smithfield street; Miss Virginia Lawrence of Newell; R. T. Hall of Park boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyce of Virginia avenue, Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Arnold of Wellsville were among the 400 guests attending the Ohio Valley dinner-dance of Rotary clubs in Wheeling, W. Va., Tuesday night.

Mrs. O. E. Frank Entertains.

Mrs. O. E. Frank received a group of friends in her home in Grant street, Tuesday night, when rehearsal was held for the playlet, "The Sniggles Family," which will be presented by a cast of nine members of the auxiliary of Carpenters' Union on Friday night in the Gardendale school.

Rebekahs To Elect Officers.

The modern sculptured bobs do wonders to bring out your personality. But like other present-day modes of arranging the hair, they call attention to it. That's why it's so important nowadays to keep your hair soft, lustrous, abundant. The easiest and quickest way to give new lustre and color to hair, which has begun to look dull and lifeless, is with Danderine. And it makes the hair softer, easier to arrange; holds it in place.

Here's all you do. Each time you use your brush just put a little Danderine on it. It removes the oily film from your hair; brings out its natural color; gives it more gloss than brilliantine. Waves "set" with it stay in longer.

Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition. It stops falling hair. A small bottle is enough to show its merit. Start on it tonight.

HIGHS PLUNGE TO VICTORY AT WELLSVILLE

FIRED by a fiercely burning, unwabering flame of conquest fanned to even greater intensity, it seemed, by the bitter, cruelly cutting winds of a descending winter which swept the drab, unprotected, snow-crusted stretches of Nicholson Field, and inspired by the almost superhuman efforts of a raw boned youth who hurled his sturdy body like a battering ram, constanty onward, every forward, relentless, unceasing, crumpling resistance before him like brittle reeds in his path, the Blue and White rode to victory yesterday over the Orange and Black behind a crushing onslaught which netted two touchdowns, 13 points and its fourth consecutive triumph over its valley rivals at Wellsville.

Pitt has its Parkinson and Kansa, Notre Dame its Brill, Elder and Carideo, Ohio its Holman and Army its Cagle, all pretty good backfielders in their way. East Liverpool had its "Plunging Joe" Chetwin yesterday. And "Plunging Joe," back of a rock-ribbed line which gave little and took plenty, was enough. "Plunging Joe" and Francis Smith who galloped the ends and ran back punts, with the agile Pierce who scintillated in sensational off-tackle dashes; and the squat, volatile, fawny headed Petrou whose broad shoulders bore the duties of interference; and that line, what a line yesterday! with the stalwart forms of young Sol McCoy and Dick Dalrymple at tackles, and Captain Freddy Althar at center as the anchor' point, with Goodballet and B. Smith balwarking the middle section.

And it was enough to sort of run a little thrill up and down random's spinal columns, those which hadn't frozen beyond mobility, when Chetwin, climaxing his scholastic career with a final eighty-yard smash at the Orange line, trotted off the field to the sidelines, giving way to a substitute in the final few minutes of the Thanksgiving classic.

It took a team to turn the trick yesterday and Zook's Potters were a team. They clicked, yesterday, folks. Chetwin, Pierce, Smith and the other ball runners had interference. They had driving power. The line charged hard and fast. The ends, McConville and Banks, drove the dangerous Wellsville flank plays inside and into oblivion. The plays were called according to the Hoyle of football. The punting was everything necessary. Francis Smith left little to be desired in chasing back opposition kicks. And only one or two fumbles despite the fact that the cold mitts was sufficient to make icicles of fingers.

And if you haven't heard enough, grab a load of this: Joe Chetwin carried the ball 36 times in yesterday's game and gained no less than 160 yards himself. His biggest gain was 12 yards. He was stopped for no gain only twice in 36 attempts, got off six punts, threw one pass, intercepted a pass, scored a couple of touchdowns and averaged in his 36 trips with the ball, four and one-half yards a trip.

Chetwin, Pierce and Smith bunched up a total of 261 yards among the three of them which, combined with yardage of other intermittent performers, produces a total of approximately 275 for the afternoon, against less than 50.

Twelve first downs were registered by the Potters and two by Wellsville.

Besides that they lost something like 45 yards through penalties, most of which were charged against offside plays developing largely through over anxiousness of a fast charging line.

The Orange and Black backfield, which was expected to develop a speed threat backed by a passing attack which has been functioning with more than ordinary success during the present season, could not get started.

On defense the work of the Wellsville flankmen, Shanks, Diloretta and Venesile, was outstanding. The Tiger wings got outside of the Blue and White plays consistently but the defensive halves and tackles were not smashing in there and the East Liverpool ball carriers thrust deeply.

One of the finest running attacks flashed by the Potters this year began to function from the opening kick-off. Despite penalties aggregating 20 yards, the Blue lugged the ball from their own 30 yard line to Wellsville's 10 where, however, they failed to make their first and 10 as a result of a penalty. But the drive was not stopped, only delayed. It was resumed again and with the second period only a few minutes old, Chetwin plunged over the goal line.

In the third quarter a fumble stopped another goal-bound drive of the Potters who, however, reached their objective in the final period when Chetwin intercepted a Wellsville pass and ran it to the Orange 30.

Details of Potter Triumph

First Quarter.

East Liverpool won the toss and Pierce took Checkler's punt back five yards to the 30. East Liverpool was penalized five yards for being offside as Chetwin took the first crack at the line for three yards. Chetwin tore through for 10 yards, hit again for four and again for 12. He plunged the ball out of bounds. Francis Smith raced around left end for 14 yards and Wellsville drew a five-yard penalty on the play.

Chetwin plowed center fro six and East Liverpool was penalized 15 Pierce was thrown by End Shanks for a seven-yard loss. Chetwin rammed the line for four, which, in view of the penalties, was not enough to move the sticks and Wellsville took possession of the ball on their own 10. Three line plays went gainless and Checkler punted out to F. Smith on the Wellsville 40. Chetwin ran the ball out of bounds in two plays to get away from the boundary line. Chetwin then booted to the Wellsville 25. Wellsville lost five yards on two plays. Checkler punted but East Liverpool was offside. The Orange, however, took the gain, the ball going to East Liverpool on their own 39. Pierce lost two at right end. But he clicked again on the same play, slashing off right tackle for 20 yards. Chetwin made four at left guard and Smith circled left end for a first down. Chetwin plunged 10 yards in two plays. Pierce again twisted his way off tackle for a 12-yard gain as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter.

The ball was on the three-yard mark. Chetwin smashed the wall for two but the Blue and White drive again was momentarily checked by a five-yard offside penalty. Smith went off right tackle for three and the ball was on the five. Chetwin hit a yard at center. Pierce shoved it within a foot of the line and on the next play Chetwin plunged over the line. Pass to Smith was too high and the try for point failed.

Dalrymple kicked off to Petrella who ran it eight to the 39. Kesler was stopped at center and East Liverpool was penalized five. Kesler hit the line for four and Checkler made five the same way, sufficient, along with the penalty, for Wellsville's initial first down. Walker made one at right tackle, a pass was knocked down and Petrella got but two on a spinner. Checkler's punt was blocked but East Liverpool again was ruled offside and the Orange, on the fourth down, elected to try for the yard or less instead of punting. But the Blue forwards held and East Liverpool took the pigskin on their own 40. Pass to McConville was grounded. Chetwin was stopped at the line on one play and went through for seven on the next, following with four more and a first down. Bowen, who had replaced Pierce, fumbled and recovered but was thrown for a five-yard loss. Chetwin got six back at center and Smith added three at left tackle. Chetwin's punt was partially blocked. Chetwin recovered and ran it to the East Liverpool 45. Kesler made two at right tackle but the Orange fumbled on the next play, East Liverpool recovering. Chetwin made five at right guard, Smith three on the left side of the line and Chetwin piled on four more but East Liverpool drew a 15-yard penalty for holding. Bowen punted to Checkler on the Wellsville 32. Held for no gains, Checkler punted to Smith on the 50. Wellsville was offside and Captain Fred Althar of East Liverpool decided in favor of the penalty. The kick was re-enacted and the Potters gained five yards on the transaction. Chetwin went through right guard for six yards as the half ended.

Third Quarter

Dalrymple kicked off to Shanks on the 30. Kesler and Checkler made five yards and Checkler punted. The kick was partially blocked, going out of bounds on the East Liverpool 40. Pierce, back in the game knifed right tackle for six. Chetwin added six more. Smith made two at left end and Pierce was stopped at the line but slipped through for 10 on the next thrust Chetwin hit three times for nine yards and then punted into the corner of the field, Petreila being downed on the Wellsville five. Checkler immediately punted out to Smith who chased it back five to the 30.

Chetwin made two at right tackle but the ball slipped out of Pierce's fingers on the next play and Wellsville recovered. Petrella and Checkler went through the line for 12 yards and a first down, the second time the Orange had moved the sticks. But the rally stopped and Checkler punted to Smith who ran the ball back 20 yards to the East Liverpool 40. Chetwin was stopped on a spinner, made six on the next play, one more and then punted to the Wellsville. The quarted ended here.

Fourth Quarter.

Kesler and Checkler made one apiece at the line and Checkler punted to Smith on the 40. Smith made three but East Liverpool lost five on a penalty. Smith got it back and one to boot at left end. Chetwin hit for seven and then four more for a first down. Pierce picked up one at right end and Chetwin plunged for five and then punted. Both teams were off-side and the play was recalled. Instead of boosting again, Chetwin threw a perfect 20-yard pass to Burke but the ball bounded off his chest and Wellsville took possession on its own 42.

Wellsville opened a passing attack but it was of short duration. Chetwin grabbed Checkler's first throw and ran to the Wellsville 30. Smith went off right tackle for six and Chetwin made it a first down. Smith made two and Chetwin nine more in two plays, putting the ball on the nine-yard line. Chetwin plunged for two at right tackle and then crashed through to the final chalk mark. Pierce slipped off right tackle for the extra point.

Dalrymple kicked off to Kesler who ran it 15 to the 39. Walker lost four. Althar knocked down a forward pass. Pass to Petrella made five yards. McShane blocked Checkler's punt and East Liverpool recovered on the 39.

Chetwin carried the ball for the last time in his high school career at this point, plunging center for eight yards. Along with other reserves who were going in, Herbert took Chetwin's place at full and on his first play hit the line for a first down. East Liverpool fumbled, Wellsville recovering. A pass was grounded as the game ended.

Potter Backs Roll Up 275 Yards to Win

Petrou Leads Interference in Victory Drive.

Biggest gain—12 yards.
Held for no gain twice.
Average gain—4½ yards.
Threw one pass.
Intercepted one pass.
Punted six times.

Carried the ball 10 times.
Gained 48 yards.
Biggest gain—14 yards.
Smallest gain—2 yards.
Average—4.8 yards.
And besides that he ran back a flock of punts.

Gained 53 yards.
Average 4 2-3 yards.
Biggest gain—20 yards.
Scored the point after second touchdown.

And Petrou? Well, George didn't carry the ball but for every Grange there is usually a Britton. In other words, there's got to be interference that interferes and George was all of that.

Reserves Lose At Newell

EAST LIVERPOOL High School Reserves bowed to the Newell high school eleven, 13-0, yesterday morning on the Newell gridiron.

Lisk kicked off for Newell in the opening period, the ball rolling over the goal line. The Reserves were held for downs and Wooley punted to Lisk on the East Liverpool 25. Miller plunged the ball to the one-yard line where the Reserves braced and held for downs. Wooley's kick was hurried and the ball bounded straight up in the air, it came down on the five-yard line and then rolled over the goal, Gilmore recovering for a Newell touchdown. Lisk passed to Miller for the point.

In the final period Laneve, intercepted an East Liverpool pass on the 50-yard line and ran it back to the 10. Miller made eight yards on a line plunge and Lisk crashed over the line for the remaining distance. Newell was offside on the try for point and it didn't count.

The work of Lisk, Laneve and Miller was outstanding for the Newell eleven while Holsman, Wooley, Knowles and Lane were the Reserve mainstays.

Carroll, Geneva Close Grid Season in Ohio

Wittenberg Fools Dayton in 8-0 Win. Haskell Cops From St. Xavier; Mount Union Bows to Zippers.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—Ohio football took the count of nine in the gridiron ring turkey day. It will stagger to its feet again Saturday to receive the 1929 knockout blow when John Carroll meets Geneva on the turf padded field.

Talking about blows, this scribe took several on the chin as his predictions went awry.

Wittenberg, led by its mainstay, Captain Edwards, emerged triumphant over the Dayton Fliers with an 8 to 0 score. This writer predicted that Dayton would win if Captain Erwards was not in the game. The stalwart center was in there, however, and he stopped the Fliers rushes. That Edwards is a great center.

The Haskill Indians invaded Cincinnati and turned back the surging tide of the St. Xavier Musketeers for a 10 to 0 win. The Indians used double and triple passes most of the time and those deceptions badly fooled the home guard. The score wasn't so bad as it might have been, so there is some consolation for the Xavierans.

Miami and its big red team also invaded the "Queen City" and won a 14-to-6 decision over Cincinnati unversity's Bearcats. Miami, one of the leading "Big Five" teams, should have piled up a larger score than that, so a moral victory is herewith awarded to the Bearcts. Turkey day always finds those two outfits calling each other names across the scrimmage line and no matter how bad a record the Bearcats hold up to that time, they are always pointed for the Miami contest.

Akron did the unexpected and held Mt. Union's hilltoppers from crossing its goal line, while it managed to sneak across the Mount's chalk mark for six points. The Zippers were primed for the Alliance squad.

Wester Reserve's Red Cats won their annual Thanksgiving day argument from Case, 27 to 6, and Wilberforce turned bck West Virginia Institute, 14 to 0.

Every college team in the Buckeye state, except John Carroll, has written finis to its 1929 football season.

ARMY PLANNING AERIAL ATTACK

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 29.—All preparatory work completed, Army's football squad, 36 strong, today departed for New York and Saturday's encounter with Notre Dame.

Two special trains will carry the cadet corps and band to the scene of battle tomorrow.

A stiff gale was rippling across Mitchell field yesterday when the cadets took their final practice. No rough work was permitted, the men spending an hour in kicking, passing and sprinting.

Especial attention was paid to passing, indicating that Coach Jones plans to take to the air should the Irish foward wall prove too formidable.

HIGHS PLUNGE TO VICTORY AT WELLSVILLE

FIRED by a fiercely burning, unwabering flame of conquest fanned to even greater intensity, it seemed, by the bitter, cruelly cutting winds of a descending winter which swept the drab, unprotected, snow-crusted stretches of Nicholson Field, and inspired by the almost superhuman efforts of a raw boned youth who hurled his sturdy body like a battering ram, constanty onward, every forward, relentless, unceasing, crumpling resistance before him like brittle reeds in his path, the Blue and White rode to victory yesterday over the Orange and Black behind a crushing onslaught which netted two touchdowns, 13 points and its fourth consecutive triumph over its valley rivals at Wellsville.

Pitt has its Parkinson and Uansa, Notre Dame its Brill, Elder and Carideo, Ohio its Holman and Army its Cagle, all pretty good backfielders in their way. East Liverpool had its "Plunging Joe" Chetwin yesterday. And "Plunging Joe," back of a rock-ribbed line which gave little and took plenty, was enough. "Plunging Joe" and Francis Smith who galloped the ends and ran back punts, with the agile Pierce who scintillated in sensational off-tackle flashes; and the squat, volatile, fawny headed Petrou whose broad shoulders bore the duties of interference; and that line, what a line yesterday! with the stalwart forms of young Sol McCoy and Dick Dalrymple at tackles, and Captain Freddy Althar at center as the anchor' point, with Goodballet and B. Smith balwarking the midsection.

And it was enough to sort of stun a little thrill up and down Random's spinal columns, those which hadn't frozen beyond mobility, when Chetwin, climaxing his scholastic career with a final eight-yard smash at the Orange line, trotted off the field to the sidelines, giving way to a substitute in the final few minutes of the Thanksgiving classic.

It took a team to turn the trick yesterday and Zook's Potters were a team. They clicked, yesterday, folks. Chetwin, Pierce, Smith and the other ball runners had interference. They had driving power. The line charged hard and fast. The ends, McConville and Banks, drove the dangerous Wellsville flank plays inside and into oblivion. The plays were called according to the Hoyle of football. The blunting was everything necessary. Francis Smith left little to be desired in chasing back opposition kicks. And only one or two fumbles despite the fact that the cold-fingered ness was sufficient to make icicles of fingers.

And if you haven't heard enough, grab a load of this: Joe Chetwin carried the ball 36 times in yesterday's game and gained no less than 160 yards himself. His biggest gain was 12 yards. He was stopped for no gain only twice in 36 attempts, got off six punts, threw one pass, intercepted a pass, scored a couple of touchdowns and averaged in his 36 trips with the ball, four and one-half yards a trip.

Chetwin, Pierce and Smith bundled up a total of 261 yards among the three of them which, combined with yardage of other intermittent performers, produces a total of approximately 275 for the afternoon, against less than 50.

Twelve first downs were registered by the Potters and two by Wellsville.

Besides that they lost something like 45 yards through penalties, most of which were charged against offside plays developing largely through over anxiousness of a fast charging line.

The Orange and Black backfield, which was expected to develop a speed threat backed by a passing attack which has been functioning with more than ordinary success during the present season, could not get started.

On defense the work of the Wellsville flankmen, Shanks, Diloretta and Venesile, was outstanding. The Tiger wings got outside of the Blue and White plays consistently but the defensive halves and tackles were not smashing in there and the East Liverpool ball carriers thrust deeply.

One of the finest running attacks flashed by the Potters this year began to function from the opening kick-off. Despite penalties aggregating 20 yards, the Blue lugged the ball from their own 30-yard line to Wellsville's 10 where, however, they failed to make their first and 10 as a result of a penalty. But the drive was not stopped, only delayed. It was resumed again and with the second period only a few minutes old, Chetwin plunged over the goal line.

In the third quarter a fumble stopped another goal-bound drive of the Potters who, however, reached their objective in the final period when Chetwin intercepted a Wellsville pass and ran it to the Orange 30.

Details of Potter Triumph

First Quarter.

East Liverpool won the toss and Pierce took Checkler's punt back five yards to the 30. East Liverpool was penalized five yards for being offside as Chetwin took the first crack at the line for three yards. Chetwin tore through for 10 yards, hit again for four and again for 12. He plunged the ball out of bounds. Francis Smith raced around left end for 14 yards and Wellsville drew a five-yard penalty on the play.

Chetwin plowed center fro six and East Liverpool was penalized 15 Pierce was thrown by End Shanks for a seven-yard loss. Chetwin rammed the line for four, which, in view of the penalties, was not enough to move the sticks and Wellsville took possession of the ball on their own 10. Three line plays went gainless and Checkler punted out to F. Smith on the Wellsville 40. Chetwin ran the ball out of bounds in two plays to get away from the boundary line. Chetwin then booted to the Wellsville 25. Wellsville lost five yards on two plays. Checkler punted but East Liverpool was offside. The Orange, however, took the gain, the ball going to East Liverpool on their own 39. Pierce lost two at right end. But he clicked again on the same play, slashing off right tackle for 20 yards. Chetwin made four at left guard and Smith circled left end for a first down. Chetwin plunged 10 yards in two plays. Pierce again twisted his way off tackle for a 12-yard gain as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter.

The ball was on the three-yard mark. Chetwin smashed the wall for two but the Blue and White drive again was momentarily checked by a five-yard offside penalty. Smith went off right tackle for three and the ball was on the five. Chetwin hit a yard at center. Pierce shoved it within a foot of the line and on the next play Chetwin plunged over the line. Pass to Smith was too high and the try for point failed.

Dalrymple kicked off to Petrella who ran it eight to the 39. Kesler was stopped at center and East Liverpool was penalized five. Kesler hit the line for four and Checkler made five the same way, sufficient, along with the penalty, for Wellsville's initial first down. Walker made one at right tackle, a pass was knocked down and Petrella got but two on a spinner. Checkler's punt was blocked but East Liverpool again was ruled offside and the Orange, on the fourth down, elected to try for the yard or less instead of punting. But the Blue forwards held and East Liverpool took the pigskin on their own 40. Pass to McConville was grounded. Chetwin was stopped at the line on one play and went through for seven on the next, following with four more and a first down. Bowen, who had replaced Pierce, fumbled and recovered but was thrown for a five-yard loss. Chetwin got six back at center and Smith added three at left tackle. Chetwin's punt was partially blocked. Chetwin recovered and ran it to the East Liverpool 45. Kesler made two at right tackle but the Orange fumbled on the next play, East Liverpool recovering. Chetwin made five at right guard, Smith three on the left side of the line and Chetwin piled on four more but East Liverpool drew a 15-yard penalty for holding. Bowen punted to Checkler on the Wellsville 32. Held for no gains, Checkler punted to Smith on the 50. Wellsville was offside and Captain Fred Althar of East Liverpool decided in favor of the penalty. The kick was re-enacted and the Potters gained five yards on the transaction. Chetwin went through right guard for six yards as the half ended.

Third Quarter

Dalrymple kicked off to Shanks on the 30. Kesler and Checkler made five yards and Checkler punted. The kick was partially blocked, going out of bounds on the East Liverpool 40. Pierce, back in the game knifed right tackle for six. Chetwin added six more. Smith made two at left end and Pierce was stopped at the line but slipped through for 10 on the next thrust Chetwin hit three times for nine yards and then punted into the corner of the field, Petrella being downed on the Wellsville five. Checkler immediately punted out to Smith who chased it back five to the 30.

Chetwin made two at right tackle but the ball slipped out of Pierce's fingers on the next play and Wellsville recovered. Petrella and Checkler went through the line for 12 yards and a first down, the second time the Orange had moved the sticks. But the rally stopped and Checkler punted to Smith who ran the ball back 20 yards to the East Liverpool 40. Chetwin was stopped on a spinner, made six on the next play, one more and then punted to the Wellsville The quarted ended here.

Fourth Quarter.

Kesler and Checkler made one apiece at the line and Checkler punted to Smith on the 40. Smith made three but East Liverpool lost five on a penalty. Smith got it back and one to boot at left end. Chetwin hit for seven and then four more for a first down. Pierce picked up one at right end and Chetwin plunged for five and then punted. Both teams were off-side and the play was recalled. Instead of boosting again, Chetwin threw a perfect 20-yard pass to Burke but the ball bounded off his chest and Wellsville took possession on its own 42.

Wellsville opened a passing attack but it was of short duration. Chetwin grabbed Checkler's first throw and ran to the Wellsville 30. Smith went off right tackle for six and Chetwin made it a first down. Smith made two and Chetwin nine more in two plays, putting the ball on the nine-yard line. Chetwin plunged for two at right tackle and then crashed through to the final chalk mark. Pierce slipped off right tackle for the extra point.

Dalrymple kicked off to Kesler who ran it 15 to the 39. Walker lost four. Althar knocked down a forward pass. Pass to Petrella made five yards. McShane blocked Checkler's punt and East Liverpool recovered on the 39.

Chetwin carried the ball for the last time in his high school career at this point, plunging center for eight yards. Along with other reserves who were going in, Herbert took Chetwin's place at full and on his first play hit the line for a first down. East Liverpool fumbled, Wellsville recovering. A pass was grounded as the game ended.

Petrou Leads Interference in Victory Drive.

Gained 160 yards.
Biggest gain—12 yards.
Held for no gain twice.
Average gain—4½ yards.
Threw one pass.
Intercepted one pass.
Punted six times.
Scored two touchdowns.

Carried the ball 10 times.
Gained 48 yards.
Biggest gain—14 yards.
Smallest gain—2 yards.
Average—4.8 yards.

And besides that he ran back a flock of punts.

Gained 53 yards.
Average 4 2-3 yards.
Biggest gain—20 yards.
Scored the point after second touchdown.

And Petrou? Well, George didn't carry the ball but for every Grange there is usually a Britton. In other words, there's got to be interference that interferes and George was all of that.

Reserves Lose At Newell

EAST LIVERPOOL High School Reserves bowed to the Newell high school eleven, 13-0, yesterday morning on the Newell gridiron.

Lisk kicked off for Newell in the opening period, the ball rolling over the goal line. The Reserves were held for downs and Wooley punted to Lisk on the East Liverpool 25. Miller plunged the ball to the one-yard line where the Reserves braced and held for downs. Wooley's kick was hurried and the ball bounded straight up in the air. it came down on the five-yard line and then rolled over the goal, Gilmore recovering for a Newell touchdown. Lisk passed to Miller for the point.

In the final period Laneve, intercepted an East Liverpool pass on the 50-yard line and ran it back to the 10. Miller made eight yards on a line plunge and Lisk crashed over the line for the remaining distance. Newell was offside on the try for point and it didn't count.

The work of Lisk, Laneve and Miller was outstanding for the Newell eleven while Holsman, Wooley, Knowles and Lane were the Reserve mainstays.

Carroll, Geneva Close Grid Season in Ohio

Wittenberg Fools Dayton in 8-0 Win. Haskell Cops From St. Xavier; Mount Union Bows to Zippers.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 29.—Ohio football took the count of nine in the gridiron ring turkey day. It will stagger to its feet again Saturday to receive the 1929 knockout blow when John Carroll meets Geneva on the turf padded field.

Talking about blows, this scribe took several on the chin as his predictions went awry.

Wittenberg, led by its mainstay, Captain Edwards, emerged triumphant over the Dayton Fliers with an 8 to 0 score. This writer predicted that Dayton would win if Captain Erwards was not in the game. The stalwart center was in there, however, and he stopped the Fliers rushes. That Edwards is a great center.

The Haskill Indians invaded Cincinnati and turned back the surging tide of the St. Xavier Muskeeters for a 10 to 0 win. The Indians used double and triple passes most of the time and those deceptions badly fooled the home guard. The score wasn't so bad as it might have been, so there is some consolation for the Xavierans.

Miami and its big red team also invaded the "Queen City" and won a 14-to-6 decision over Cincinnati university's Bearcats. Miami, one of the leading "Big Five" teams, should have piled up a larger score than that, so a moral victory is herewith awarded to the Bearcts. Turkey day always finds those two outfits calling each other names across the scrimmage line and no matter how bad a record the Bearcats hold up to that time, they are always pointed for the Miami contest.

Akron did the unexpected and held Mt. Union's hilltoppers from crossing its goal line, while it managed to sneak across the Mount's chalk mark for six points. The Zippers were primed for the Alliance squad.

Wester Reserve's Red Cats won their annual Thanksgivin[illegible] argument from Case, 27 to [illegible] Wilberforce turned bck West Virginia Institute, 14 to 0.

Every college team in the Buckeye state, except John Carroll, has written finis to its 1929 football season.

ARMY PLANNING AERIAL ATTACK

Two special trains will carry the cadet corps and band to the scene of battle tomorrow.

A stiff gale was rippling across Mitchell field yesterday when the cadets took their final practice. No rough work was permitted, the men spending an hour in kicking, passing and sprinting.

Especial attention was paid to passing, indicating that Coach Jones plans to take to the air should the Irish foward wall prove too formidable.

PITT CLINCHES EASTERN GRIDIRON HONORS

Notre Dame Faces Last Fling With Cadet Crew

St. Mary's Sews Things up on Coast With 31-6 Win Over Oregon; Holiday Results "Talk from the Book."

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Its race all but run, football was posting the winning numbers today in five of the seven major sections of the land, the slate calling for a pay-off on Pittsburgh in the east; Tulane in the south; Utah in the Rocky Mountain district; St. Mary's on the coast and Nebraska in the Big Six. Champions all, they closed the ledgers on the 1929 season yesterday by winning the play-or-pass games that meant the differences between everything and nothing.

In brief, the holidy results of yesterday "talked from the book," except in the case of Tennessee, which played a 6 to 6 tie with Kentucky and thus blew its chance at the Southern conference title on the final day of the season. Meanwhile, Tulane just breezed with Louisiana State, 20 to 0, and thereupon came up with the championship. Neither beaten nor tied, Tulane thus joins Pitt, Notre Dame, Purdue, the Big Ten winner; Utah and Texas Christian at the head of the national parade. St. Mary's isn't even so much as a step behind anybody, either, in spite of its scoreless tie with California early in the campaign.

Pitt Rallies to Win.

But the race ended yesterday for Pitt, Tulane and St. Mary's and ended gloriously. They say it takes a stake winner to come from behind and Pitt did that yesterday with Penn State. The Panthers scored first with a passing attack but State came again and scored, to take a 7 to 6 lead at the half. Whereupon, Pitt marched 94 yards to its second touchdown had 75 yards to its third. That's football what is football, so to speak.

Tulane, St. Mary's and Utah went out and got theirs early and then played safe the rest of the way. Unfortunately, Tennessee wasn't in a position to play safe yesterday. It didn't get a first down until after Kentucky had earned its touchdown in the final period and only a "desperado" pass of 56 yards to McEver got the Vols their tie. The championship hung on Hendrix's try for goal and that's where it finished—hung.

The Volunteers' tie drops them down with Fordham, Southern Methodist and a few others who, in the national ranking, are near the top but not at it. The result of this affair was one of the few upsets of the day, another being Georgia's 12 to 0 defeat of Alabama.

Georgia Tech Comes Through.

The rest of the returns more or less conformed with the expected. Georgia Tech won readily from Auburn, 19 to 6. Pennsylvania came through from behind to beat Cornell, 17 to 7, as many expected it to do. Syracuse out-stepped Columbia, 6 to 0, as everybody expected. Colgate gave another impressive show in beating Brown, 32 to 0, while Bucknell returned to its smashing game with a 78 to 0 romp with Dickinson. New York university wasn't expected to lose to Carnegie Tech by 20 points but, then, New York university wasn't expected to commit a total of 11 fumbles. I should say, however, that West Virginia's 6 to 0 victory over W. and J. just about represented the logical difference between this pair.

These scores conformed: Vandy 26, Sewanee 6; Florida 25, W. and L., 7; North Carolina 41, Virginia 7; V. M. I. 14, V. P. I. 0; Davis Elkins 37, Salem 6.

This didn't: Western Maryland 7, Muhlenberg 0. The former is one of the unbeaten survivors and is supposed to be good. Muhlenberg isn't supposed to be good. Davis-Elkins is another of those undefeated teams that can't hope to prove that it belongs with the really good ones.

Marquette wasn't so far from this class yesterday in winning from Kansas Aggies, 13 to 6, and before I get through I simply must mention the fact that Clemson beat Furman by 7 to 6. Also that California's Southern Branch beat Montana, 14 to 0. This, as a matter of fact, ought to go down in the books in bold face. It was U. C. L. A's first victory since it broke into conference society two years ago.

Easy for St. Marys.

I say this advisedly after noting what the Gaels did to Oregon, joint leader in the Coast conference, yesterday. St. Marys won in a common loiter, 31 to 6, from a team that had outpointed all comers on the coast, except Stanford. That's reasonably impressive football, I'd say, particularly in view of the fact that Oregon's touchdown in the final period was the first score against the Gaels all season. Pitt was equally convincing with its 20 to 7 defeat of Penn State. So was Utah in scoring over Utah Aggies by 26 to 7. Nebraska took the Big Six prize with its 31 to 12 decision over Iowa State, scoring twice in the final period after State had made a play for a tie or better in the third period.

The honors that are Pitt's, Purdue's, St. Mary's and Utah's today are theirs, to have and to hold. They are all wound up like a spool of cotton, as far as the 1929 season is concerned, whereas Notre Dame still faces its final fling with Army tomorrow and Texas Christian must survive its meeting with Southern Methodist, another unbeaten outfit. The Southwest conference title goes with this one.

Therefore, great as their records have been, neither Notre Dame nor the Christians can call their seasons a success until nightfall to-

Soccer Loop Pace Setters Defend Lead

Midlanders Face Ambridge Squad Saturday.

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 29.—The leaders in the Press Beaver Valley Soccer league will clash with the third place holders at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the Crucible Steel company team meets the Ambridge squad at the latter's field.

Jack Barrett, goal tender and manager of the local contingent, Bertie Haugh, captain, and the other nine kickers have secured first place with four victories, no defeats and a total of nine points scored this season. Beaver Falls ranks second with three wins, two losses, and eight points scored Ambridge is a close runner-up to Beaver Falls with three victories, two lost games and seven goals.

Ambridge bowed to the local defenders when they visited the Steel City several weeks ago. Should Ambridge come out of the battle at the big end of the score, the Crucibles will still have a chance for the valley league title.

Barrett, former soccer star on teams about Pittsburgh who several times captured the West-Penn cup, formed the local team early this fall after he had taken over a position in the employment department of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Company plant here.

DAVIS ELKINS STATE CHAMPS

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Taking advantage of Marshall college's errors, West Virginia Wesleyan toppled the Big Green team from the peak of the West Virginia Conference by a 28-to-0 score, which today left Davis Elkins undisputed champions of that football league. Two intercepted passes and a blocked kick were responsible for three of Wesleyan's four touchdowns.

Foutts Lining Up Program For Edwards-Herman Clash

Slugging Johnny Morgan Tackles Jim McGraw in Semi-final Go.

With the exception of one preliminary bout, Matchmaker Ray Foutts who, besides bearing the burden of being a father now (the stork added a son to the stable Wednesday) is building up a strong card for the next Valley A. C. show, today announced he had completed his program.

The main event brings together Freddy Edwards of Chester and Jackie Herman of Wheeling in an eight rounder. It is a return match between the pair, Herman being given a decision over Edwards in Washington, Pa., a couple of weeks ago.

Eddie Loos is scheduled to travel four rounds with K. O. Franks in one of the feature prelims. The other has not been completed.

Foutts may use Sambo Brown, the Irondale colored puncher, in the other four spot, if he can match him with a suitable opponent.

HINKLE LEADS GRID SCORERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Clark Hinkle, Bucknell's smashing fullback, was leading Eastern individual football scorers today with a total of 133. Hinkle accounted for fifty points yesterday as his team overwhelmed Dickinson, 78 to 0.

Hinkle displaces Al Marsters, Dartmouth ace, who, until the time he was injured, had accounted for 105 points.

Pro Foes Set For Battle

Potters Drill Tonight For Midland Tilt.

EAST LIVERPOOL Pros will hold their final workout tonight at City park in preparation for their Sunday skirmish with the Midland Merchants at the Midland gridiron.

After winning the first encounter of the home and home series with the Steelers here, 13 to 6, the locals are confident they can make it two in a row.

PERSONAL - - - - to the High School Football Team

Dear Kids:—

You have just now finished a season that has been filled with many bitter disappointments, for you, and your followers.

You have lost almost every game of football that you have played, and the "razzberries" that you have been handed, is nobodys business.

These people who are giving you thumbs down now have very short memories, or else they would think back and remember that year after year E. Liverpool High have gone along winning the big majority of their contests, also winning the county football championships.

Its doggoned hard to stay on top of the heap forever . . . especially when you have to figure the human element. Competition isn't always the same, and a football team can't always perform in a 100% manner.

In my own personal business I'm riding a winner. Something that heads the list, and hits at top speed at all times.

I speak of "TYDOL" and its twin, "VEEDOL." The amazing ability of these two to deliver is something to think about.

And right now, when winter is starting in for the long old grind is a time to test these champions. No foolin' they give you quick starting and not headaches.

I'm no expert on sports, but just the same I'll continue to string along with "TYDOL" and "VEEDOL" and also with you, because next year is another year for you, and I, expect to be in the same old spot doing business with the blue ribbon winners in the gasoline business.

By the way, basketball is just around the corner. Why not climb up on the wining band-wagon and show some of these lads around here that you're not so slow after all?

Sincerely Yours,
George T. Farrall, Mgr.

Notre Dame Faces Last Fling With Cadet Crew

St. Mary's Sews Things up on Coast With 31-6 Win Over Oregon; Holiday Results "Talk from the Book."

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Its race all but run, football was posting the winning numbers today in five of the seven major sections of the land, the slate calling for a pay-off on Pittsburgh in the east; Tulane in the south; Utah in the Rocky Mountain district; St. Mary's on the coast and Nebraska in the Big Six. Champions all, they closed the ledgers on the 1929 season yesterday by winning the play-or-pass games that meant the differences between everything and nothing.

In brief, the holidy results of yesterday "talked from the book," except in the case of Tennessee, which played a 6 to 6 tie with Kentucky and thus blew its chance at the Southern conference title on the final day of the season. Meanwhile, Tulane just breezed with Louisiana State, 20 to 0, and thereupon came up with the championship. Neither beaten nor tied, Tulane thus joins Fitt, Notre Dame, Purdue, the Big Ten winner; Utah and Texas Christian at the head of the national parade. St. Mary's isn't even so much as a step behind anybody, either, in spite of its scoreless tie with California early in the campaign.

Pitt Rallies to Win.

But the race ended yesterday for Pitt, Tulane and St. Mary's and ended gloriously. They say it takes a stake winner to come from behind and Pitt did that yesterday with Penn State. The Panthers scored first with a passing attack but State came again and scored, to take a 7 to 6 lead at the half. Whereupon, Pitt marched 94 yards to its second touchdown had 75 yards to its third. That's football what is football, so to speak.

Tulane, St. Mary's and Utah went out and got theirs early and then played safe the rest of the way. Unfortunately, Tennessee wasn't in a position to play safe yesterday. It didn't get a first down until after Kentucky had earned its touchdown in the final period and only a "desperado" pass of 36 yards to McEver got the Vols their tie. The championship hung on Hendrix's try for goal and that's where it finished—hung.

The Volunteers' tie drops them down with Fordham, Southern Methodist and a few others who, in the national ranking, are near the top but not at it. The result of this affair was one of the few upsets of the day, another being Georgia's 12 to 0 defeat of Alabama.

Georgia Tech Comes Through.

The rest of the returns more or less conformed with the expected. Georgia Tech won readily from Auburn, 19 to 6. Pennsylvania came through from behind to beat Cornell, 17 to 7, as many expected it to do. Syracuse out-stepped Columbia, 6 to 0, as everybody expected. Colgate gave another impressive show in beating Brown, 32 to 0, while Bucknell returned to its smashing game with a 78 to 0 romp with Dickinson. New York university wasn't expected to lose to Carnegie Tech by 20 points but, then, New York university wasn't expected to commit a total of 11 fumbles. I should say, however, that West Virginia's 6 to 0 victory over W. and J. just about represented the logical difference between this pair.

These scores conformed: Vandy 26, Sewanee 6; Florida 25, W. and L., 7; North Carolina 41, Virginia 7; V. M. I. 14, V. P. I. 0; Davis Elkins 37, Salem 6.

This didn't: Western Maryland 7, Muhlenberg 0. The former is one of the unbeaten survivors and is supposed to be good. Muhlenberg isn't supposed to be good. Davis-Elkins is another of those undefeated teams that can't hope to prove that it belongs with the really good ones.

Marquette wasn't so far from this class yesterday in winning from Kansas Aggies, 13 to 6, and before I get through I simply must mention the fact that Clemson beat Furman by 7 to 6. Also that California's Southern Branch beat Montana, 14 to 0. This, as a matter of fact, ought to go down in the books in bold face. It was U. C. L. A.'s first victory since it broke into conference society two years ago.

Easy for St. Marys.

I say this advisedly after noting what the Gaels did to Oregon, joint leader in the Coast conference, yesterday. St. Marys won in a common loiter, 31 to 6, from a team that had outpointed all comers on the coast, except Stanford. That's reasonably impressive football, I'd say, particularly in view of the fact that Oregon's touchdown in the final period was the first score against the Gaels all season. Pitt was equally convincing with its 20 to 7 defeat of Penn State. So was Utah in scoring over Utah Aggies by 26 to 7. Nebraska took the Big Six prize with its 31 to 12 decision over Iowa State, scoring twice in the final period after State had made a play for a tie or better in the third period.

The honors that are Pitt's, Purdue's, St. Mary's and Utah's today are theirs, to have and to hold. They are all wound up like a spool of cotton, as far as the 1929 season is concerned, whereas Notre Dame still faces its final fling with Army tomorrow and Texas Christian must survive its meeting with Southern Methodist, another unbeaten outfit. The Southwest conference title goes with this one.

Therefore, great as their records have been, neither Notre Dame nor the Christians can call their seasons a success until nightfall tomorrow and maybe not then.

Soccer Loop Pace Setters Defend Lead

Midlanders Face Ambridge Squad Saturday.

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 29.—The leaders in the Press Beaver Valley Soccer league will clash with the third place holders at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the Crucible Steel company team meets the Ambridge squad at the latter's field.

Jack Barrett, goal tender and manager of the local contingent, Bertie Haugh, captain, and the other nine kickers have secured first place with four victories, no defeats and a total of nine points scored this season. Beaver Falls ranks second with three wins, two losses, and eight points scored Ambridge is a close runner-up to Beaver Falls with three victories, two lost games and seven goals.

Ambridge bowed to the local defenders when they visited the Steel City several weeks ago. Should Ambridge come out of the battle at the big end of the score, the Crucibles will still have a chance for the valley league title.

Barrett, former soccer star on teams about Pittsburgh who several times captured the West-Penn cup, formed the local team early this fall after he had taken over a position in the employment department of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Company plant here.

K. C. ENTERTAIN AT CARD PARTY

FIFTEEN tables of bridge and 500 were in play Wednesday night, when the Knights of Columbus entertained in the lodge rooms in the Ingram building. The committee in charge of the affair included Lecturer Philip O'Shea, Francis Geon, Clell Kennedy, Joseph Wise and M. A. Burgess.

Honors were awarded as follows: bridge, Miss Grace Smurthwaite, Mrs. James Duffy and Philip O'Shea and Colin Morton; 500, Mrs. Samuel Beck, Miss Mary Buhot, Joseph Wise and Clell Kennedy.

Refreshments were served.

Another card party will be held on December 18.

MISS GOWAN, C. R. PORTER WED

ANNOUNCEMENT was made today of the marriage of Miss Alberta Dolores Gowan, of East Fourth street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gowan of Johnstown, Pa., and Charles Raymond Porter, son of Mrs. Helen Porter of Thompson avenue. The ceremony was solemnized Wednesday afternoon in the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. Dr. Warren O. Hawkins officiated.

The attendants were Miss Divina Stillwell and Claude Dawson.

The bride was gowned in blue chiffon with hat to match and wore a corsage of pink roses and bachelor buttons. The maid of honor wore green crepe with hat to match.

The bridegroom is employed by the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company in Midland.

A wedding dinner was served yesterday in the home of the bridegroom's mother, covers being arranged for the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will live with the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. James Goodwin Hostess.

Ten members of the Sorosis club met Tuesday night with Mrs. James Goodwin, May street. In response to roll call members named Puritan characters. Miss Hilda McCoy gave a biography of Cotten Mather, and Miss Lydian Bennett, Anne Bradstreet.

2— In Memoriam

In Memoriam of Louis Morrison

A precious one from us is gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon His love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
MOTHER.

In Loving memory of William H. Starkey who died November 28th, 1922. Forever in our thoughts. From

In Memoriam of Louis Morrison

A precious one from us is gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon His love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

FILM "TALKIE" TO BE TEACHER OF TOMORROW

Lasky Visualizes Text Reels for School Classes.

COST PROBLEM

Sound on Celluloid Boon to Traveling Salesman.

HOLLYWOOD, Calf.—The college professor of the future will be a reel of sound motion picture film. Tomorrow's traveling salesman will carry his samples on celluloid.

Those are the opinions of Jesse L. Lasky, Paramount executive, voiced today during a discussion of the development of certain specialized branches of the motion picture industry.

"There is no limit to the future of the educational pictures," he declared. "I can visualize the practicability of text reels and lectures, given by world authorities on all subjects, for public schools and colleges. When you have voice with illustrations, the possibilities are boundless.

"Sound on celluloid will prove a boon to salesmen. The modern traveling drummer will carry pictures of his samples and his selling talk will be enhanced by careful reparation and recording on his reels."

According to Lasky, the problem that faces the schools and universities today is the cost of reproducing apparatus. When this cost is reduced, talking picture textbooks will be a fact, he said.

Lasky had no idea what would happen to the poor professors whose voices were not suited to talking piceures, or to the teachers who will be unable to change their trade to film projection.

At a recent premier, Joan Crawford, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, wore an evening frock of this style with a matching slip beneath. The slip was held in a smooth line by small weights sewn into the hem and it helped achieve the desired moulded lines.

TROUBLESOME NIGHT COUGHS QUICKLY HELPED.

A cought that brings something up is helpful. It clears the air passages of irritating mucus. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, reliable and effective, combines the curative virtues of pure pine tar, fresh demulcent honey, with other cough healing ingredients. It quickly dislodges and raises the offending mucus that causes the cough, is sedative, and promotes restful quiet sleep. No opiates, mildly laxative. Ask for it.—Adv.

HUMAN CHAMELEON OF SCREEN PLAYS ROLES FROM INSTINCT

NEW YORK. — Paul Muni, the human chameleon of the screen, feels like a murderer when he plays the role of a murderer.

In his latest piece, "Seven Faces," a Fox presentation, Muni portrays seven individuals: The aged Poppa Chibu, Napoleon, Schubert, Joe Gans, Diablero, Don Juan and a costermonger.

"When I play a murderer I feel like a murderer," young Muni said in an interview. "I work up a mental situation until I feel that I am the character I am portraying.

"After all, we all seem to be a little of everything. We all have a bit of Napoleon in us, a little of this and a little of that. There is nobody who hasn't a little of the universal in him. In the core, we are all pretty much alike.

"There is a lot about acting, I cannot figure out. It is like electricity—there it is. I do not try to copy character. That would not be creative but merely mimetographing. I say the role in my own way and leave it to my instinct."

Muni pointed out that when he played the character of a condemned prisoner in "The Valiant" he began to believe he really had killed a man and conceived how he did it and that he was right in doing it.

"I even had a vision of the man I killed and could even see the man in the agony of death."

Then Muni boyishly confessed that he always felt more at ease portraying another character than when he was interpreting himself.

Muni, whose real name is Muni Weisenfreund, was born 32 years ago in Vienna. He came with his father and mother to America when he was four years old.

"It was a stage beard," he smiled.

He gave up his study of the violin to go on the stage for good, much to his parent's disappointment. He played in stock and trouped through the middle west, calling Chicago his home. Then he came to Broadway and made an enviable reputation for his characterizations.

He married Bella Finkle, of Philadelphia, an actress, eight years ago.

"Do you ever portray any feminine roles?" I asked.

"No," he answered. "I couldn't Woman is a great mystery to me That is a tribute to my wife."

HUMAN CHAMELEON OF SCREEN PLAYS ROLES FROM INSTINCT

NEW YORK. — Paul Muni, the human chameleon of the screen, feels like a murderer when he plays the role of a murderer.

One of the comparatively recent recruits from the stage to the newborn movie industry, Muni has attracted wide attention for his portrayals of many characters in one production.

In his latest piece, "Seven Faces," a Fox presentation, Muni portrays seven individuals: The aged Poppa Chibu, Napoleon, Schubert, Joe Gans, Diablero, Don Juan and a costermonger.

"When I play a murderer I feel like a murderer," young Muni said in an interview. "I work up a mental situation until I feel that I am the character I am portraying.

"After all, we all seem to be a little of everything. We all have a bit of Napoleon in us, a little of this and a little of that. There is nobody who hasn't a little of the universal in him. In the core, we are all pretty much alike.

"There is a lot about acting, I cannot figure out. It is like electricity—there it is. I do not try to copy character. That would not be creative but merely mimetographing. I say the role in my own way and leave it to my instinct."

Muni pointed out that when he played the character of a condemned prisoner in "The Valiant" he began to believe he really had killed a man and conceived how he did it and that he was right in doing it.

"I even had a vision of the man I killed and could even see the man in the agony of death."

Then Muni boyishly confessed that he always felt more at ease portraying another character than when he was interpreting himself.

Muni, whose real name is Muni Weisenfreund, was born 32 years ago in Vienna. He came with his father and mother to America when he was four years old.

At the age of eleven, he played his first character role and wore a beard.

"It was a stage beard," he smiled.

He gave up his study of the violin to go on the stage for good, much to his parent's disappointment. He played in stock and trouped through the middle west, calling Chicago his home. Then he came to Broadway and made an enviable reputation for his characterizations.

He married Bella Finkle, of Philadelphia, an actress, eight years ago.

"Do you ever portray any feminine roles?" I asked.

"No," he answered. "I couldn't. Woman is a great mystery to me. That is a tribute to my wife."

President's Talks Are Well Prepared

WASHINGTON. — When President Hoover carefully and clearly delivers a speech through the microphone, the public is getting the product of plenty of work.

Mr. Hoover writes and rewrites his speech several times and often it is sent back to the printer several more times after the proofs are placed on his desk. No paragraph or sentence is too small for improvement. His inaugural speech was rewritten no less than seven times after the first draft was completed.

This... CLEVELAND mother's story will interest you

"MY little son, George, became bilious, pale, and listless," says Mrs. G. C. Kohl, 1155 Oxford Road, Cleveland, Ohio. "He was never hungry and didn't digest what he ate. He was constipated.

"I decided to try California Fig Syrup; and it has been a blessing. Now his bowels are regular; he has a fine appetite and perfect digestion. I give him a little Fig Syrup, now and then, when he seems to need its help, and it keeps him gaining."

Giving children California Fig Syrup is the finest way to do away with the ills caused by constipation. This is the way children like; that doctors approve. This pure vegetable product just suits a child's system. It moves the bowels gently without griping or discomfort. It helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach so they continue to act naturally. A child's whole system soon reacts to its purifying and energizing qualities. Prove it the next time your child develops those first symptoms of a clogged system—bad breath or coated tongue.

Emphasize the name California in buying, to avoid imitations.

Swansdown POWDERED SUGAR

Pour a little Swansdown in the palm of your hand. Hold it in the light. How white it is! How light and wonderfully soft! That is why one housewife wrote us . . . "it is really more like powdered crystals of sunlight than like ordinary sugar . . .

Your grocer has Swansdown.

Akron Man Lauds "Orange Root" For Ridding Him Of Backache And Kidney Weakness

Mr. Amos Hyson Wins Great Victory Over Health-Sapping Kidney Trouble Which Kept Him Weak, Nervous and All Rundown.

Constant Aching in Back Combined With Weak Kidneys, Made Life Miserable For Him Till He Took a Course of "ORANGE ROOT"—Feels Fine and Dandy Now Says

Mr. Amos Hyson, of 650 Fultz st., Akron, Ohio, employed for the past 12 years at the Goodrich Tire & Rubber company, comes out strong for "ORANGE ROOT," the world's greatest all-around TONIC. Having suffered dreadfully for years with kidney and bladder troubles and unable to find anything that would give him the least bit of relief, finally got started on "ORANGE ROOT" and after taking a course of it, sends in this cheerful report that others suffering as he did might benefit by it. He says: "For years I have suffered awful tortures with my kidneys and bladder. My back ached constantly and nothing seemed to do me any good. I would have to get up several times during the night and when I arose in the mornings I felt as though I had not gone to bed at all. My whole system was weakened by this suffering, till I looked and felt like a person half dead. "ORANGE ROOT" has done for me what all the doctors and other remedies failed to do, RELIEVED me of all my suffering and built up my weakened run down system. I feel that I cannot praise "ORANGE ROOT" too highly, for I look and act like a different person since taking it. All those dreadful pains and aches have left, and I can go to bed and sleep all night long and get up in the mornings feeling rested and refreshed. It is remarkable how quickly my strength came back after taking it for only a few days. Even my appetite is better and what I eat seems to agree with me for I am gaining in weight right along. I heartily recommend ORANGE ROOT to any one suffering with kidney trouble and bladder weakness for it surely does the work, and does it QUICKLY. I found the Golden Nuggets to be the best liver regulator and laxative I ever used. Since taking them I do not have any more dizzy spells or headaches and feel peppy and alert at all times. My whole system has been strengthened and built up for I FEEL GOOD ALL OVER." If you suffer as Mr. Hyson did, or have stomach trouble, nervousness, or rheumatism, pimples boiles, etc., or feel tired and worn out all the time for goodness sake, go at once to MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE, get 3 or 4 bottles of the TONIC, a box of the golden Nuggets, take them according to directions, and WATCH the SPEEDY and LASTING improvement in your condition. Hundreds right here are being restored to glorious HEALTH via the famous ORANGE ROOT route and you too, may become HEALTHY, WELL and STRONG, if you will give this great tonic a chance to help you. Prices, TONIC $1.25; Nuggets, 50c. For speedy relief from "Dangerous Hang-on" cough, Night cough, Deep Seated cough, Bronichal or Asthmatic cough, take H. & J. CREASOTE EMULSION Compound. It never fails. Price 65c at MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE and Druggists everywhere.

Join Our CHRISTMAS GIFT CLUB

HERE'S a wonderful new plan that will enable you to give really worth-while gifts this year without missing the money! Just come in and join our Christmas Gift Club, arrange to pay any sum from $1.00 per week up, and by Christmas time you will have the purchase price or down payment for any gift you wish to choose from our great stocks!

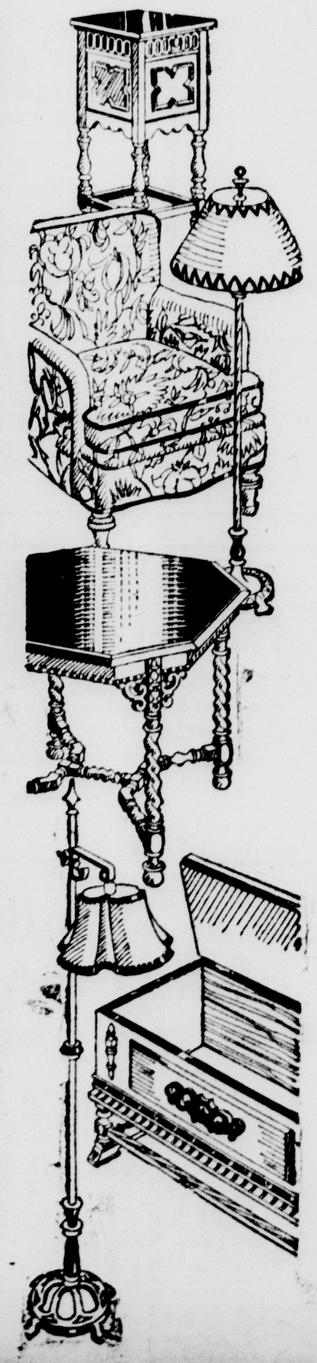

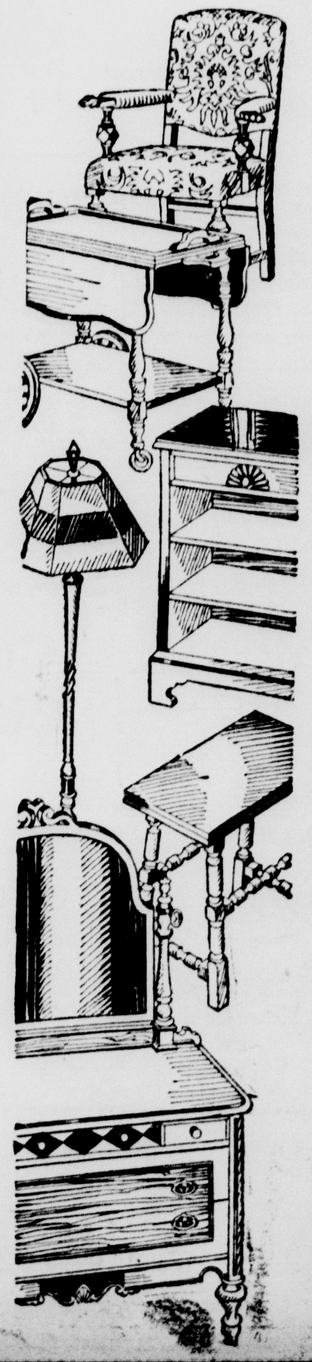

Pre-Christmas Sale of Rugs!

With its round of social activities, visiting back and forth, etc., the holiday season demands that the home look its best. Replace every shabby or worn rug now and take advantage of the special low prices in effect here. For example:

9x12 TAPESTRY RUGS	$24.95
9x12 VELVET RUGS	$27.50
9x1 AXMINSTER RUGS	$37.00
9x12 HEAVY AXMINSTER RUGS	$49.00 up
9x12 WOOL WILTON RUGS	$89.00
11.3x12 AXMINSTER RUGS	$55.00 up
9x15 AXMINSTER RUGS	$55.00 up
6x9 TAPESTRY RUGS	$14.95

THIS plan enables you to remember each member of the family circle with a gift that they will really enjoy—an easy chair for "Dad" a rocker for "Mother"—a Cedar Chest for Sister — a Smoker for that big brother, etc. Gifts they will thoroughly appreciate and that every other member of the family can share, in, too.

Christmas Stocks Now Ready for Selection

Now that most of our shipments of Christmas merchandise have arrived, our stocks offer the early shopper the most unusual opportunities. Come in and make your selections now and we will hold them for Christmas delivery, especially under the Club plan of payments. For example:

$1.00 Per Week Till Christmas Will Pay for Any of the Following Gifts:

Smoking Stand	Metal Bed	Rocker

CLEVELAND mother's story will interest you

"MY little son, George, became bilious, pale, and listless," says Mrs. G. C. Kohl, 1155 Oxford Road, Cleveland, Ohio. "He was never hungry and didn't digest what he ate. He was constipated.

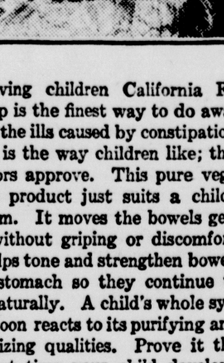

"I decided to try California Fig Syrup; and it has been a blessing. Now his bowels are regular; he has a fine appetite and perfect digestion. I give him a little Fig Syrup, now and then, when he seems to need its help, and it keeps him gaining."

Giving children California Fig Syrup is the finest way to do away with the ills caused by constipation. This is the way children like; that doctors approve. This pure vegetable product just suits a child's system. It moves the bowels gently without griping or discomfort. It helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach so they continue to act naturally. A child's whole system soon reacts to its purifying and energizing qualities. Prove it the next time your child develops those first symptoms of a clogged system—bad breath or coated tongue.

Emphasize the name California in buying, to avoid imitations.

Swansdown POWDERED SUGAR

"How light it is!"
"How wonderfully soft!"
. . . housewives say.

Pour a little Swansdown in the palm of your hand. Hold it in the light. How white it is! How light and wonderfully soft! That is why one housewife wrote us . . . "it is really more like powdered crystals of sunlight than like ordinary sugar . . .

That's why women everywhere are using Swansdown . . . to bake with . . . to mix icings.

When you use Swansdown you will never have to boil or time an icing! Happily convenient . . . it mixes like magic with milk and flavor.

Your grocer has Swansdown.

Akron Man Lauds "Orange Root" For Ridding Him Of Backache And Kidney Weakness

Mr. Amos Hyson Wins Great Victory Over Health-Sapping Kidney Trouble Which Kept Him Weak, Nervous and All Rundown.

Constant Aching in Back Combined With Weak Kidneys, Made Life Miserable For Him Till He Took a Course of "ORANGE ROOT"—Feels Fine and Dandy Now Says

Mr. Amos Hyson, of 650 Fultz st., Akron, Ohio, employed for the past 12 years at the Goodrich Tire & Rubber company, comes out strong for "ORANGE ROOT," the world's greatest all-around TONIC. Having suffered dreadfully for years with kidney and bladder troubles and unable to find anything that would give him the least bit of relief, finally got started on "ORANGE ROOT" and after taking a course of it, sends in this cheerful report that others suffering as he did might benefit by it. He says: "For years I have suffered awful tortures with my kidneys and bladder. My back ached constantly and nothing seemed to do me any good. I would have to get up several times during the night and when I arose in the mornings I felt as though I had not gone to bed at all. My whole system was weakened by this suffering, till I looked and felt like a person half dead. "ORANGE ROOT" has done for me what all the doctors and other remedies failed to do, RELIEVED me of all my suffering and built up my weakened run down system. I feel that I cannot praise "ORANGE ROOT" too highly, for I look and act like a different person since taking it. All those dreadful pains and aches have left, and I can go to bed and sleep all night long and get up in the mornings feeling rested and refreshed. It is remarkable how quickly my strength came back after taking it for only a few days. Even my appetite is better and what I eat seems to agree with me for I am gaining in weight right along. I heartily recommend ORANGE ROOT to any one suffering with kidney trouble and bladder weakness for it surely does the work, and does it QUICKLY. I found the Golden Nuggets to be the best liver regulator and laxative I ever used. Since taking them I do not have any more dizzy spells or headaches and feel peppy and alert at all times. My whole system has been strengthened and built up for I FEEL GOOD ALL OVER." If you suffer as Mr. Hyson did, or have stomach trouble, nervousness, or rheumatism, pimples boiles, etc., or feel tired and worn out all the time for goodness sake, go at once to MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE, get 3 or 4 bottles of the TONIC, a box of the golden Nuggets, take them according to directions, and WATCH the SPEEDY and LASTING improvement in your condition. Hundreds right here afe being restored to glorious HEALTH via the famous ORANGE ROOT route and you too, may become HEALTHY, WELL and STRONG, if you will give this great tonic a chance to help you. Prices, TONIC $1.25; Nuggets, 50c. For speedy relief from "Dangerous Hang-on" cough, Night cough, Deep Seated cough, Bronichal or Asthmatic cough, take H. & J. CREASOTE EMULSION Compound. It never fails. Price 65c at MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE and Druggists everywhere.

OLD SYRIAN WRITS MAY SHED NEW LIGHT ON EARLY CHRISTIAN ERA

University Professor Chances Upon Valuable Manuscripts.

CHICAGO.—Folks who don't care for legends and fairy tales but crave to know exactly what happened from the fourth to the tenth century soon may have their curiosity satisfied to a large extent. That is, if they care to remain patient for another ten or fourteen years.

Through good luck and the ignorance of a Parisian antiquities dealer, Professor Martin Sprengling of the University of Chicago Oriental Languages department chanced into possession of two of the most valuable and largest Syrian manuscripts ever discovered. Convinced after a careful scrutiny that the contents will throw aside the veil of mystery that has cloaked that early period, he brought the two hand inscribed volumes here generously protected by cotton, paper, tin and wood.

Photostatic Copies.

Photostatic copies will be made of each page, and these will be sent to all well known Syrian scholars of the world. As soon as every line has been translated, publishing will begin, but at the best, Professor Sprengling does not see his task complete before a dozen years.

The largest of the two volumes—incidentally the biggest Syrian manuscript in existence—measures 25 by 18 inches, weighs over 50 pounds and contains 622 pages that total 100,000 written lines. Entitled "Collection of Selected Discourses of All Kinds on All the Feasts composed by Orthodox Holy Fathers," it is believed to have occupied one scribe's entire lifetime.

The shorter manuscript contains liturgical data, acts, songs, prayers and bible readings for every day of the year, 35,000 lines in all. Both documents were traced to the south of Turkey, where a native of Iraq sold them at large after receiving them from a monk at Beirut.

On Goat Parchment.

The volumes are on goat or antelope parchment and show marks that indicate that at times they were hidden in caves or cellars. The edges are waterlogged, but the inscribed parts are in perfect condition.

After a preliminary perusal of the contents, Prof. Sprengling stated that over half of the two volumes aparently contained masses of material never before published about that period.

"The man whose work covers far over half of the first book—Jacob of Edessa who lived around 650 to 750 A. D.—was one of the most learned men of his day," Professor Sprengling stated. Nothing in the book is later than 850, while some of the material is older than 400.

Is Noble Volume.

"The liturgical manuscript is also a noble volume and reveals much about the Near Eastern churches when they were young and when the West was still barbaric and in the Dark Ages. Some of the sermons take up discussions of the day and explain what is merely hazily touched on by scriptures."

Professor Sprengling is director of the Oriental Institute's Peshitta Project, an organized attempt to arrive at an authoritative version of the Syrian Bible through source materials and exegesis. This effort is believed to be the best way of tracing the growth of eastern Christianity from the beginning of the Christian era through the medieval times. Fragmentary portions of Syriac Bible manuscripts, secured from the Archbishop of Syria and Lebanon, are already held by the university. Other important Syrian manuscripts are now in the collections at London, Paris and the Vatican.

Laundry Business Pays in Chicago

CHICAGO.—Chicagoans annually pay a laundry bill of $39,000,000 because 5,400,000,000 pounds of soot pollute the air of the Chicago area every year, a survey here revealed.

Nearly 30,000,000 tons of coal are consumed here every year. Each ton of coal produces approximately 180 pounds of soot. Unless burned in specially constructed furnaces, this soot escapes into the air.

And there is an anti-smoke ordinance, too.

Sebring

Application for a rehearing of the Sebring-Alliance bus case was filed Tuesday by Donald W. Seiple, company attorney, in the court of appeals at Youngstown. The case now before the court echoes the injunction proceedings filed by the state public utilities commission and the Stark Electric company last week in which an injunction was granted by the court. The injunction was not ordered by the court, however, before the rehearing application was filed Tuesday which automatically makes the injunction void until after the rehearing. Buses will be operated by the company between Sebring and Alliance on the regular schedule until the result of the rehearing.

Carl Sanderson was rendered unconscious for two hours and Lawrence Green's large coupe was completely demolished Tuesday morning about 1:30 when the car collided with the safety light on the square. Green was going west on Ohio avenue and because of the dense fog was unable to see the high post in the middle of the square. Sanderson was taken to his home.

Local No. 121, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, has moved its meeting place from the Bandy's drug store building to a room above the Robson cigar store. Meeting nights have been changed to the second and fourth Tuesday nights of the month.

Margaret B. Stanley, age 89, died Wednesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Prim, Beloit, after having been sick for 10 years and bedfast for three with rheumatism. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Prim, Beloit, and Mrs. Mark Taylor, Sebring, one son, Charles E. Stanley, Damascus, also six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at the Goshen Friends church Friday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. and Mrs. Omar Jacobs officiating. Burial will be made in Goshen cemetery.

Mrs. Charles L. Sanderson, 42, died at the Alliance City hospital Tuesday night at 11:15 from complications following an operation. She leaves her husband, Charles Sanderson, and three children.

A meeting will be held in the high school building, Thursday evening to organize a Girl Reserves group. This group is similar to the Hi-Y for boys. Miss Dorothy Ledman will have charge of the organization.

Those who attended the funeral of Mrs. Susan Miller at Columbiana Wednesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Zentz, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilt and Mrs. Ella Dunmire.

Mrs. E. M. Shaw, West Oregon avenue, went to Cleveland Wednesday to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Faber Fairbanks left Tuesday for New Matamoras where they attended the funeral services of Mrs. Fairbank's grandfather, Frank Heddelson, Wednesday.

With Apologies to O. O McIntyre

WAR days of more than a decade ago are recalled by Ray T. Adam, councilman-elect, following the death of Georges Clemenceau, former premier of France, for it was one of his privileges while across the Atlantic as a member of the Motor Transport corps of seeing the rugged leader of the then invaded country almost face to face.

Clemenceau was accompanied by Marshal Ferdinand Foch, then the generalissimo of the allied armies. They were inspecting troops some 40 miles distant from Paris.

Premier Clemenceau was then 76 years old. "He was at that more rugged and square shouldered than was Marshal Foch," Adam said. "It was not difficult to understand that behind his exterior was a force that carried things along in the manner in which he wanted them to go."

It was also the privilege of Adam to see at close range Marshal Petain, the then bachelor defender of Verdun. "He was a larger man than Foch and more nearly met with the ideals one would conjure of a person of high army command," Adam observed.

The experience of standing in line for a long interval awaiting the appearance of General John J. Pershing, the American commander, was also vouchsafed Adam along with many others who served in France. "It was a mighty hot day," he recalled. "And the perspiration fairly ran down our faces, but we could do nothing about it.

It also fell to the lot of Adam while in France to see the notable General Gourmond, one of the great army leaders of that country.

DURING the initial days of rabbit hunting, East Liverpool made quite a record.

A party consisting of George Duke, George Kerr, Frank and Robert Johnson are said to have brought in 15 rabbits and, after nightfall, captured three coons and an opossum or two.

Measured by what all of these could be sold for, including the pelts, one of the quartet declared the value of the animals procured would total about $25.

Just now dogs that have been kept by many in training are being given their chance to show what they can do in detecting the so-called wilder denizens of the wood.

Time demanded more centralization for the needs of the community and it was abandoned.

Some six of seven trees about the lot are testimony of the one-time effort to make the spot attractive.

UNDER the direction of William Macdonald, of Crafton, Pa., who also has charge of the music in the First Presbyterian church here, a chorus of some 100 voices from The Joseph Horne store, Pittsburgh, will broadcast Christmas carols to Commander Richard Byrd and his associates who are exploring the region of the South Pole. This will be done through KDKA.

Commander Byrd's mother has been requested to suggest some of her distinguished son's favorite hyms and carols for the occasion. She as well as Commander Byrd's two brothers, Thomas, a fruit grower of Virginia, and Harry, the governor of the state, will listen in from the capitol in Richmond.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS

for Children

"I have been using Mother Gray's Powders these last 15 years and all my friends and neighbors are using them just now during the "Flu." They are fine for checking the fever. In 1918 I mailed them by the dozen boxes to Imperial Valley to a friend who was nursing down there during the "Flu."

Children who are troubled with constipation, feverishness, bowel trouble or take cold easily, get quick relief from these powders that Mothers have recommended for over 30 years.

For sale at all drug Stores.

Pottery City Week By Week

With Apologies to O. O McIntyre

WAR days of more than a decade ago are recalled by Ray T. Adam, councilman-elect, following the death of Georges Clemenceau, former premier of France, for it was one of his privileges while across the Atlantic as a member of the Motor Transport corps of seeing the rugged leader of the then invaded country almost face to face.

Clemenceau was accompanied by Marshal Ferdinand Foch, then the generalissimo of the allied armies. They were inspecting troops some 40 miles distant from Paris.

Premier Clemenceau was then 76 years old. "He was at that more rugged and square shouldered than was Marshal Foch," Adam said. "It was not difficult to understand that behind his exterior was a force that carried things along in the manner in which he wanted them to go."

It was also the privilege of Adam to see at close range Marshal Petain, the then bachelor defender of Verdun. "He was a larger man than Foch and more nearly met with the ideals one would conjure of a person of high army command," Adam observed.

The experience of standing in line for a long interval awaiting the appearance of General John J. Pershing, the American commander, was also vouchsafed Adam along with many others who served in France. "It was a mighty hot day," he recalled. "And the perspiration fairly ran down our faces, but we could do nothing about it.

It also fell to the lot of Adam while in France to see the notable General Gourmond, one of the great army leaders of that country.

DURING the initial days of rabbit hunting, East Liverpool made quite a record.

A party consisting of George Duke, George Kerr, Frank and Robert Johnson are said to have brought in 15 rabbits and, after nightfall, captured three coons and an opossum or two.

Measured by what all of these could be sold for, including the pelts, one of the quartet declared the value of the animals procured would total about $25.

Just now dogs that have been kept by many in training are being given their chance to show what they can do in detecting the so-called wilder denizens of the wood.

Time demanded more centralization for the needs of the community and it was abandoned.

Some six of seven trees about the lot are testimony of the one-time effort to make the spot attractive.

UNDER the direction of William Macdonald, of Crafton, Pa., who also has charge of the music in the First Presbyterian church here, a chorus of some 100 voices from The Joseph Horne store, Pittsburgh, will broadcast Christmas carols to Commander Richard Byrd and his associates who are exploring the region of the South Pole. Has Made At the An

Styles in Carpets

You may have one or more rooms where your present floor-coverings all too evidently fail to reflect modern tendencies in design and coloring.

Renew your home with fashionable carpets! Of especial interest are the new Bigelow-Hartford fabrics in the figured designs now so popular. They are particularly favored for rooms that are used much, being captivating in pattern and luxurious in texture. Though supremely smart they are eminently practical, withstanding wear and maintaining their beauty unmarred for years.

Select from a pleasing variety of patterns and colorings with the knowledge that the name of the makers insures both the highest of quality and the choicest stylings. These prices represent real values.

What A Whale of A Difference the New Carpet Has Made At the American Theatre

Styles in Carpets

You may have one or more rooms where your present floor-coverings all too evidently fail to reflect modern tendencies in design and coloring.

Renew your home with fashionable carpets! Of especial interest are the new Bigelow-Hartford fabrics in the figured designs now so popular. They are particularly favored for rooms that are used much, being captivating in pattern and luxurious in texture. Though supremely smart they are eminently practical, withstanding wear and maintaining their beauty unmarred for years.

For the harmonious linking-up of walls, draperies, and floor to achieve a flawless color combination they are unsurpassed.

Select from a pleasing variety of patterns and colorings with the knowledge that the name of the makers insures both the highest of quality and the choicest stylings. These prices represent real values.

Carpet Sovereignty

The beautiful, deep-piled BREWSTER BROADLOOM carpet adds sparkling life and restful charm to the living room, dining room, stairway, and bedrooms of the perfectly appointed home.

Here is the seamless carpet with a soft, durable surface, available in the admirable plain colors now so highly favored by decorators. Made of special imported quality wools having a rich sheen, BREWSTER BROADLOOM, extraordinarily durable, is presented in a complete assortment of delightful fast colors, harmonizing with any decorative scheme and setting off furnishings to the utmost advantage.

Lasting Luxury

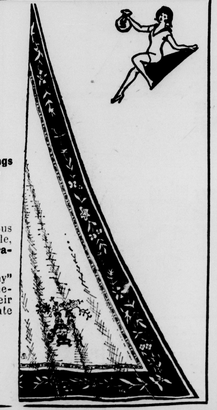

In rich designs — in glorious, lustrous colorings that actually improve with age, we offer the newest

"Hartford-Saxony" Carpets

These are Bigelow-Hartford creations famous for their supreme elegance, deep restful pile, soothingly soft and resilient, and for their extraordinary endurance!

Beautify YOUR home with "Hartford-Saxony" carpet, chosen by America's greatest hotels, theaters, and by home owners everywhere for their unrivalled loveliness, adaptability, and ultimate economy.

GIRL FLIERS FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO SET ENDURANCE MARK

BOBBY TROUT, ELINOR SMITH UP 42 HOURS

Unable to Replenish Dwindling Fuel Supply.

FIFTH EFFORT

Bumpy Air Proves Too Much for "Nurse" Plane.

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—(INS.)—Ending their fifth attempt to lower the world's refueling endurance flight record, Bobby Trout, of Los Angeles, and Elinor Smith, of New York, brought their Sunbeam biplane to earth here at 3:45 a. m., today, after having been aloft continuously for 42 hours and 5 minutes.

The girl fliers' brave effort to better the mark of 420 hours and 21 minutes, set up by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien in St. Louis ended in failure because of a dwindling fuel supply that could not be replenished. Their regular refueling ship had met with an accident and it was impossible to establish contact with the substitute "nurse" plane on account of bumpy air.

Egypt Sells Land In Farming Move

CAIRO.—A far reaching project of selling government land to small cultivators is under way in this country.

The price is lowered to the smallest amount possible, and buyers are given thirty years in which to pay, in yearly installments.

Independence (?)

By Maud Thomas

© 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

How proudly we boast of our independence, we modern girls! But there's a time coming when we're not so sure of it after all. When? You ask. Well, take the pretty little modern who feels so wonderfully efficient and having bought the smartest skating togs in the shop, sits down and waits for the first cold snap of winter to display both efficiency and the new, startling outfit. Then when she starts to pirouette and becomes very gay in trying out a new figure on the ice, she "comes a cropper" and a huge star forms on the ice and she sees at least hundreds of stars floating around her head.

Oh, how comforting it is then to know the feel of strong masculine arms safely guiding her and how heavenly it is to glide with the swiftness of an eagle and the grace of a premiere danseuse secure in the knowledge of those same supporting arms! Independence? That's the last thing she thinks of then. She's just plain feminine—and glad of it!

PARIS SHADES CHICAGO IN WICKEDNESS

STUDIES CRIME

Edgar Wallace Cites French "Master Minds."

Chicago doesn't know the meaning of crime. Murder is only a minor manifestation of crime and gang murders are the result of organized warfare. Paris is the real haven of the so-called master criminal. It is there that master crimes are planned. Paris only has involved jewel robberies, swindles, bank robberies and the "subtle" crimes.

Edgar Wallace, famous English novelist, visitor here, expressed these beliefs and Mr. Wallace certainly should command attention because he can bang out a mystery novel that would make you look under the bed before retiring quicker than you can say Jacques Papadiodorageotoupoulouskiwotz.

Novel in 16 Hours.

His novel, "Strange Countess," was written in 16 hours, won a prize and 1,000,000 copies sold.

Wallace couldn't even remember the name of his famous book but Mrs. Wallace, accompanying him, supplies the title. Wallace gives the thrill-craving public about four mystery stories a year, which accounts for some of the insomnia in England.

"Crime in Chicago is on the decrease, I believe," said Wallace. "Much of this is due to the criminals themselves who have gone too far. The St. Valentine's day massacre, for instance, is no mystery. Every one knows who did it. But strangely enough no one asks why the murderers have not been brought to justice."

Wallace refused to state outright who he believed committed the massacre of seven members of "Bugs's" Moran's gang.

Refuses Opinion.

Wallace said he thought the most intricate crimes were committed in Paris. In this country and Chicago, he said, crime was accomplished on a more wholesale scale. For example, here, six bandits will raid a bank and obtain a vast amount of loot. In Paris, one "master criminal" will plot the robbery and by some almost miraculous manner will gain entrance during the night and single-handed escape with loot.

MINERVA WOMAN, ASKING DIVORCE, HAD ONLY TWO COATS IN 20 YEARS

LISBON, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Mary E. Blythe of Minerva, in a divorce petition filed in common pleas court against her husband, Joseph Blythe, a sawmill operator near Hubbard, declares that in 20 years of married life her husband bought her only two coats, and that the most he ever paid for a dress for her was $6. She also alleges that she boarded seven sawmill hands, and that her husband took all the money.

Plaintiff and defendant are joint owners of a property at Valley, Butler township, and Mrs. Blythe asks the court to divest her husband of all interest in this and also the household goods.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holt have received word that their little son Jack, who is attending school in Columbus, is ill in the school hospital with chicken-pox and scarlet fever.

The Busy Bee society of the Methodist Episcopal church was entertained on Friday evening by Mrs. H. D. Arnold at her home, Columbia street. Associate hostesses were Mrs. C. S. Cope and Goldie Graham.

The meeting will be preceded by a supper.

The Red Cross membership drive was made Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Kiwanis club

How To Lose Two Dozen Pounds of Fat

At The Same Time Gain in Physical Vigor and Youthfulness and Swiftly Possess a Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases, are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are tuned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Carnahan Drug Co. or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.—Adv.

FARM BUREAU ELECTION SET FOR DEC. 13

Annual Meeting Will Be Held in Lisbon.

NOMINEES NAMED

Two Speakers Will Appear on Day's Program.

Election of officers for 1930 will feature the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau to be held in Lisbon on Friday, December 13.

J. C. Pottorm, Salem; E. M. Davis, Moultrie, and Willis Rupert, New Waterford, have been nominated for the presidency, while W. G. Edgerton, Winona; L. E. Sanor, East Rochester, and Howard Baker, Hanoverton, have entered the race for vice president. Nominees for other offices are: Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. R. Frederick, Leetonia; R. H. Vaughn, Columbiana, and Lloyd Farmer, Leetonia; women directors (three to elect), Mrs. J. M. Huston, East Liverpool; Mrs. J. C. Pottorf, Salem; Mrs. E. J. Bailey, Winona; Mrs. W. S. Leeper, Hanoverton; Mrs. William Satterthwait, Salem; Mrs. J. E. Rise, Lisbon; Mrs. J. L. Baker, North Georgetown; Mrs. E. M. Eells, Lisbon; Mrs. G. C. Greenisen, Salem.

Speakers will also take part in the day's program.

D. F. Hahn has been president of the organization for the last three years.

Sebring

Sebring may have a new post office building within the next few years, according to an announcement today from the postal and treasury departments at Washington. Sebring is included in the list of cities slated for a post office sometime in the future. A building costing $30,000 to $40,000 is proposed. Sebring's office is a second class branch, doing business of about $35,000 a year. It is in charge of Postmaster Fred Hills, who was appointed by the late President Warren G. Harding about eight years ago, an assistant postmaster, three clerks and three carriers.

Science demonstrations by Principal Glen F. Rupert and Leonard Tate, teacher in ceramics, featured the chapel program Friday at the high school auditorium. Principal Rupert worked with chemicals while Mr. Tate demonstrated electrical phenomena. The six weeks tests were given in the schools Thursday and Friday as the close of the second six weeks period.

The Rev. Paul T. Gerrard will preach the Thanksgiving sermon Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at the Church of Christ. The Rev. Mr. Gerrard will speak on, "Good Tidings." This will be a union service of all churches in Sebring.

Other special features are being arranged by a committee headed by the Rev. J. H. Miller.

John Wesley Libis, age 74, Alliance-Sebring road, died at his home at 11:45 Wednesday night from heart disease, with which he had been suffering for three months. He has been a farmer living in this vicinity for 44 years. He is survived by his widow, Emma B. Libis; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Hamilton, Sebring; Ona L. Dove, North Benton and Verda Van Camp of Deerfield; four brothers, Peter of Ravenna, Louis of Cuyahoga Falls, Samuel of New Melford and Andrew of Randolph; three sisters, Mrs. Katherin Bean, Windsor, Canada, Mrs. Lizzie Holman, Ravenna and Mrs. Jennie Unger of Atwater.

Funeral services were to be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. H. O. Pennell officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ripple of Salem announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday, November 20. Mrs. Ripple was formerly Miss Beatrice Fink of Sebring.

Olive McCammon of Sebring and Harry Faubel of Alliance were married Monday at the Trinity M. E. church, Youngstown, by the Rev. W. E. Hammaker. The ring ceremony was used. After a 10 days' trip through the east the young couple will be at their new home on South Arch avenue, Alliance.

FARM BUREAU ELECTION SET FOR DEC. 13

Annual Meeting Will Be Held in Lisbon.

NOMINEES NAMED

Two Speakers Will Appear on Day's Program.

Election of officers for 1930 will feature the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau to be held in Lisbon on Friday, December 13.

J. C. Pottorm, Salem; E. M. Davis, Moultrie, and Willis Rupert, New Waterford, have been nominated for the presidency, while W. G. Edgerton, Winona; L. E. Sanor, East Rochester, and Howard Baker, Hanoverton, have entered the race for vice president. Nominees for other offices are: Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. R. Frederick, Leetonia; R. H. Vaughn, Columbiana, and Lloyd Farmer, Leetonia; women directors (three to elect), Mrs. J. M. Huston, East Liverpool; Mrs. J. C. Pottorf, Salem; Mrs. E. J. Bailey, Winona; Mrs. W. S. Leeper, Hanoverton; Mrs. William Satterthwait, Salem; Mrs. J. E. Rise, Lisbon; Mrs. J. Baker, North Georgetown; Mrs. M. Eells, Lisbon; Mrs. G. C. Greenisen, Salem.

Speakers will also take part in the day's program.

D. F. Hahn has been president of the organization for the last three years.

Sebring

Sebring may have a new post office building within the next few years, according to an announcement today from the postal and treasury departments at Washington. Sebring is included in the list of cities slated for a post office sometime in the future. A building costing $30,000 to $40,000 is proposed. Sebring's office is a second class branch, doing business of about $35,000 a year. It is in charge of Postmaster Fred Ellis, who was appointed by the late President Warren G. Harding about eight years ago, an assistant postmaster, three clerks and three carriers.

Science demonstrations by Principal Glen F. Rupert and Leonard Tate, teacher in ceramics, featured the chapel program Friday at the high school auditorium. Principal Rupert worked with chemicals while Mr. Tate demonstrated electrical phenomena. The six weeks' tests were given in the schools Thursday and Friday as the close of the second six weeks period.

The Rev. Paul T. Gerrard will preach the Thanksgiving sermon Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at the Church of Christ. The Rev. Mr. Gerrard will speak on, "Good Tidings." This will be a union service of all churches in Sebring.

Other special features are being arranged by a committee headed by the Rev. J. H. Miller.

John Wesley Libis, age 74, Alliance-Sebring road, died at his home at 11:45 Wednesday night from heart disease, with which he had been suffering for three months. He has been a farmer living in this vicinity for 44 years. He is survived by his widow, Emma B. Libis; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Hamilton, Sebring; Ona L. Dove, North Benton and Verda Van Camp of Deerfield; four brothers, Peter of Ravenna, Louis of Cuyahoga Falls, Samuel of New Milford and Andrew of Randolph; three sisters, Mrs. Katherin Bean, Windsor, Canada, Mrs. Lizzie Holman, Ravenna and Mrs. Jennie Unger of Atwater.

Funeral services were to be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. H. O. Pennell officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ripple of Salem announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday, November 20. Mrs. Ripple was formerly Miss Beatrice Fink of Sebring.

Olive McCammon of Sebring and Harry Faubel of Alliance were married Monday at the Trinity M. E. church, Youngstown, by the Rev. W. E. Hammaker. The ring ceremony was used. After a 10 days' trip through the east the young couple will be at their new home on South Arch avenue, Alliance.

THINK, THANK, PASTOR URGES

Rev. E. C. Brooks Delivers Thanksgiving Sermon.

"Think and Thank" was the subject of the Thanksgiving sermon delivered by the Rev. E. C. Brooks at union services in the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning. He pointed out that when "we think of our blessings we can not help but be thankful for them and that Thanksgiving day is necessary to keep the spirit of thankfulness alive in us.

"Thankfulness was a marked charecteristic of our Pilgrim fathers," he said. They fought a grim fight against great odds. They worked hard to gain a foothold in the new world and when a degree of plenty came their way they were duly grateful to their God.

"We, have a soft existence compared with them. This soft existence tends to dull our sense of dependence upon God. We need this day. We need to turn aside from the busy whirl of life and THINK. Think how wonderfully God has blessed us.

"When we think of the many things which we enjoy we can not but thank our God. Thoughtfulness produces the spirit of thankfulness. When we think that, today, the average man enjoys more comforts than kings had a few years ago we can not help but be thankful to our God.

"Thankfulness demands expression. We, in our human relationships, can not feel thankful without that thankfulness finding expression in deed. We have to express our thankfulness. Thus, in our relationship to God, we must express the gratitude we feel for His care.

"How shal we express this gratitude we feel? By words? Words are good means of expression but they may become only an empty conveyor of shallow feelings. The best means of expression is found in doing deeds. Should not we express our gratitude to God by the giving of our hearts unreservedly to Him in loving service?

FOREST LOVE

By Hazel Livingston

Thrilling Story of Romance of Modern Girl

CHAPTER 38.

Nancy's Awakening.

What Has Gone Before

Becoming cynical at her mother's wish to have her marry for wealth and social position, Nancy Hollenbeck, young and beautiful, accepts the ardent attentions of Jack Beamer, supposedly an Englishman of noble birth, who is married to a wealthy invalid. On a mountain trip, Nancy, after a passionate but brief courtship, makes a hasty marriage with a handsome ranger, Roger Decatur. Sickening of the loneliness, with Roger away, she returns home to resume her old life, still keeping her marriage a secret. When Roger, deeply in love with Nancy, comes to take her back, she tells him unless he makes his home in the city she will divorce him, although she realizes her own love for him. After Roger leaves, Nancy continues her clandestine affair with Beamer, whose wife, aware of his philandering, refuses to free him. Louise, Nancy's sister, always second with men, now has a rich, though elderly, suitor. Beamer takes Nancy out to his farm on a jaunt.

Now Go On With the Story

"Yes—what—what's happened?" She tried to sound natural and casual, but her heart was in her throat. She had caught the note of urgency . . fright . . in Jack's voice. She was badly frightened.

"Oh!" That was as far as she got before he was in the room with her, throwing her belongings hastily into a pile. "Hurry Nancy, don't stand there doing nothing! I tell you my wife's here. . . Here, take your stuff and finish dressing in the kitchen. If you hear any one coming, dive into the pantry. I'll sneak out after dinner and drive you into town or I'll get Tucker, the groom—"

He was slamming her things into the bag as he whispered. Crumpling the rose crepe, spilling powder, pushing her into the corridor — panting—shoving . . . could this be Jack? Jack of the beautiful manners, the generations of noble family? . . . Could this be she? Being pushed out, hidden in a corner like a . . . a . . . she couldn't say it . . . not even to herself.

"Where's Mrs. Garfield?" Nancy jerked away angrily. "This is — this is ridiculous. Call Mrs. Garfield. I won't hide—I won't—"

For a moment she thought he was going to cover her mouth . . . gag her . . . Tears of futile rage choked her as effectively as if he had.

"Please, Nancy—please," he was whispering hoarsely. "Please go. The Garfields aren't here. They've gone for the week and Anita knows it—"

"Thery aren't here!" Her voice rose again. Indignantly she shook off his hands. "But you said . . . that was one of the reasons I came! Jack Beamer, you know I'd never have gotten into this mess if I'd known!"

"Quit arguing now, please, Nancy. I'll explain later . . . sh! What's that? . . . Nancy, for your own sake . . . step on it. Get into the kitchen. And stay there . . . Quick!"

She was in the kitchen. The steamy, odorous kitchen, with the door banged shut behind her, and an old Chinaman in a white apron carrying her suitcase, oozing rose crepe and a long, silk stocking, into the pantry.

With Nancy out of the way he felt better. He'd be able to master the situation yet.

"I wanted some air, and it is a pleasant ride down here," she said in her flat, thin voice. She was taking off the heavy wraps in which she was enveloped. Her sad, tired eyes moved about the neat little living room. She held her head slightly on one side, as if she were listening. . . .

Jack's good humor vanished . . . Snooping, was she? . . . . "Just why did you come here?" he demanded roughly, striding over to her, taking her firmly by the shoulders.

Once that would have intimidated her. But not any more. Now that she knew she had lost him, she didn't have to hide her jealousy. She could cry until her nose was pink under its film of white powder, and her poor, watery eyes were rimmed with red, it was nothing to Jack. She knew that at least . . . . She had nothing to lose.

"I can come if I want to. It's my ranch," she said sullenly, beginning to unwind the veils and muffles.

"Go on, rub it in."

"But Jack, I have to! If I didn't, you'd leave me. I know—I know you want a divorce. It's my only way to—to keep you—"

"Nonsense!"

"But you told me yourself. . . . . how can I think anything else?" She was sniffling now, dabbling at her pink nose with a lace-edged handkerchief, her eyes pleading, pleading for him to deny it.

"Dinner leady!" the Chinaman said.

Jack pulled out her chair at the little table near the fire. "That was long ago. Nothing to talk about now. Let's have dinner. Sit down, will you?"

But she wouldn't sit down. She insisted upon going to her room—the room Nancy had left a few short moments ago—to freshen herself before dinner.

Well, he couldn't stop her. He lit a cigarette and waited. There would be a scene. He grinned a little, thinking of that. Harder on her than him. Her own fault if she got all worked up; the doctor had warned her often enough. . . . If she'd only think it was some other woman. . . . if he could only keep Nancy out of it. . . .

Nancy heard her screaming through the thick walls of the sturdy little cottage. She couldn't distinguish the words, but she knew what had happened. Mrs. Beamer had found out.

The Chinaman came in and out of the kitchen with trays. His expression never changed. When he opened the door into the hall Nancy could hear the voices quite distinctly. The woman was weeping hysterically. Jock was cursing.

"Thank you," she smiled, but she could not eat.

She shook her head. She didn't want anything . . . anything she could have. She doubted if she would ever want anything again. Not even Jack . . . or his money. . .

If she could only talk to Roger . . . explain . . . if she only had it to do over again! But she'd had her chance, and she'd muffed it. Twice! You couldn't expect more than that from life . . two chances.

It was dark now black outside the windows. But warm inside, warm and hot. The wood range roared, the electric lights burned bright in the white-painted kitchen. Nancy's head want on aching. If she could only snuggle into Roger's arms. . . just once . . . it would be so comforting . . . . now . . . in all her trouble . . .

The kitchen door opened, and a young man in riding boots and a slouch hat stuck his head in, "Mr. Beamer says not to worry, and I'll drive you home as soon as they're gone, lady."

She had no fear of losing Jack. You never lose what you don't want. He could find some way of protecting her, of placating his wife. They'd be married. She'd be mistress here .. . She could ride Moon Maid whenever she wanted to . . . . Drive Jack's car. . . .

She'd lost love. Very well, she'd have the other things, the things the world wants. She'd have 'em even if she hated them, and Jack Beamer, too!

FOREST LOVE

By Hazel Livingston

Thrilling Story of Romance of Modern Girl

CHAPTER 38.

Nancy's Awakening.

What Has Gone Before

Becoming cynical at her mother's wish to have her marry for wealth and social position, Nancy Hollenbeck, young and beautiful, accepts the ardent attentions of Jack Beamer, supposedly an Englishman of noble birth, who is married to a wealthy invalid. On a mountain trip, Nancy, after a passionate but brief courtship, makes a hasty marriage with a handsome ranger, Roger Decatur. Sickening of the loneliness, with Roger away, she returns home to resume her old life, still keeping her marriage a secret. When Roger, deeply in love with Nancy, comes to take her back, she tells him unless he makes his home in the city she will divorce him, although she realizes her own love for him. After Roger leaves, Nancy continues her clandestine affair with Beamer, whose wife, aware of his philandering, refuses to free him. Louise, Nancy's sister, always second with men, now has a rich, though elderly, suitor. Beamer takes Nancy out to his farm on a jaunt.

Now Go On With the Story

"Yes—what—what's happened?" She tried to sound natural and casual, but her heart was in her throat. She had caught the note of urgency . . fright . . in Jack's voice. She was badly frightened.

"Oh!" That was as far as she got before he was in the room with her, throwing her belongings hastily into a pile. "Hurry Nancy, don't stand there doing nothing! I tell you my wife's here. . . Here, take your stuff and finish dressing in the kitchen. If you hear any one coming, dive into the pantry. I'll sneak out after dinner and drive you into town or I'll get Tucker, the groom—"

He was slamming her things into the bag as he whispered. Crumpling the rose crepe, spilling powder, pushing her into the corridor — panting—shoving . . . could this be Jack? Jack of the beautiful manners, the generations of noble family? . . . Could this be she? Being pushed out, hidden in a corner like a . . . a . . . she couldn't say it . . . not even to herself.

"Where's Mrs. Garfield?" Nancy jerked away angrily. "This is — this is ridiculous. Call Mrs. Garfield. I won't hide—I won't—"

For a moment she thought he was going to cover her mouth . . . gag her . . . Tears of futile rage choked her as effectively as if he had.

"Please, Nancy—please," he was whispering hoarsely. "Please go. The Garfields aren't here. They've gone for the week and Anita knows it—"

"Thery aren't here!" Her voice rose again. Indignantly she shook off his hands. "But you said . . . that was one of the reasons I came! Jack Beamer, you know I'd never have gotten into this mess if I'd known!"

"Quit arguing now, please, Nancy. I'll explain later . . . sh! What's that? . . . Nancy, for your own sake . . . step on it. Get into the kitchen. And stay there . . . Quick!"

She was in the kitchen. The steamy, odorous kitchen, with the door banged shut behind her, and an old Chinaman in a white apron carrying her suitcase, oozing rose crepe and a long, silk stocking, into the pantry.

"Well, I don't know what struck you," Jack Beamer said, half humorously, addressing his veiled and bundled wife.

With Nancy out of the way he felt better. He'd be able to master the situation yet.

"I wanted some air, and it is a pleasant ride down here," she said in her flat, thin voice. She was taking off the heavy wraps in which she was enveloped. Her sad, tired eyes moved about the neat little living room. She held her head slightly on one side, as if she were listening. . . .

Jack's good humor vanished . . . Snooping, was she? . . . "Just why did you come here?" he demanded roughly, striding over to her, taking her firmly by the shoulders.

Once that would have intimidated her. But not any more. Now that she knew she had lost him, she didn't have to hide her jealousy. She could cry until her nose was pink under its film of white powder, and her poor, watery eyes were rimmed with red, it was nothing to Jack. She knew that at least . . . . She had nothing to lose.

"I can come if I want to. It's my ranch," she said sullenly, beginning to unwind the veils and muffles.

"Go on, rub it in."

"But Jack, I have to! If I didn't, you'd leave me. I know—I know you want a divorce. It's my only way to—to keep you—"

"Nonsense!"

"But you told me yourself. . . . . how can I think anything else?" She was sniffling now, dabbling at her pink nose with a lace-edged handkerchief, her eyes pleading, pleading for him to deny it.

"Dinner leady!" the Chinaman said.

Jack pulled out her chair at the little table near the fire. "That was long ago. Nothing to talk about now. Let's have dinner. Sit down, will you?"

But she wouldn't sit down. She insisted upon going to her room—the room Nancy had left a few short moments ago—to freshen herself before dinner.

Well, he couldn't stop her. He lit a cigarette and waited. There would be a scene. He grinned a little, thinking of that. Harder on her than him. Her own fault if she got all worked up; the doctor had warned her often enough. . . . If she'd only think it was some other woman. . . . if he could only keep Nancy out of it. . . .

Nancy heard her screaming through the thick walls of the sturdy little cottage. She couldn't distinguish the words, but she knew what had happened. Mrs. Beamer had found out.

The Chinaman came in and out of the kitchen with trays. His expression never changed. When he opened the door into the hall Nancy could hear the voices quite distinctly. The woman was weeping hysterically. Jock was cursing.

"Thank you," she smiled, but she could not eat.

She shook her head. She didn't want anything . . . anything she could have. She doubted if she would ever want anything again. Not even Jack . . . or his money. . .

If she could only talk to Roger . . . explain . . . if she only had it to do over again! But she'd had her chance, and she'd muffed it. Twice! You couldn't expect more than that from life . . two chances.

It was dark now black outside the windows. But warm inside, warm and hot. The wood range roared, the electric lights burned bright in the white-painted kitchen. Nancy's head want on aching. If she could only snuggle into Roger's arms. . . just once . . . it would be so comforting . . . . now . . in all her trouble . . .

The kitchen door opened, and a young man in riding boots and a slouch hat stuck his head in, "Mr. Beamer says not to worry, and I'll drive you home as soon as they're gone, lady."

She had no fear of losing Jack. You never lose what you don't want. He could find some way of protecting her, of placating his wife. They'd be married. She'd be mistress here . . . She could ride Moon Maid whenever she wanted to . . . . Drive Jack's car. . . .

She'd lost love. Very well, she'd have the other things, the things the world wants. She'd have 'em even if she hated them, and Jack Beamer, too!
